CLINICAL ASSISTANT PROFESSOR – SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY

The School of Communication Sciences and Disorders at the University of Memphis (www.memphis.edu/csd) is one of the leading academic and clinical programs in the country. This graduate-only program has moved into a new state-of-the-art facility, with significant space for expansion of new and existing programs. Members of the clinical and academic faculty are established in their areas of expertise and often collaborate on research and service. This 12-month non-tenure track position is ideal for a strong innovative clinician who is open to developing new service delivery programs and would like the challenge of providing clinical education in an academic setting. This position requires an MA, SLPD, or PhD. The applicant must have CCC-SLP and eligibility for TN State licensure.

Deadline: Review of applications will begin on October 30, 2015 and may continue until position is filled, pending availability of funds.

For more information, contact Marilyn Dunham Wark, Chair, Search Committee, School of Communication Sciences & Disorders, 4055 North Park Loop, Memphis, TN 38152, 901-678-5800, FAX 901-525-1282, mdunham@memphis.edu.

Interested applicants must upload a letter of application, vita, three letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts to WorkForum https://workforum.memphis.edu.
