

Delta Retreat

Located in the heart of the Mississippi Delta, sits the small and cozy Delta Retreat. The concept was based off of a story. The client was a fictional writer and expressed interest in having a small retreat to write in the delta where he grew up. The home is small but cozy. It resembles a book because as you approach it little bits of information are revealed to you but you have to continue to move towards to see the whole picture. Grain silos were used as inspiration for the form of the home, a tie in to the vernacular of the region. The design allows the building to blend in with the environment and make the client feel as though he is part of the natural landscape. A water feature is set up at an angle that has the sun set directly over it on the day of his first book publishing.

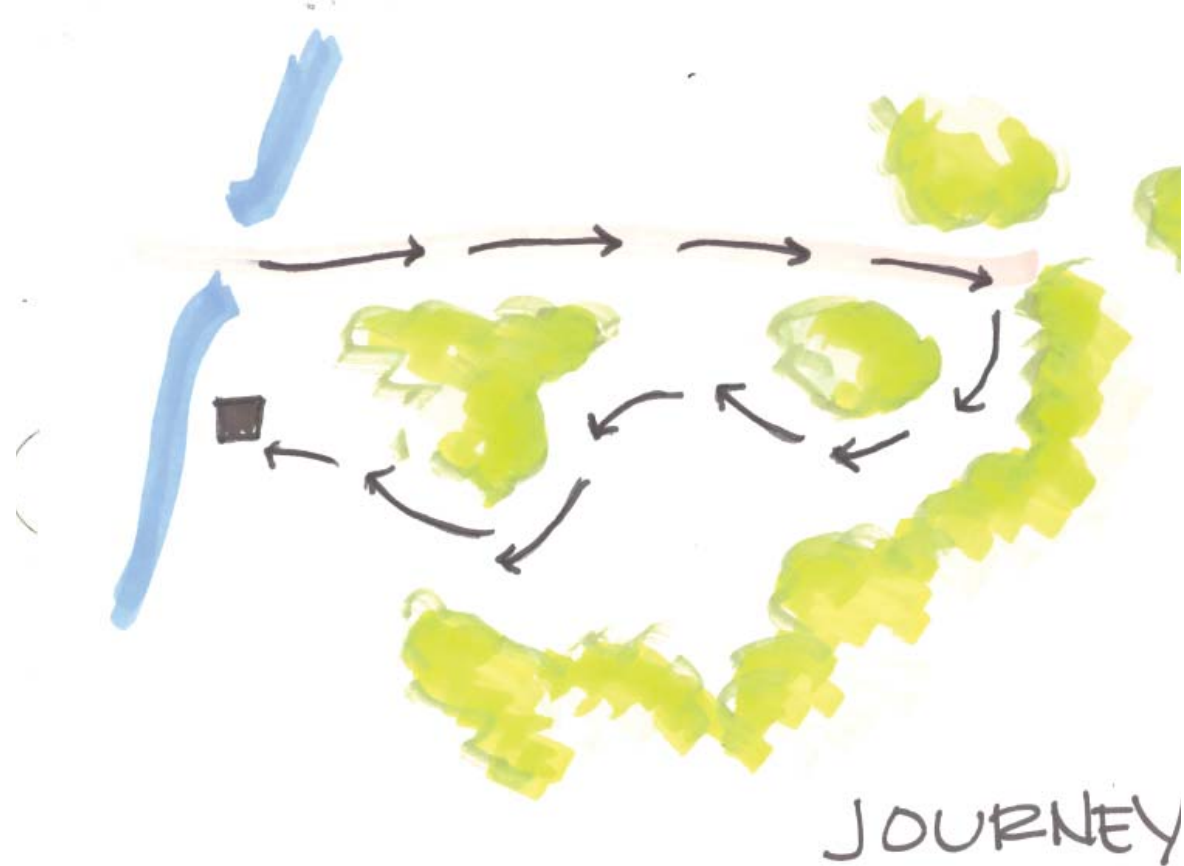

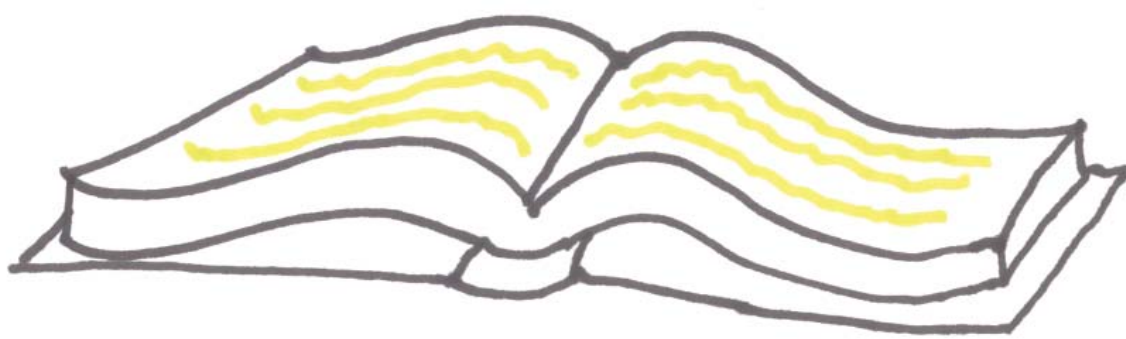

PRIVATE PUBLIC

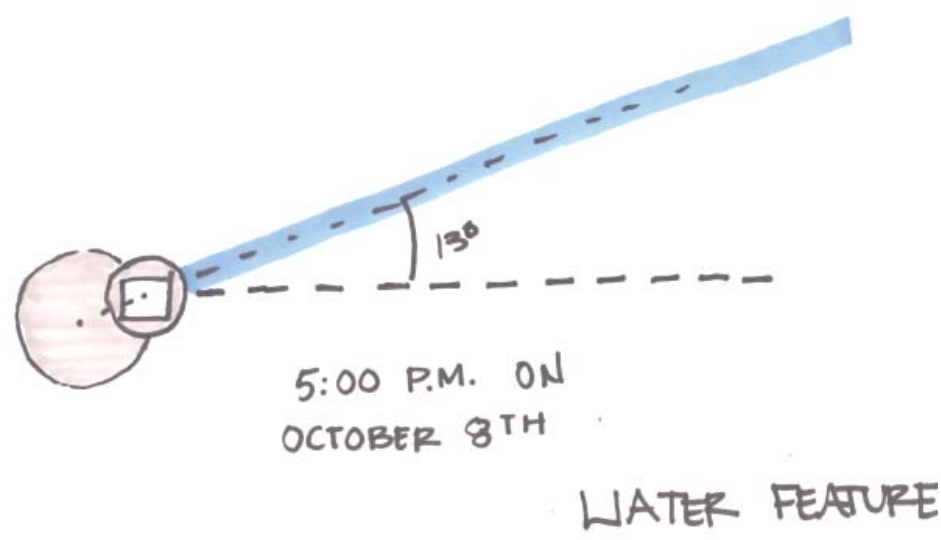

VIEWS

CONCEPT

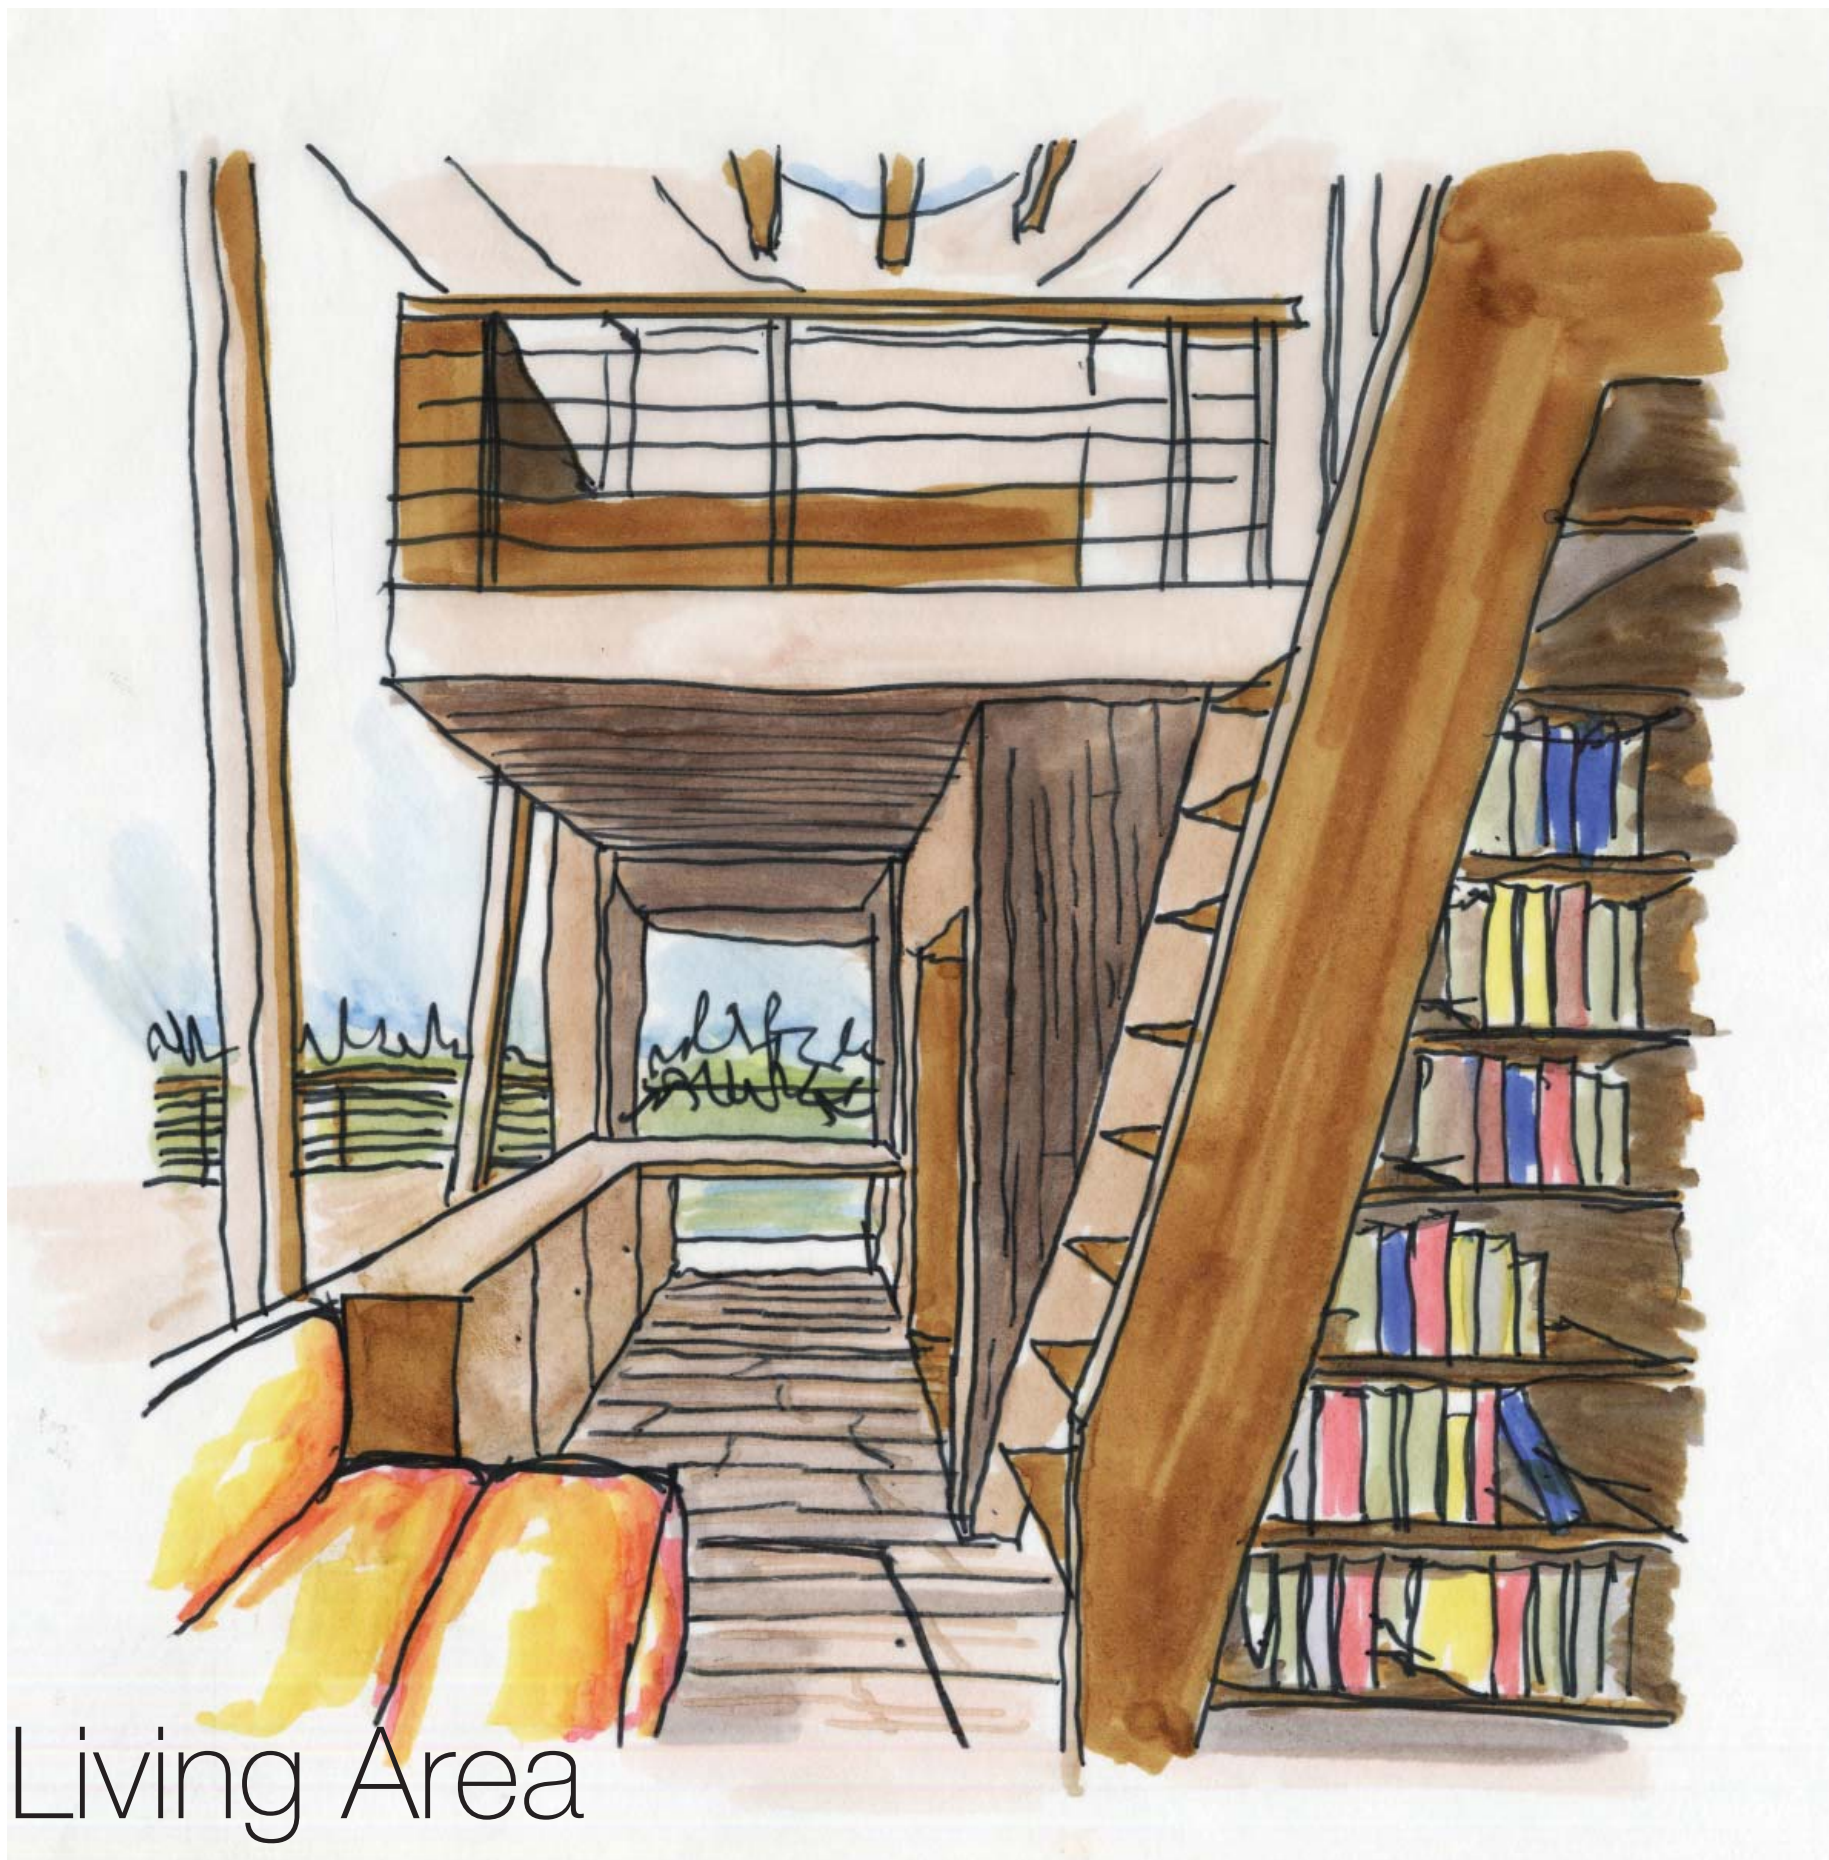

- STORY
- HOUSE ACTS AS MAIN CHARACTER
- JOURNEY TO THE HOUSE REVEALS ASPECTS OF THE BUILDING BUT NOT THE WHOLE PICTURE.

