World History: The Industrial Revolution and Imperialism

This module focuses on the Industrial Revolution and the Rise of Imperialism in Europe, but also highlights connections with Asian, African, and North and South American history. The purpose of the module is to provide teachers with an additional set of resources to assist in teaching key elements of nineteenth century world history, but it is not intended to be all-inclusive. Teachers should use this content module's resources in any way that will be most beneficial to the teachers' classroom needs.
