

Student Evaluations

Student evaluations are required for every section of every course, including summer sessions taught by University of Memphis faculty members and includes full-time and part-time instructors and graduate teaching assistants. Faculty members must include student evaluations with applications for promotion and tenure. Evaluation forms (called SIRS) are available through the Office of Academic Personnel Services.