In conjunction with TTAC, TDAP, and Mid-South ACT and School of Communication Disorders @ University of Memphis, Hosted by The Tennessee Regulatory Authority, there will be audiologists and speech language pathologists and students to provide free hearing and speech screening to local TN residents.

The Telecommunication Devices Access Program (TDAP) was created by the Legislature in 1999 to serve individuals with hearing, speech, and vision disabilities. The statute was amended in 2004 to include individuals with any disability that restricts the ability to use the telephone.

TDAP provides telecommunication devices to individuals with disabilities free of charge.