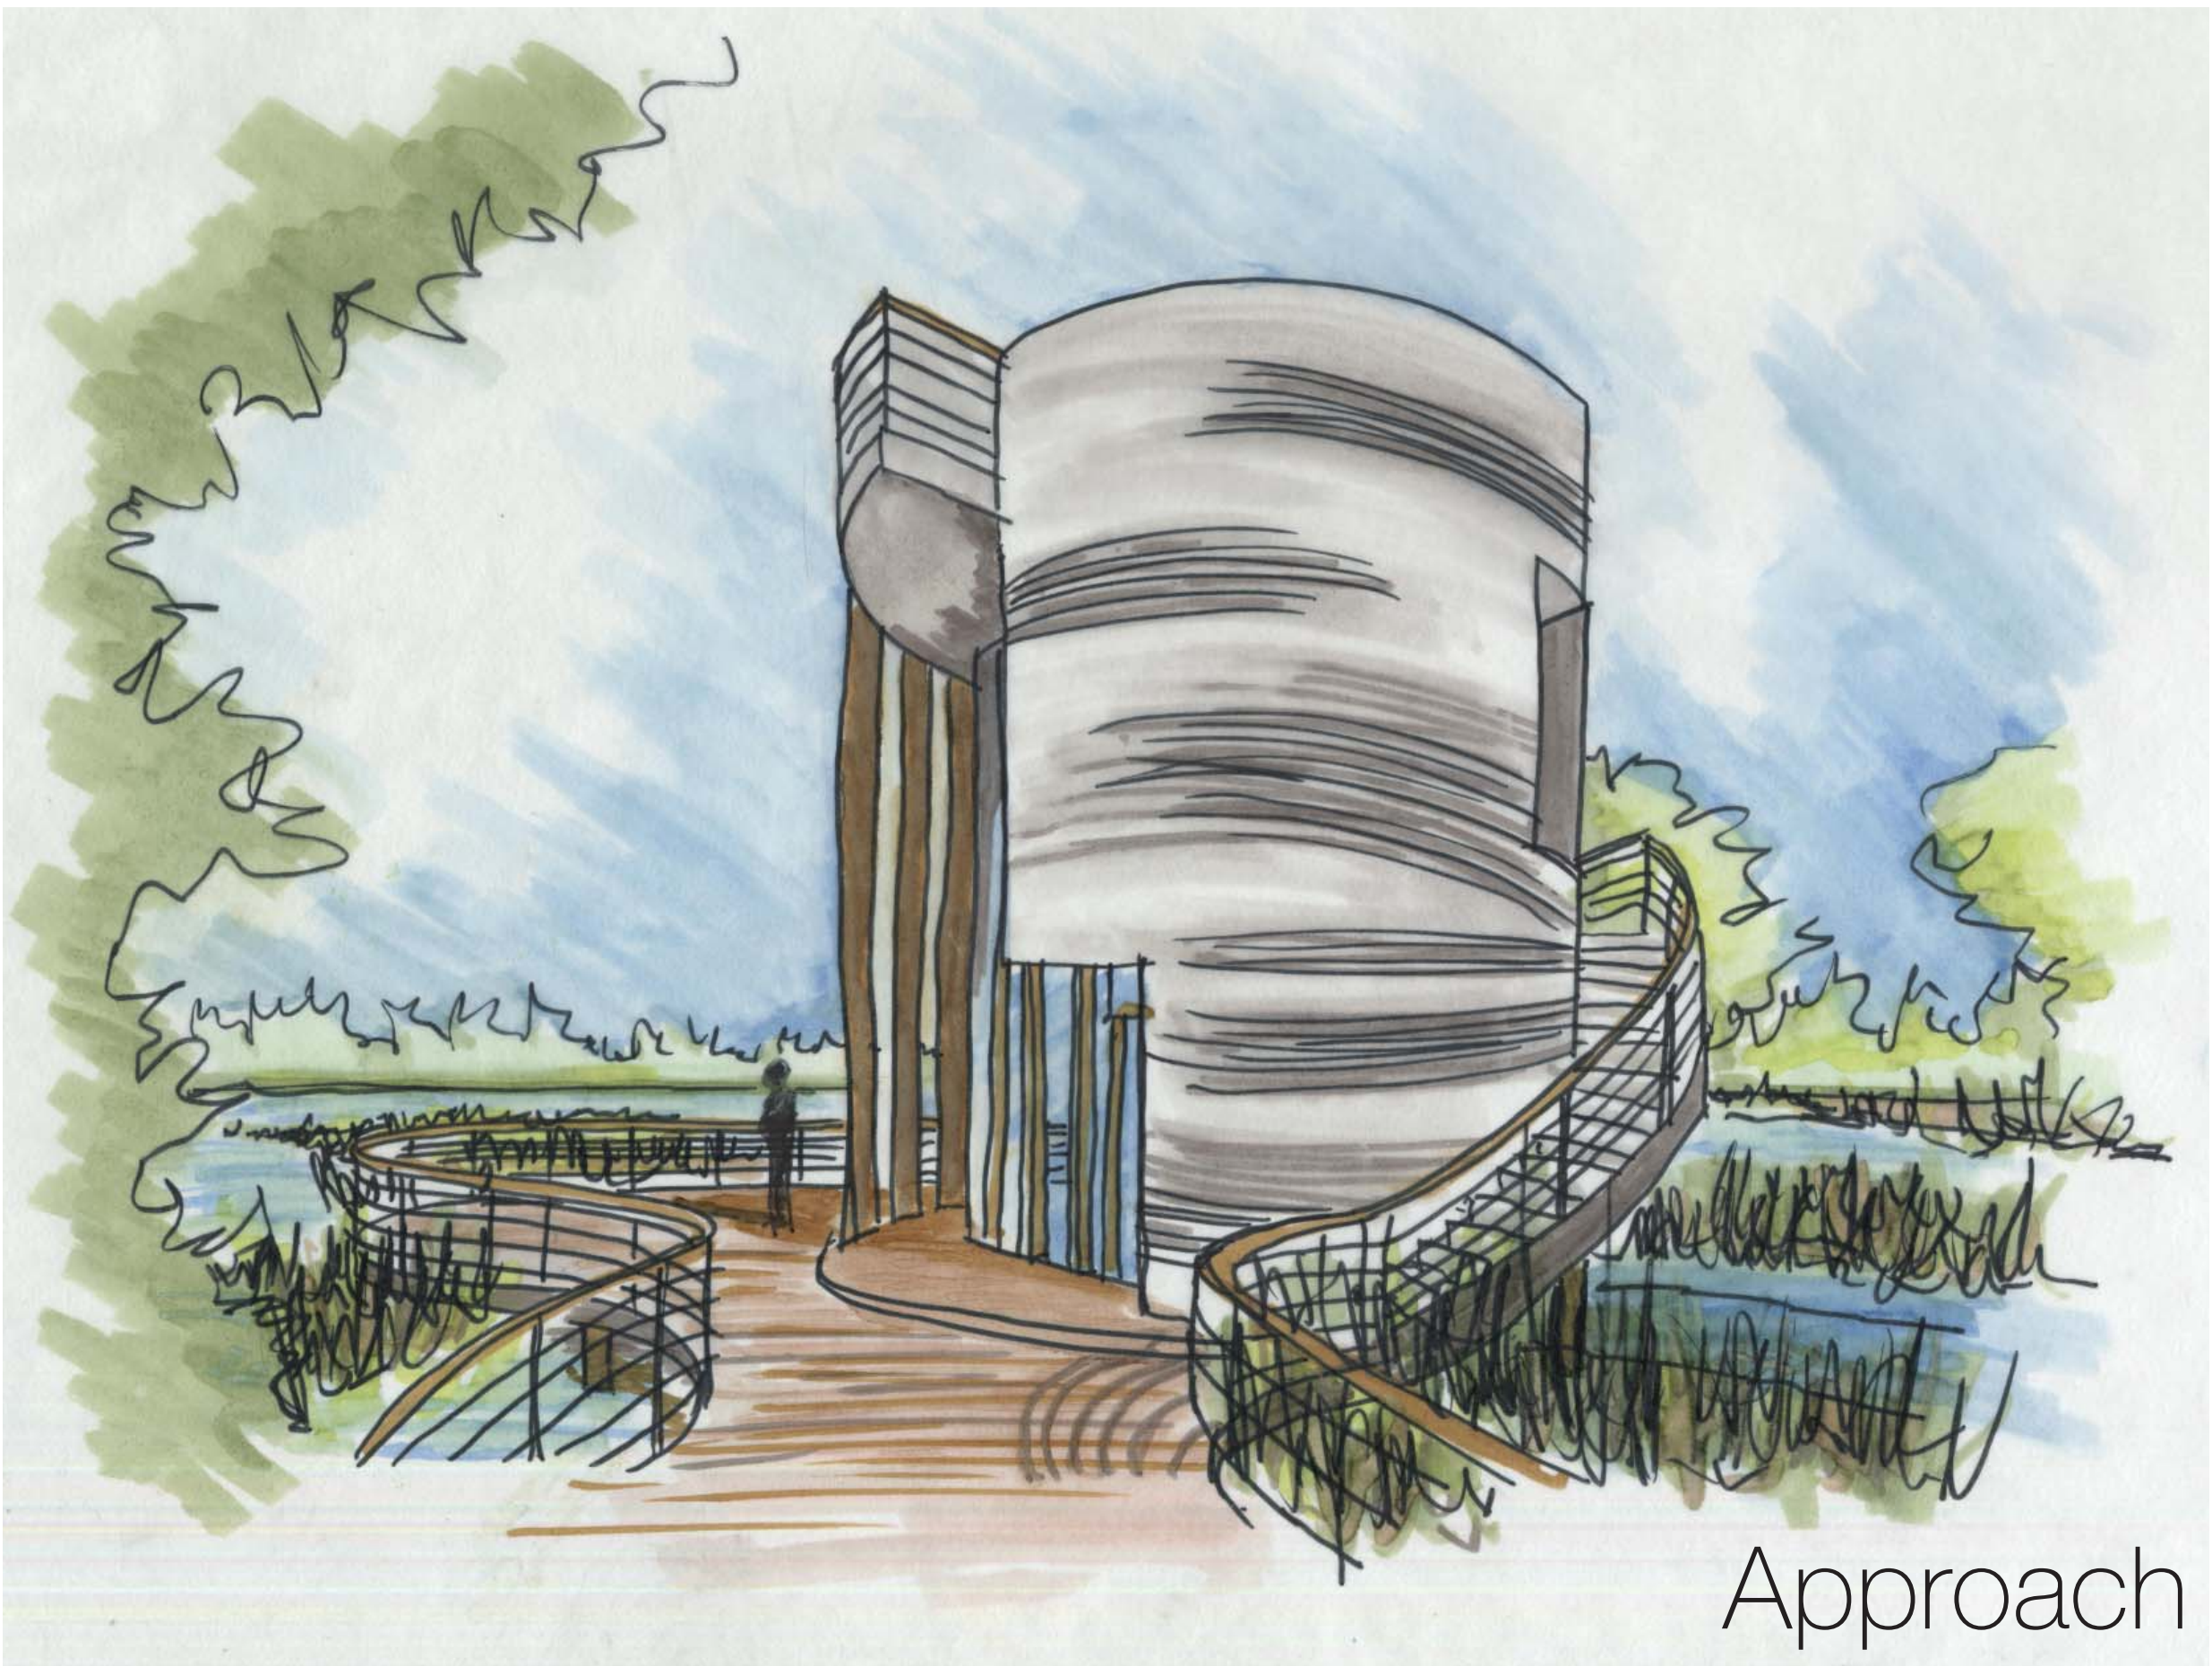

JOURNEY

WATER FEATURE

Living Area

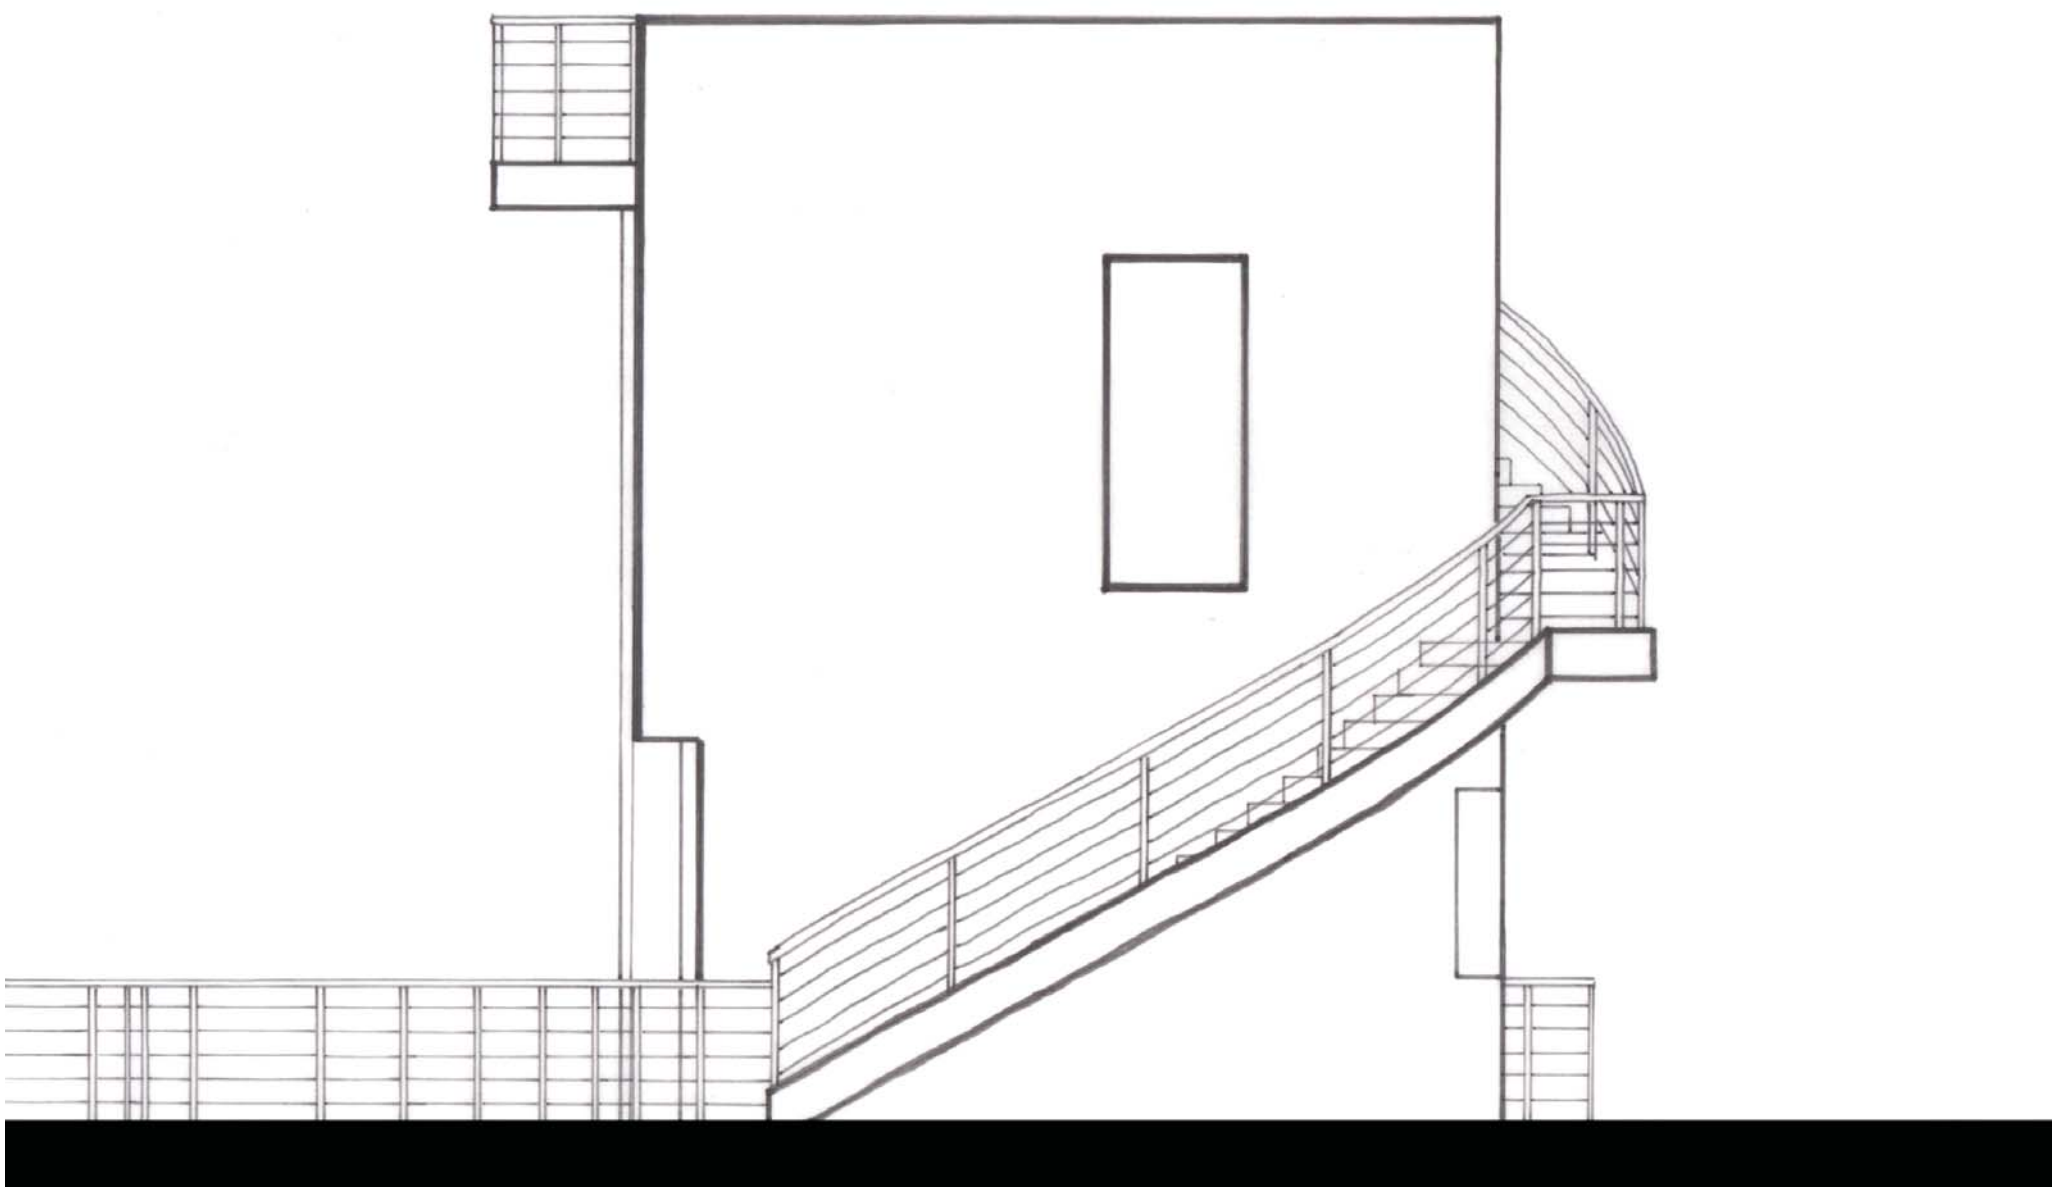

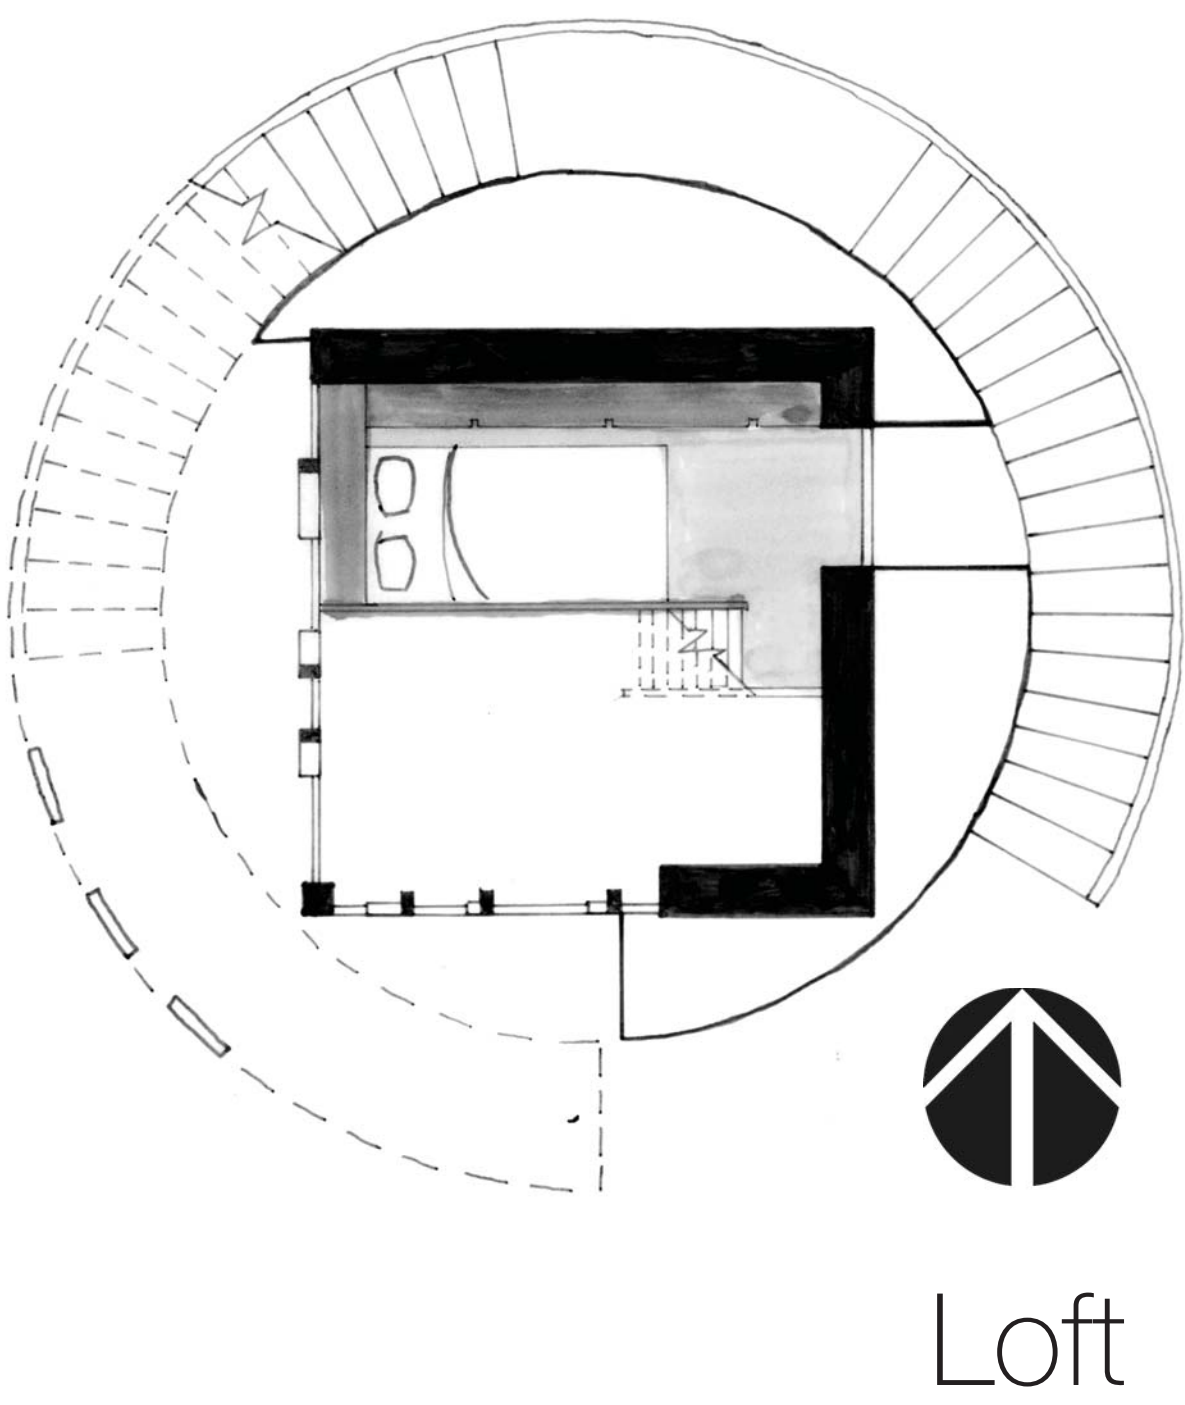

