IMPORTANT EL INFO

Freshman: IF YOU HAVEN’T DONE SO ALREADY, AND WE KNOW WHO YOU ARE... You all MUST come by the LEAD Center sometime this week to sign up for 1 on 1’s with either Zach or Brian. The time slots will be on the white board towards the back of the center. Please come in, pick a date and time that works for you, write down your first and last name, and then we will send you an email with a calendar invite in order to officially have it on all of our schedules.

LPBC Breakfast Club: You are invited to join 400 business and community leaders for a morning with Daniel Sieberg, who is the official spokesperson and senior marketing manager at Google, overseeing their media outreach efforts. This amazing opportunity takes place Friday, February 26 from 7-9:15am at the Great Hall. If interested, please email Brian and he will put you on the RSVP list which closes this Friday the 19th.

WLP Student Networking Reception: For women who are interested, there will be a reception on Wednesday, February 24 at Loretta Rudd’s house between 6:00 - 7:00pm. There will be professionals from the community there as well so this would be a phenomenal opportunity to network! If you are interested, please email Brian and he will mark you down. We need to know by the end of the day Monday, February 22.

SERVICE LEARNING

Service Hours Opportunity: Dixon Gallery and Gardens is in need of volunteers for their next family day on February 20th. A family day usually consists about 300-500 people so they can use all the help they can get. This would be a great opportunity to get some service hours out of the way early. Lastly, you notice anything different about these?

! Presidents Day

! Presidents Day

! Presidents Day

So, how are you supposed to spell it??

All three are correct but it still actually depends on what one is referring to. If it is just George Washington's Birthday, then "President's Day" is correct. If it is meant to celebrate the office of presidency or the U.S. Presidents in general, "Presidents' Day" or "Presidents Day" may be used, though majority of linguistic authorities- think of Dictionary names- prefer the former.

Hey, the more you know! Have a great rest of your day!
