ENGL 4900: English Undergraduate Independent Study*

To register for an undergraduate independent study, you need to work closely with a faculty member to plan your course of study. You should begin planning your course and obtaining the required signatures well in advance of the semester in which you intend to register for independent study credit. As the student intending to enroll in the course, you are responsible for submitting this form and a full syllabus and obtaining all required signatures before registration.

Student Name ___________________________  UUID _______________________

Instructor Name ____________________________

Term ______  Credit Hours ______  Contact hours per week ______

Topic and/or Course Title ____________________________

Attach a full course syllabus that includes learning objectives, reading list, assignments that are to be completed along with a grading breakdown and due dates, and schedule of contact hours.

This syllabus must also include an explanation of why you wish to take this particular course as an independent study. Note that independent studies are not intended to replace a course that is currently offered in the Department of English.

After you have obtained the required signatures below, submit this form and your full syllabus to the Department Registrar in Patterson 467.

Required Signatures

Student ___________________________  Date _________________

Instructor ___________________________  Date _________________

English Undergraduate Advisor ___________________________  Date _________________

Department Chair ___________________________  Date _________________

*Note: ENGL 4900 may not be used for credit in any concentration in the ENGL major.