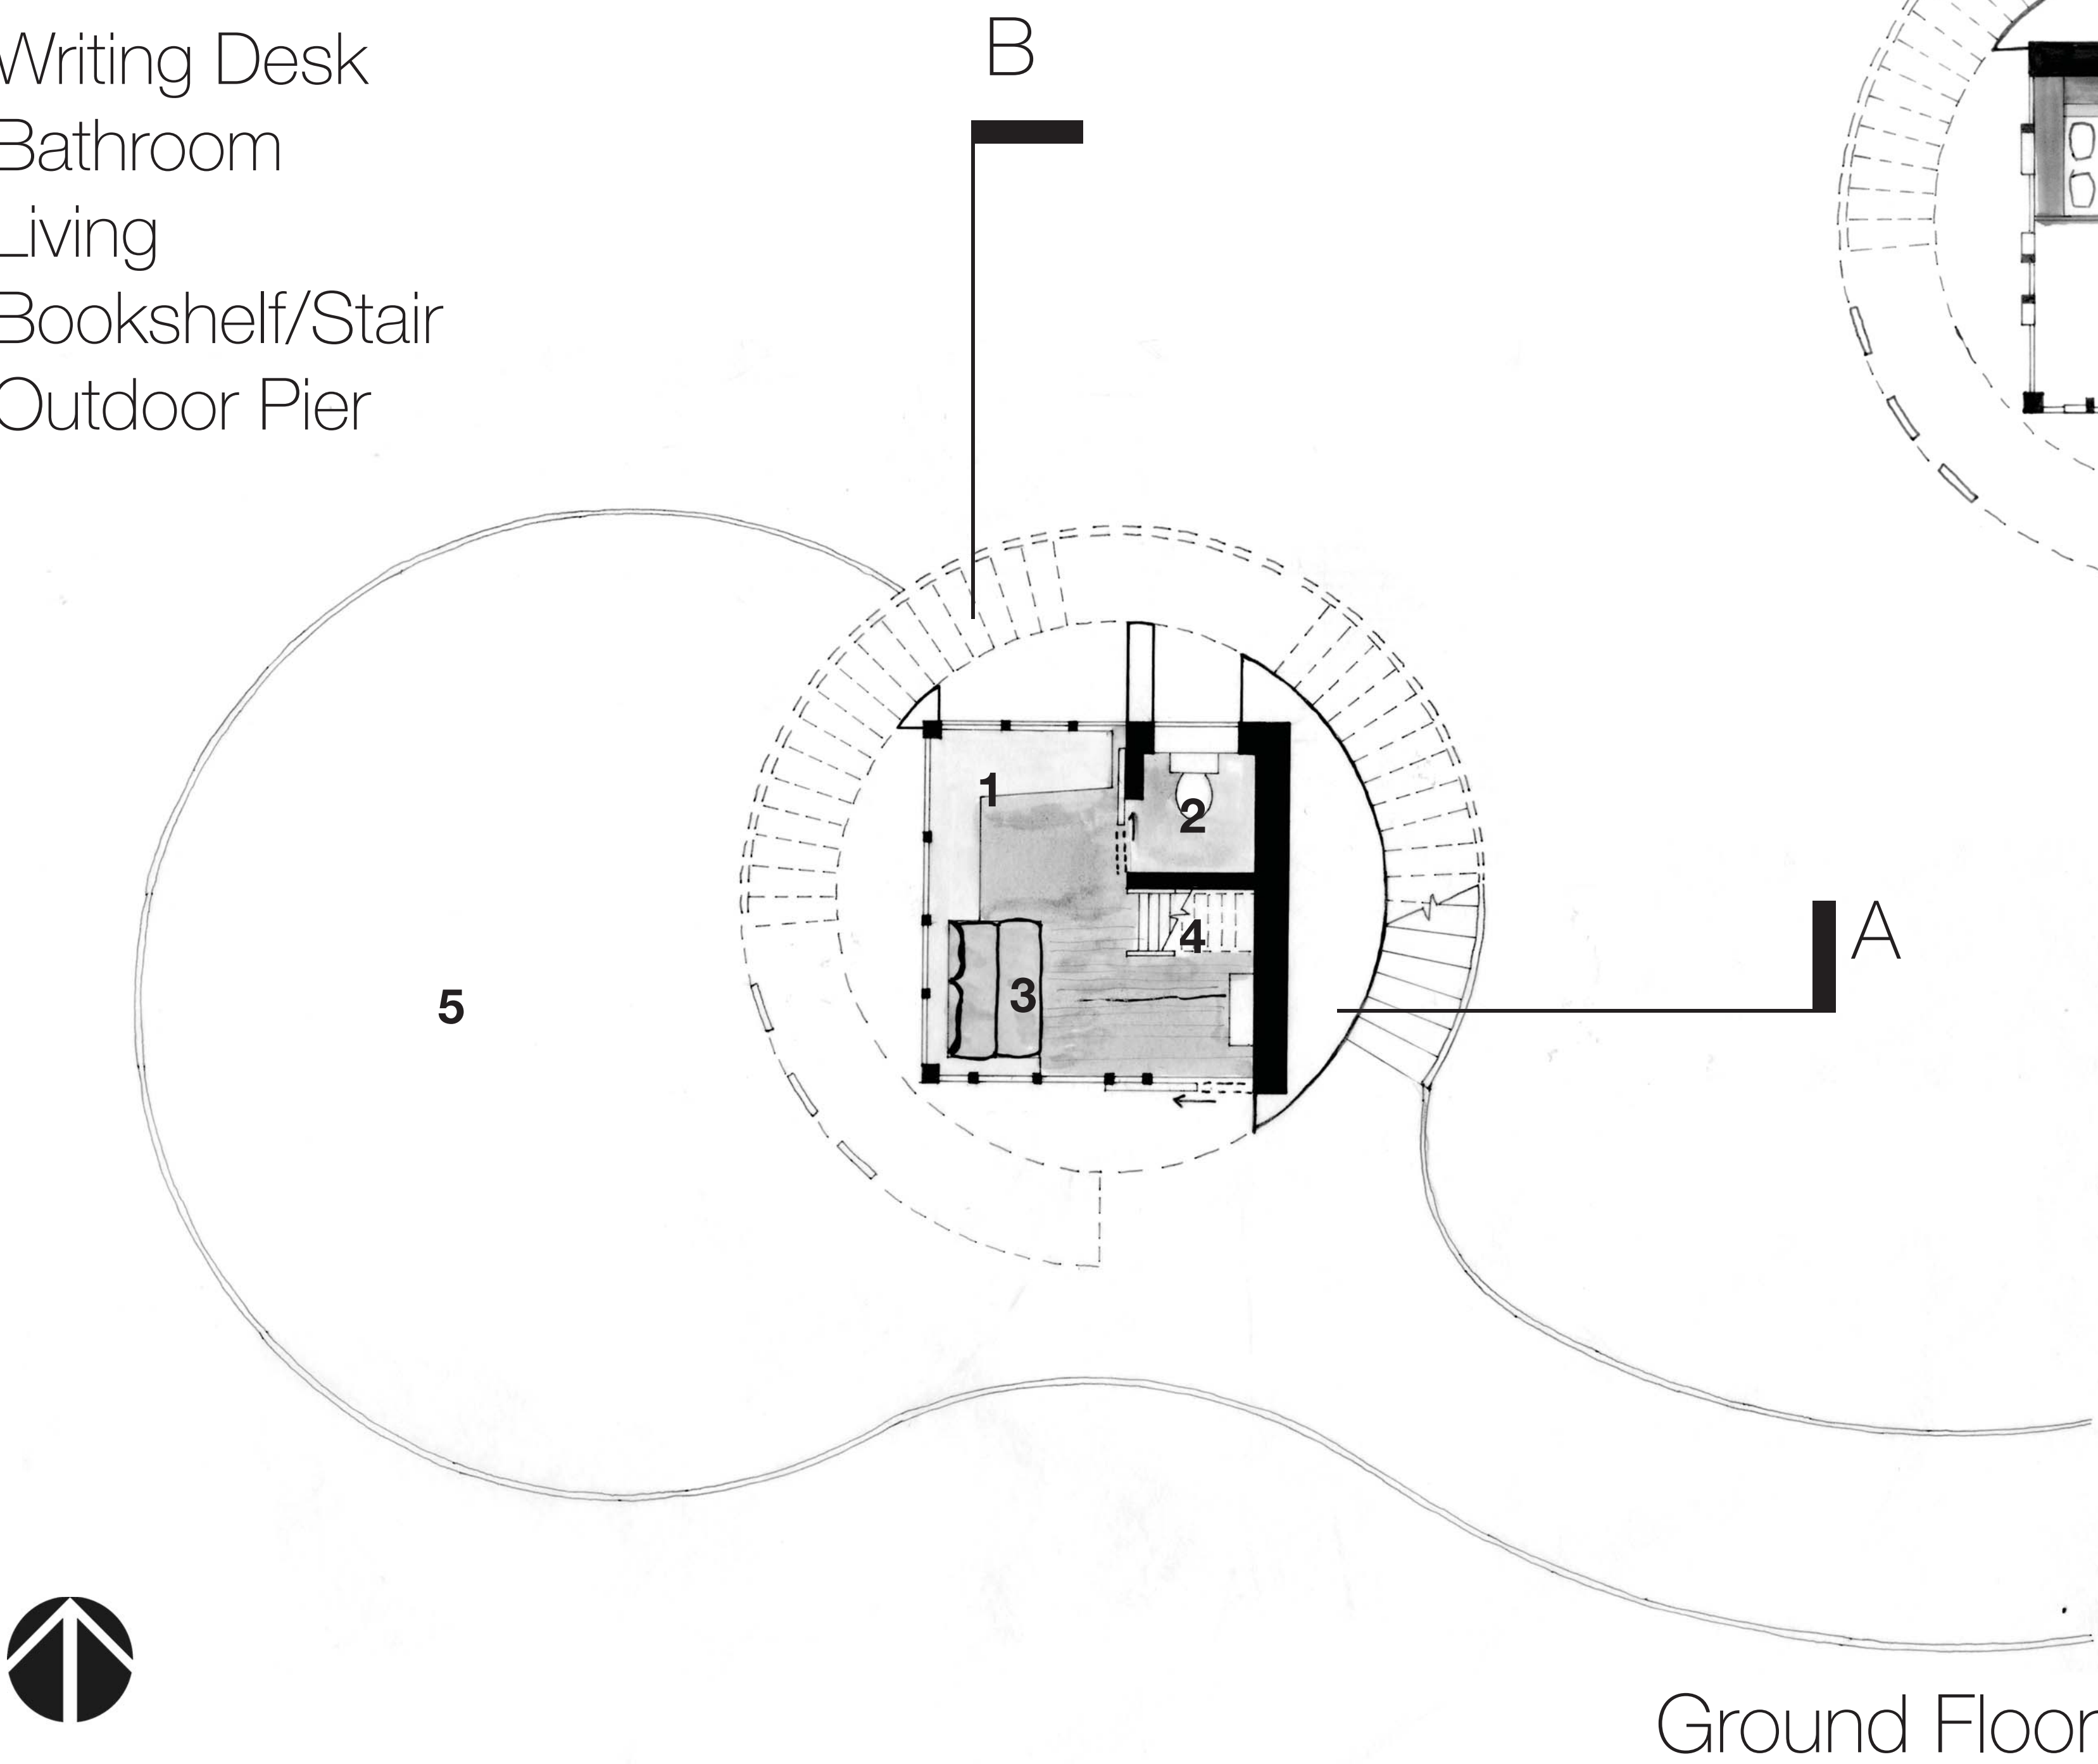

Approach

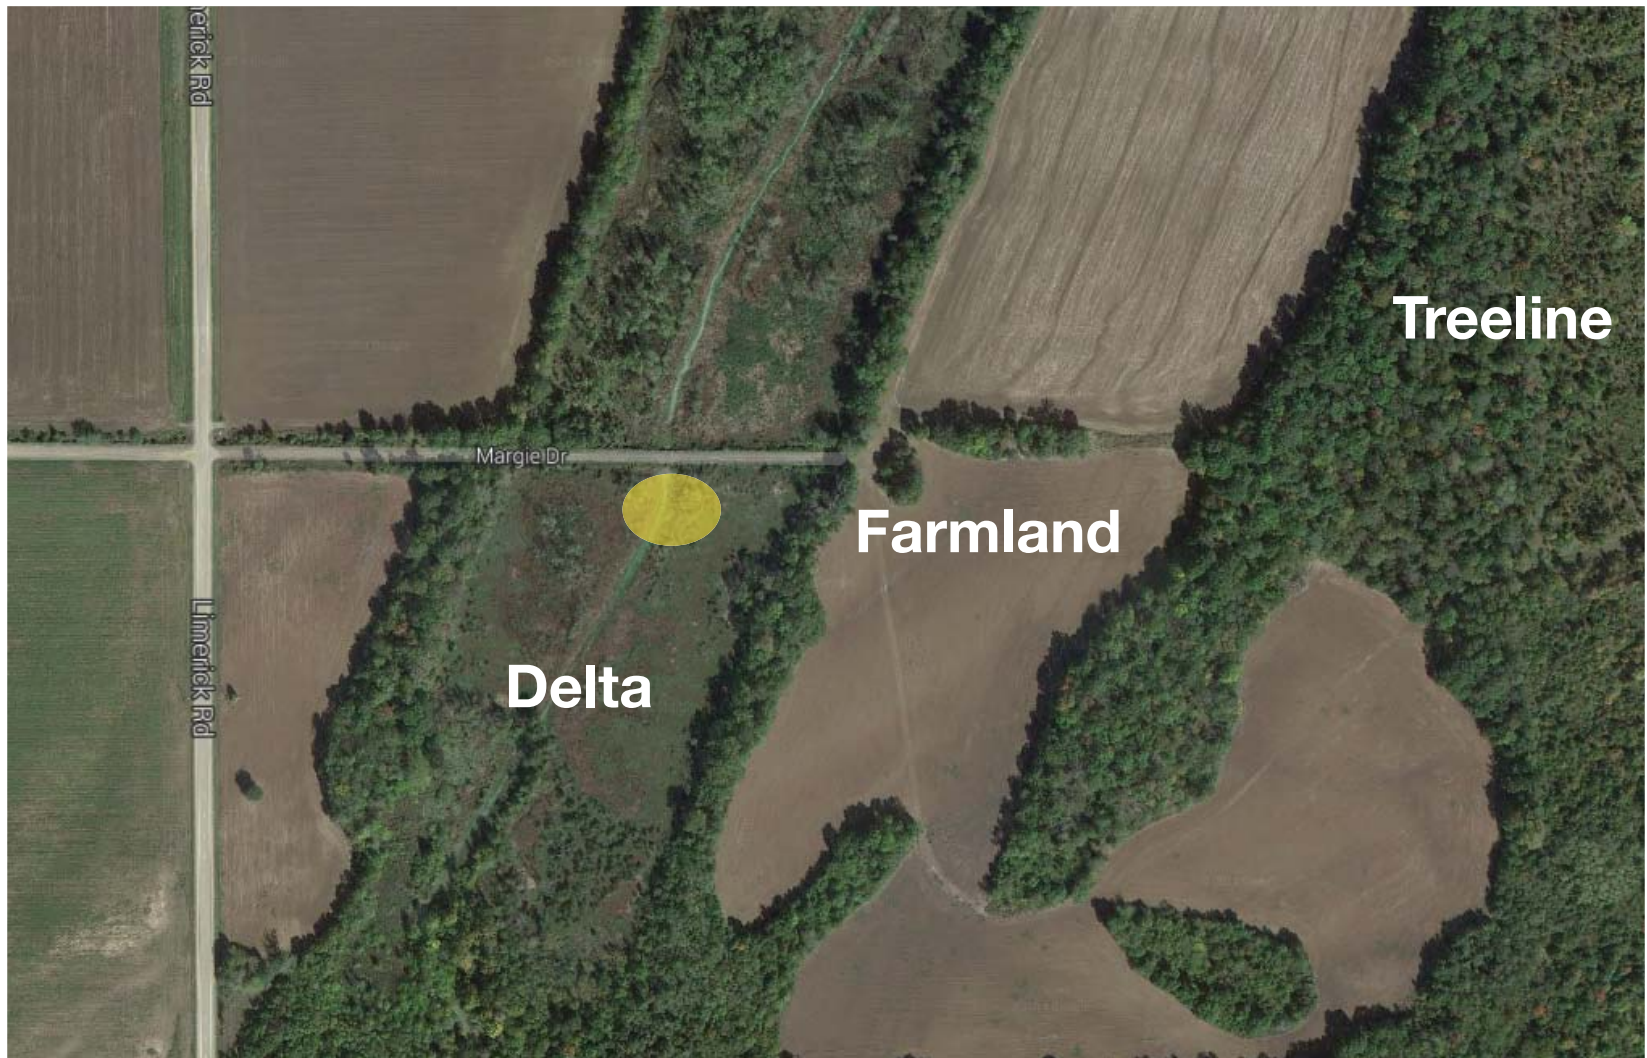

Floor Plans + Elevations

150 Sq Feet

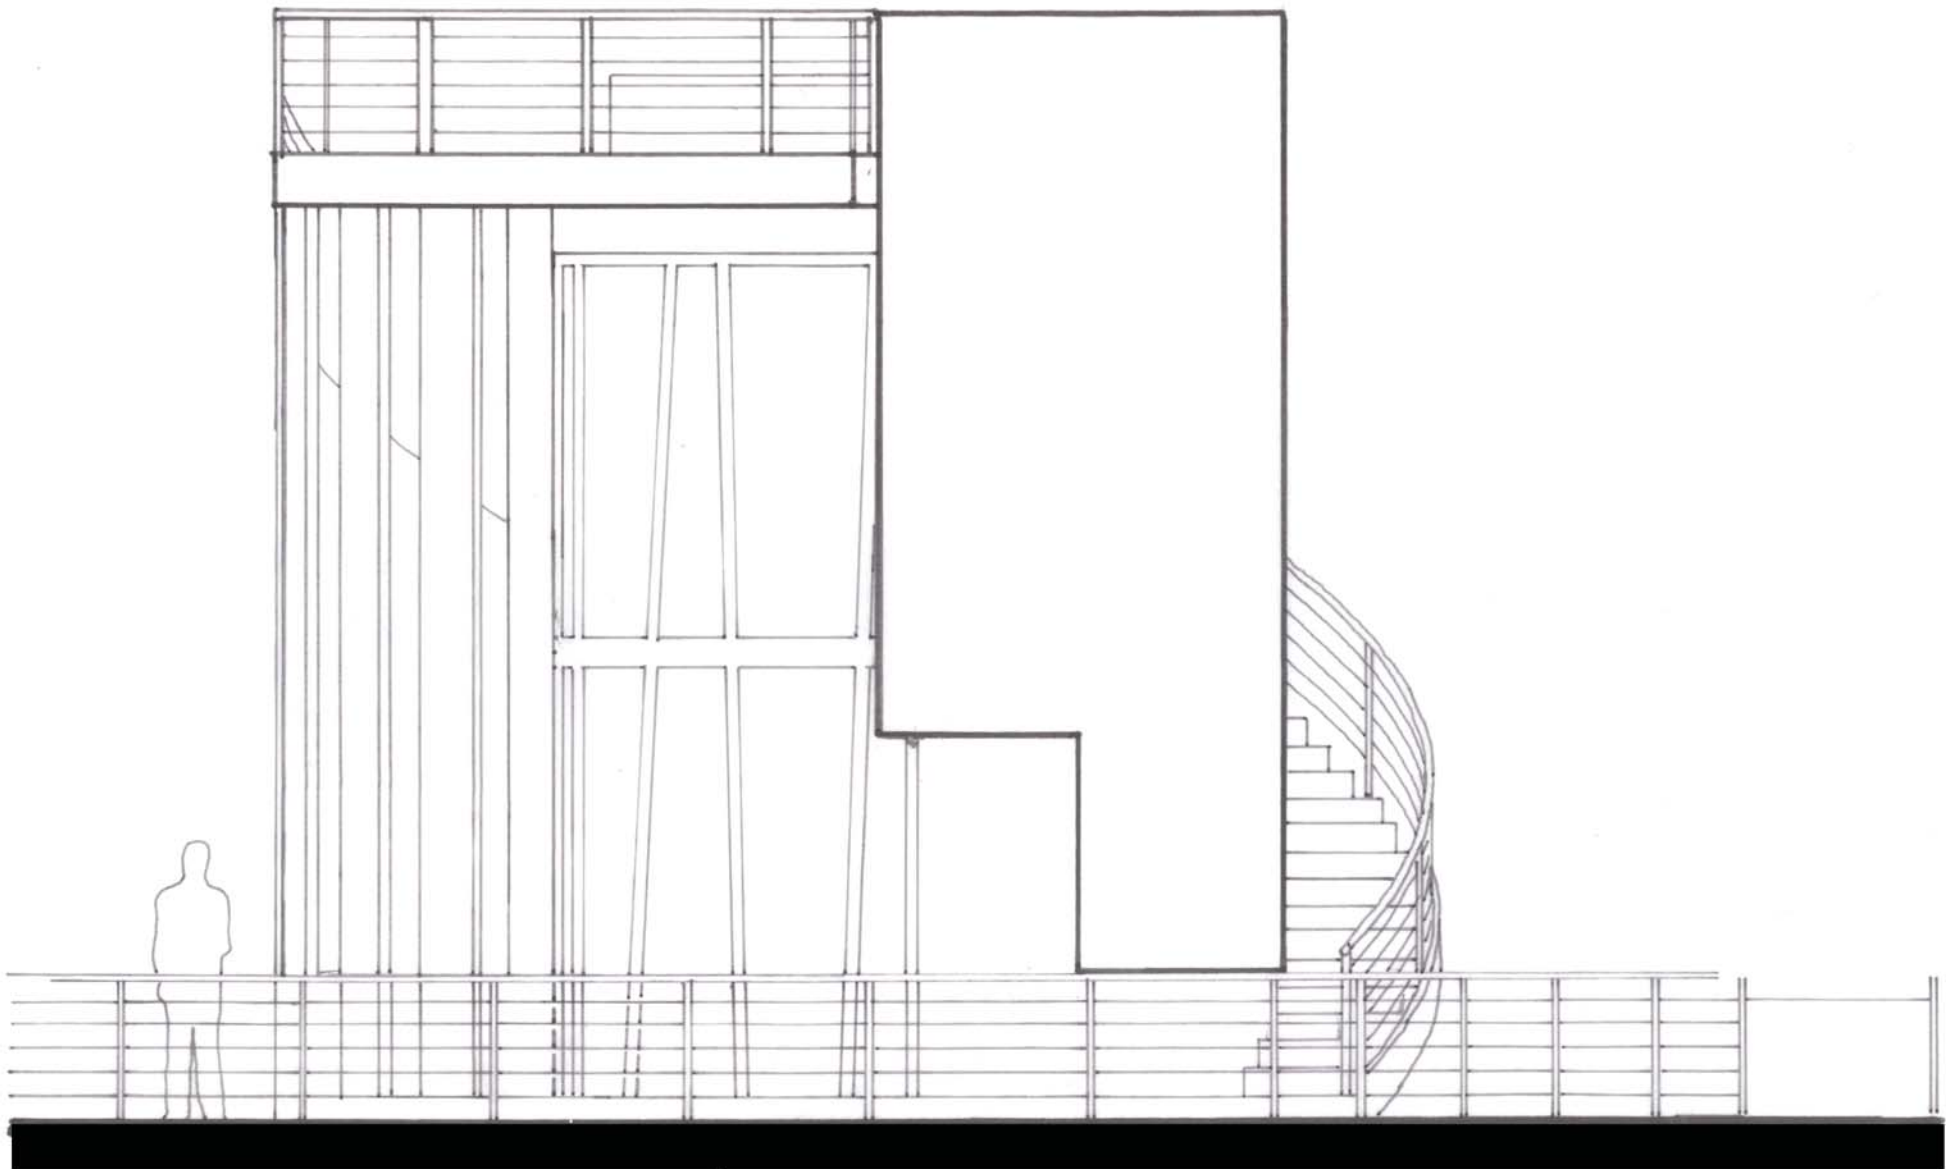

