School of Communication Sciences and Disorders
Accomplishments 2017-2018

Three successful, comprehensive program reviews:
- Reaccreditation of two professional programs (MA in Speech-language Pathology and Doctor of Audiology)
- PhD Program Review

Academic program growth:
- Annual enrollment in American Sign Language courses up 40% (target was 15%)
- Entering enrollment in professional programs up 9%

Clinical Partnership:
- Better tracking systems
- Increased efficiency
- New office staff

Clinical Program growth:
- Autism, Behavior & Communication Program; co-treatment with Applied Behavior Analysis
- Vestibular & Balance evaluations
- Transgender Voice Program
- Alternative & Augmentative Communication program

New external support from:
- The Urban Child Institute
- State of Tennessee
- American Speech, Language, Hearing Foundation
- National Institute of Deafness and Communication Disorders

National recognition:
- Dr. Lisa Lucks Mendel, President Elect, Council of Academic Programs in Communication Sciences & Disorders
- UofM Chapter of the National Student Speech-Language Hearing Association awarded Gold Chapter status for its service to the professions and community

Pictures on next page!
Audiology student research.

Electrophysiology research

Clinic
Vestibular/balance testing