Participant Expectations

In order to maintain safety and a high quality of service to its participants, Campus Recreation Intramural Services (CRIS) has established rules of conduct for all participants. The Recreation Center staff appreciates your cooperation in helping us provide a safe, welcoming, and positive environment for our patrons.

Participation in all Campus Recreation facilities and programs is a privilege. All participants who participate in CRIS programs or who utilize the Recreation Center facilities agree to adhere to the following:

Participants are expected to:

Treat the Recreation Center staff, facilities, members, and guests with respect;

Act with character and courtesy while respecting the rights, welfare, and dignity of all others at the Recreation Center facilities and programs;

Adhere to the rules and policies set by CRIS and the University in its facilities and programs and posted in the respective areas of the facilities; and

Act in a safe, responsible manner regarding themselves, others, property, and equipment.

Participants engaging in inappropriate behavior or violating CRIS/University policies in the Recreation Center facilities may be subject to having their privileges of participation revoked and could face possible disciplinary action from the University.

Assumption of Responsibility

The following applies to all CRIS facilities and programming:

CRIS program participation is voluntary and individuals use facilities at their own risk. Participation in any physical activity involves inherent risk, and even when safety precautions are utilized, injuries and accidents can occur. The Department of CRIS would like to encourage each individual to consult his/her physician and obtain adequate personal health/accident insurance prior to participation in our programs.