- 1. Writing Desk
- 2. Bathroom
- 3. Living
- 4. Bookshelf/Stair
- 5. Outdoor Pier

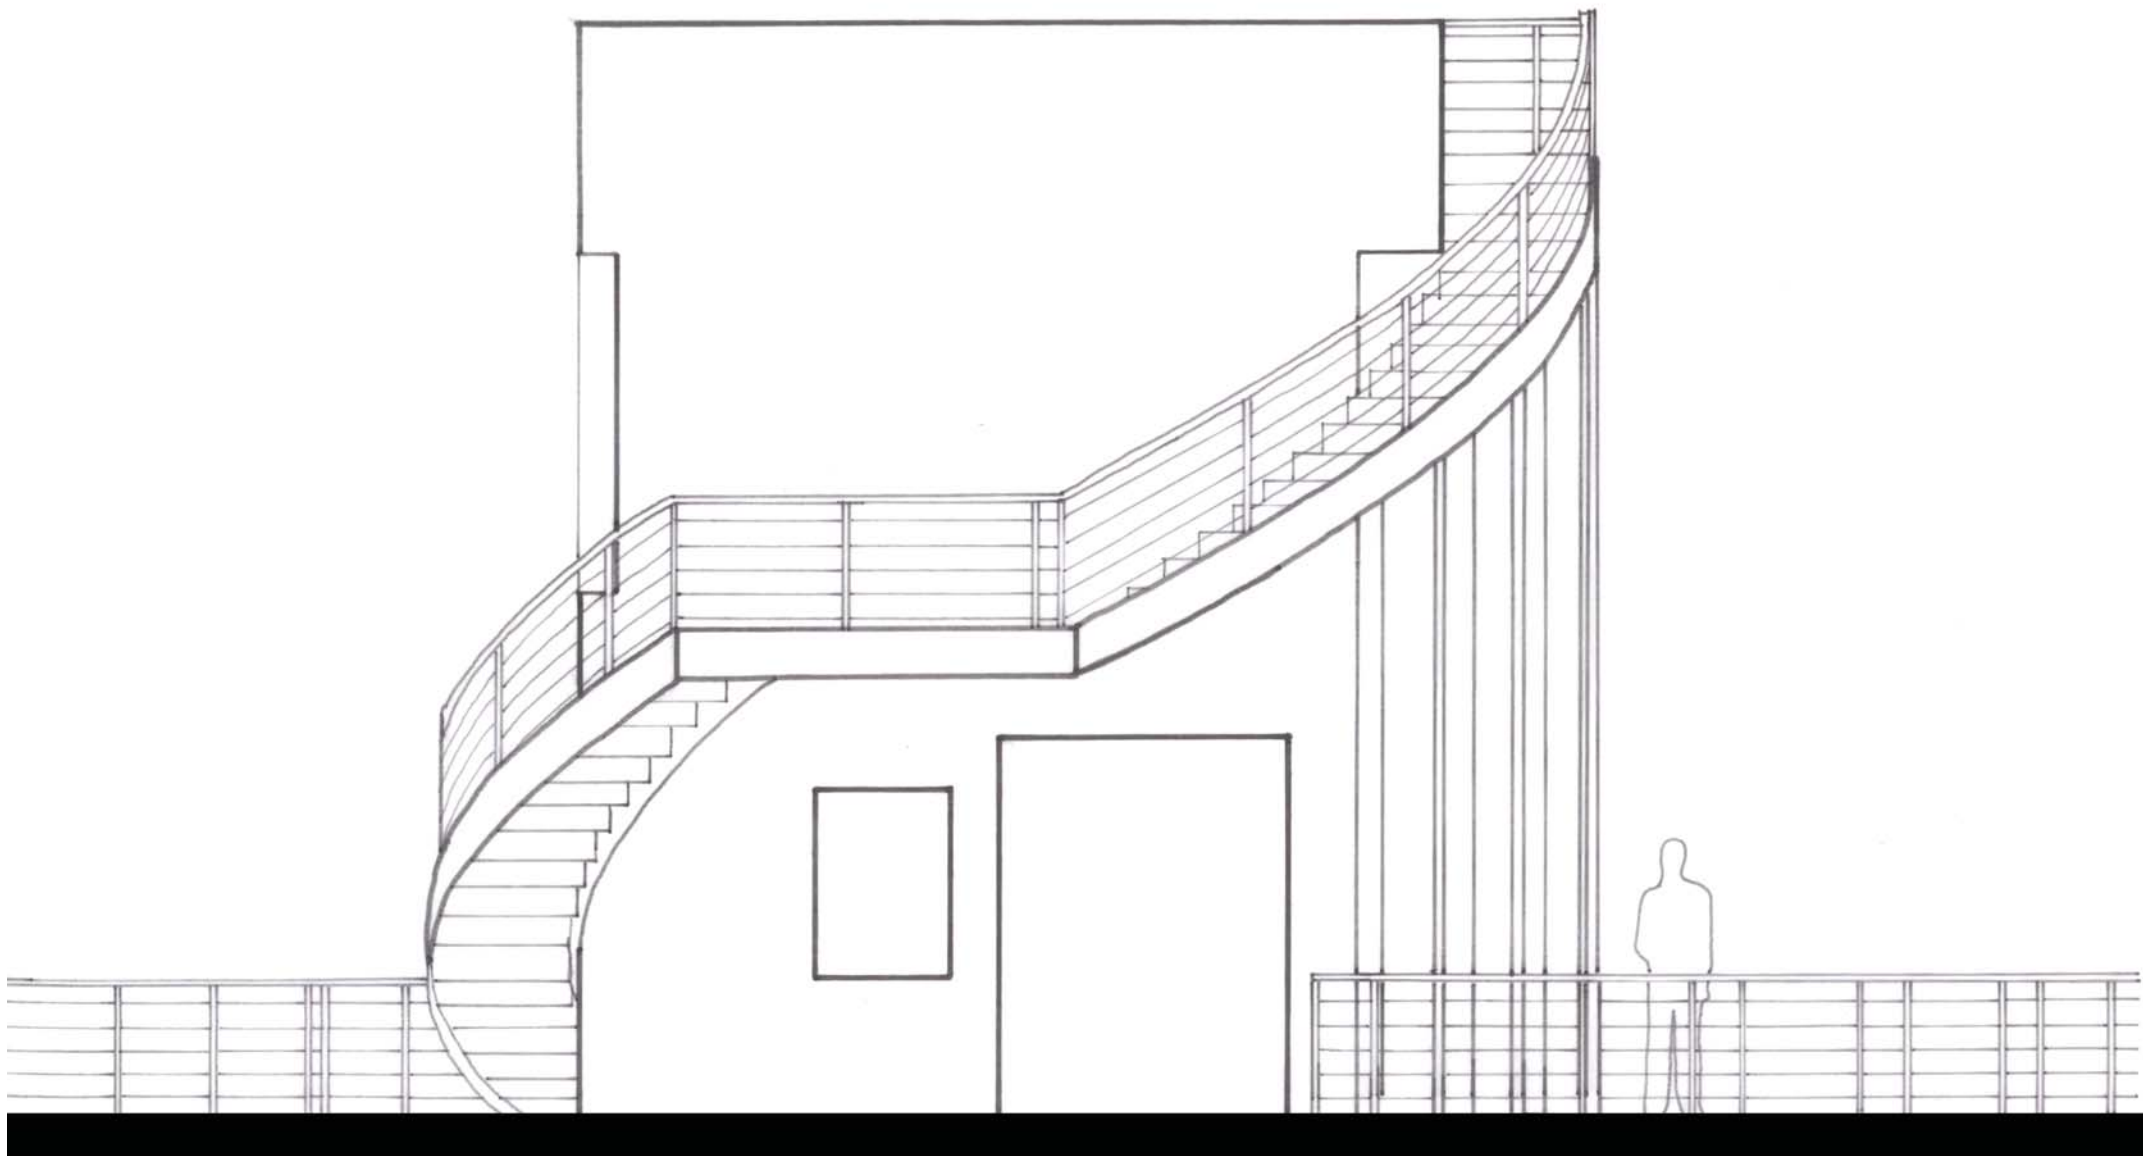

East Elevation

Located just south of Tunica Mississippi, the site is a vast landscape filled with farmland and a swamp. The choice to sit the home in the swamp went back to the interest the client had in being apart of the delta and not disturbing the landscape around. Placing the home in the swamp allows him nice views as well as a great place to nature watch and be inspired.

