ACAD Final Project

University of Memphis Resources In-Class Presentation

Learning Outcome

Student will become aware of university resources.

Purpose

This assignment will give you an opportunity to gain practice researching, developing, and giving a presentation and will allow the class as a whole to become more aware of all the resources available to you as University of Memphis students.

Instructions

You will work in groups to prepare and give this presentation. Envision you are at New Student Orientation and you are trying to inform your classmates about a UofM Resource (from a list the instructor will give you). Look online for information about the resource. Visit the office associated with that resource and gather information in person.

As you prepare you resource presentation for the class, ask yourself this question: What is really important for other first year students to know about this resource?

- Information presented may express the following:
  - Advice on how this resource/office assists with achieving academic success the first semester of college.
  - Personal testimonies related to you using this resource
- Presentation Guidelines:
