You are invited to a seminar presentation by:

Dr. John (Jack) Spengler
Professor
Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health

Dr. Gary Adamkiewicz
Assistant Professor
Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health

“The Harvard Center for Health and the Global Environment as an Agent for Change”

Tuesday, November 15, 2016
11:30 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.
University Center Senate Chamber (Room 261), University of Memphis
(Food will be served)

Dr. Jack Spengler is Akira Yamaguchi Professor of Environmental Health and Human Habitation and Director of the Center for Health and the Global Environment, Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health. He has conducted research in personal monitoring, air pollution health effects, indoor air pollution, and a variety of sustainability issues. Jack brings more than 30 years’ experience in developing and managing large-scale, multidisciplinary studies to assess human exposures to environmental pollutants.

Dr. Adamkiewicz is Assistant Professor of Environmental Health and Exposure Disparities at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health. His work focuses on the connections between housing and health, especially within low-income communities.