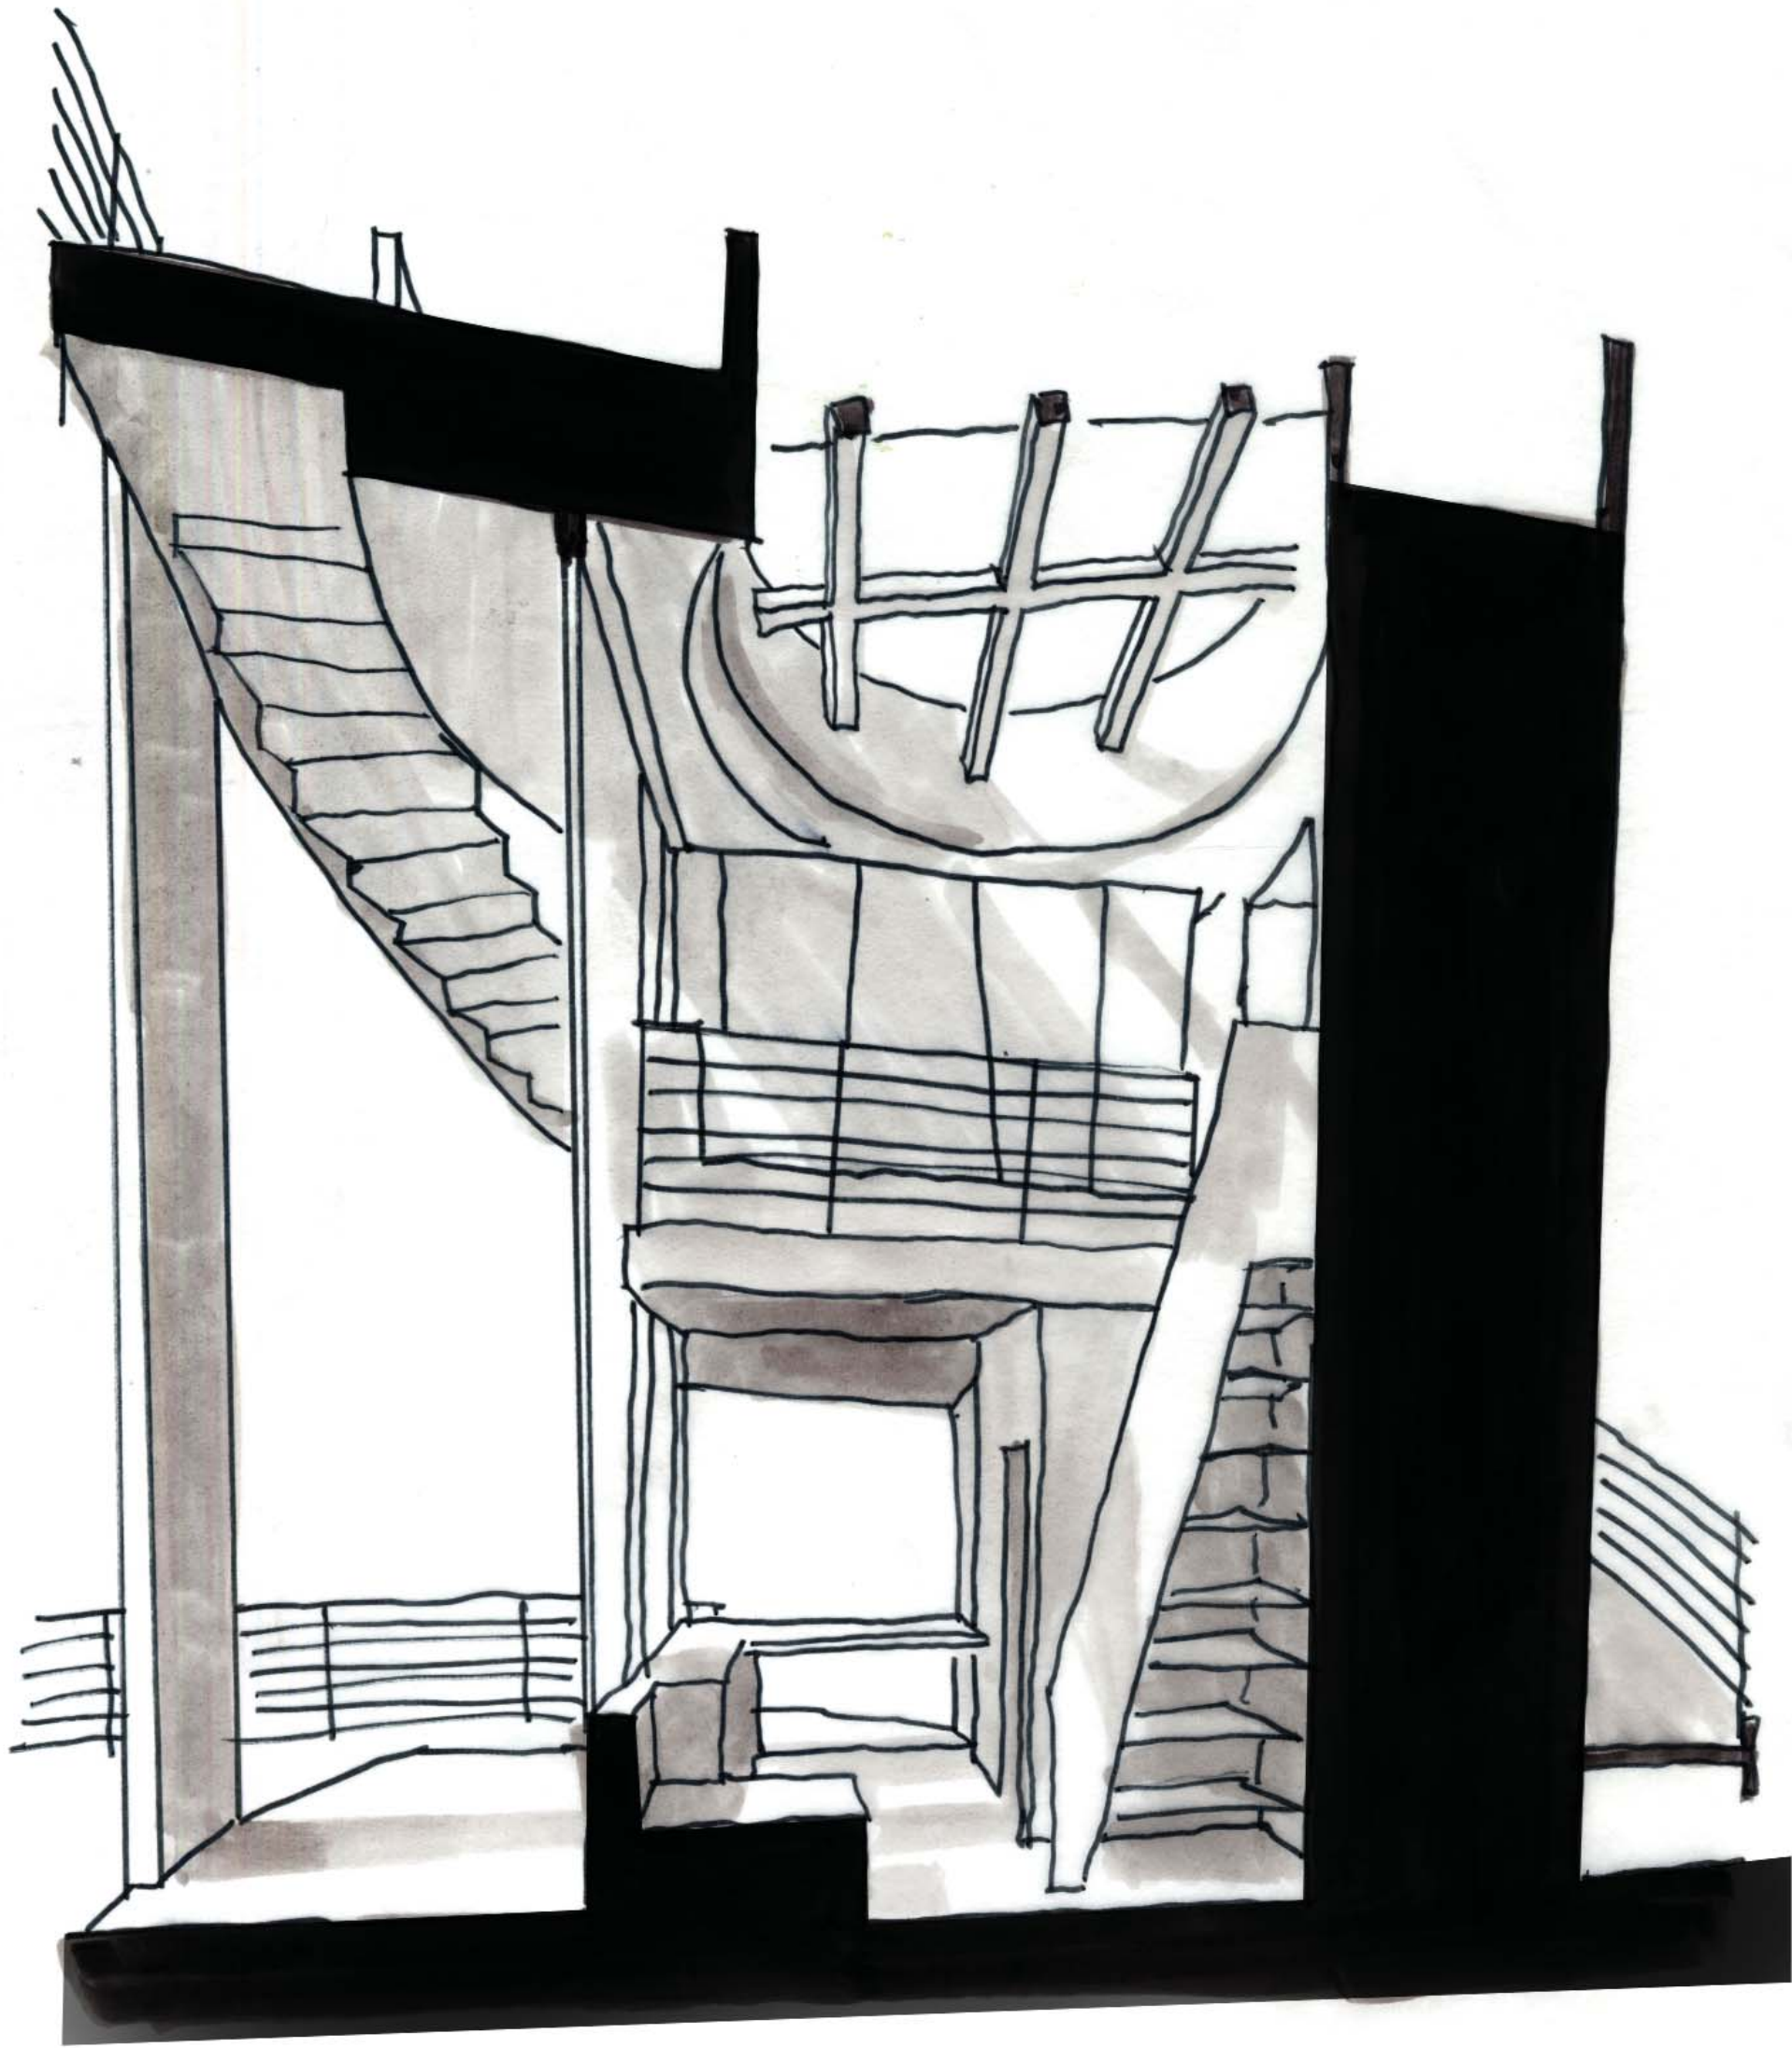

South Elevation

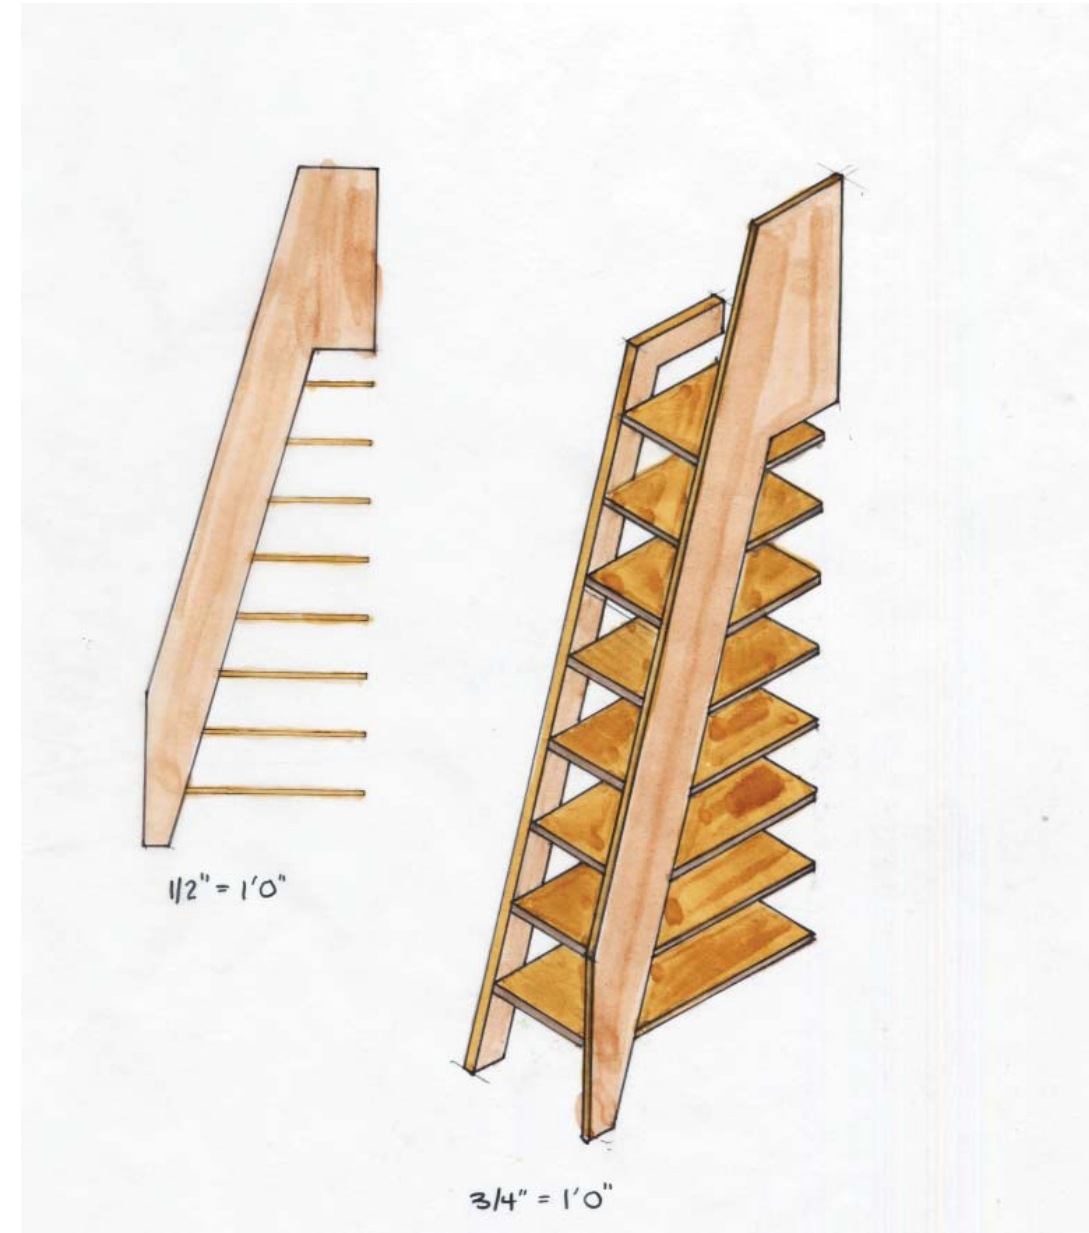

