Students Helping Students Program

This research is conducted under the direction of Dr. Gregory Washington of the University of Memphis’ Department of Social Work.

Would you like to improve your academic or social emotional skills? All undergraduate students in any major are invited to be screened for a new program, Students Helping Students. Students interested in this research study are to call or email the Student Helping Students Program and set up an appointment for screening.

An initial screening will take approximately one hour of your time. You will be assessed on your reading fluency, writing skills, study skills, stress level, and coping skills. Participants will be offered a $15 incentive payment.