North Elevation

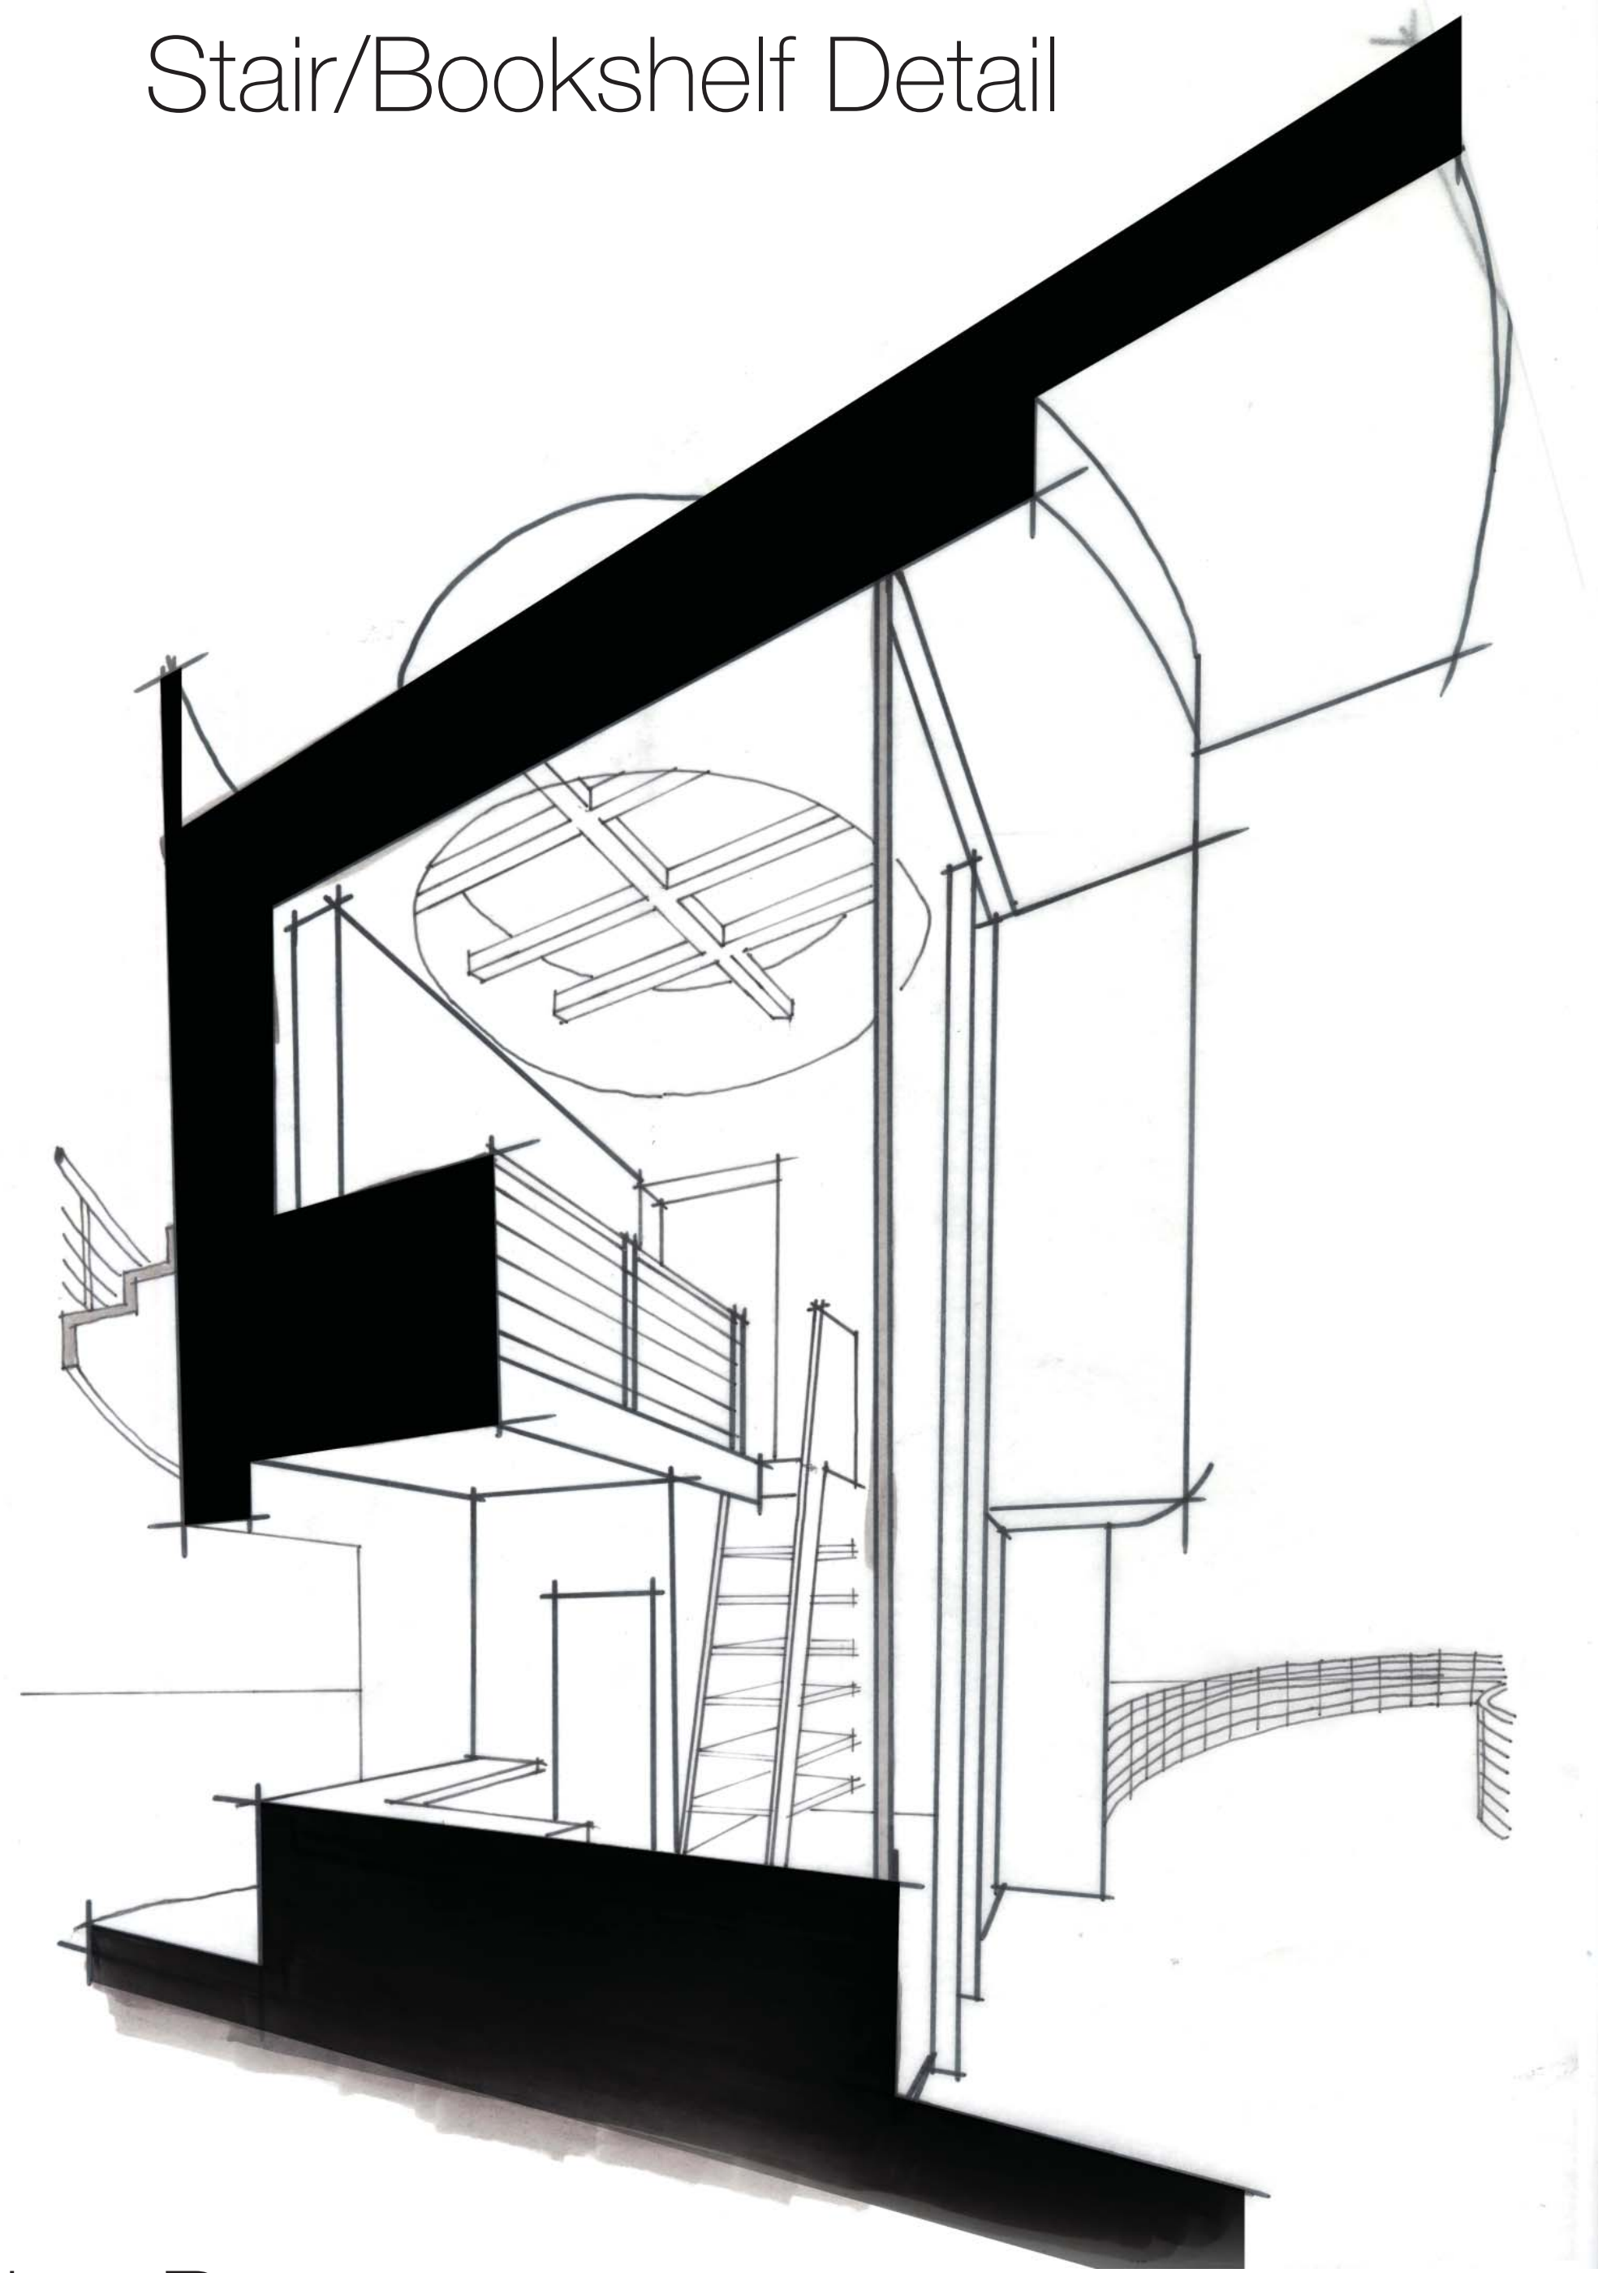

Sections + Photographs

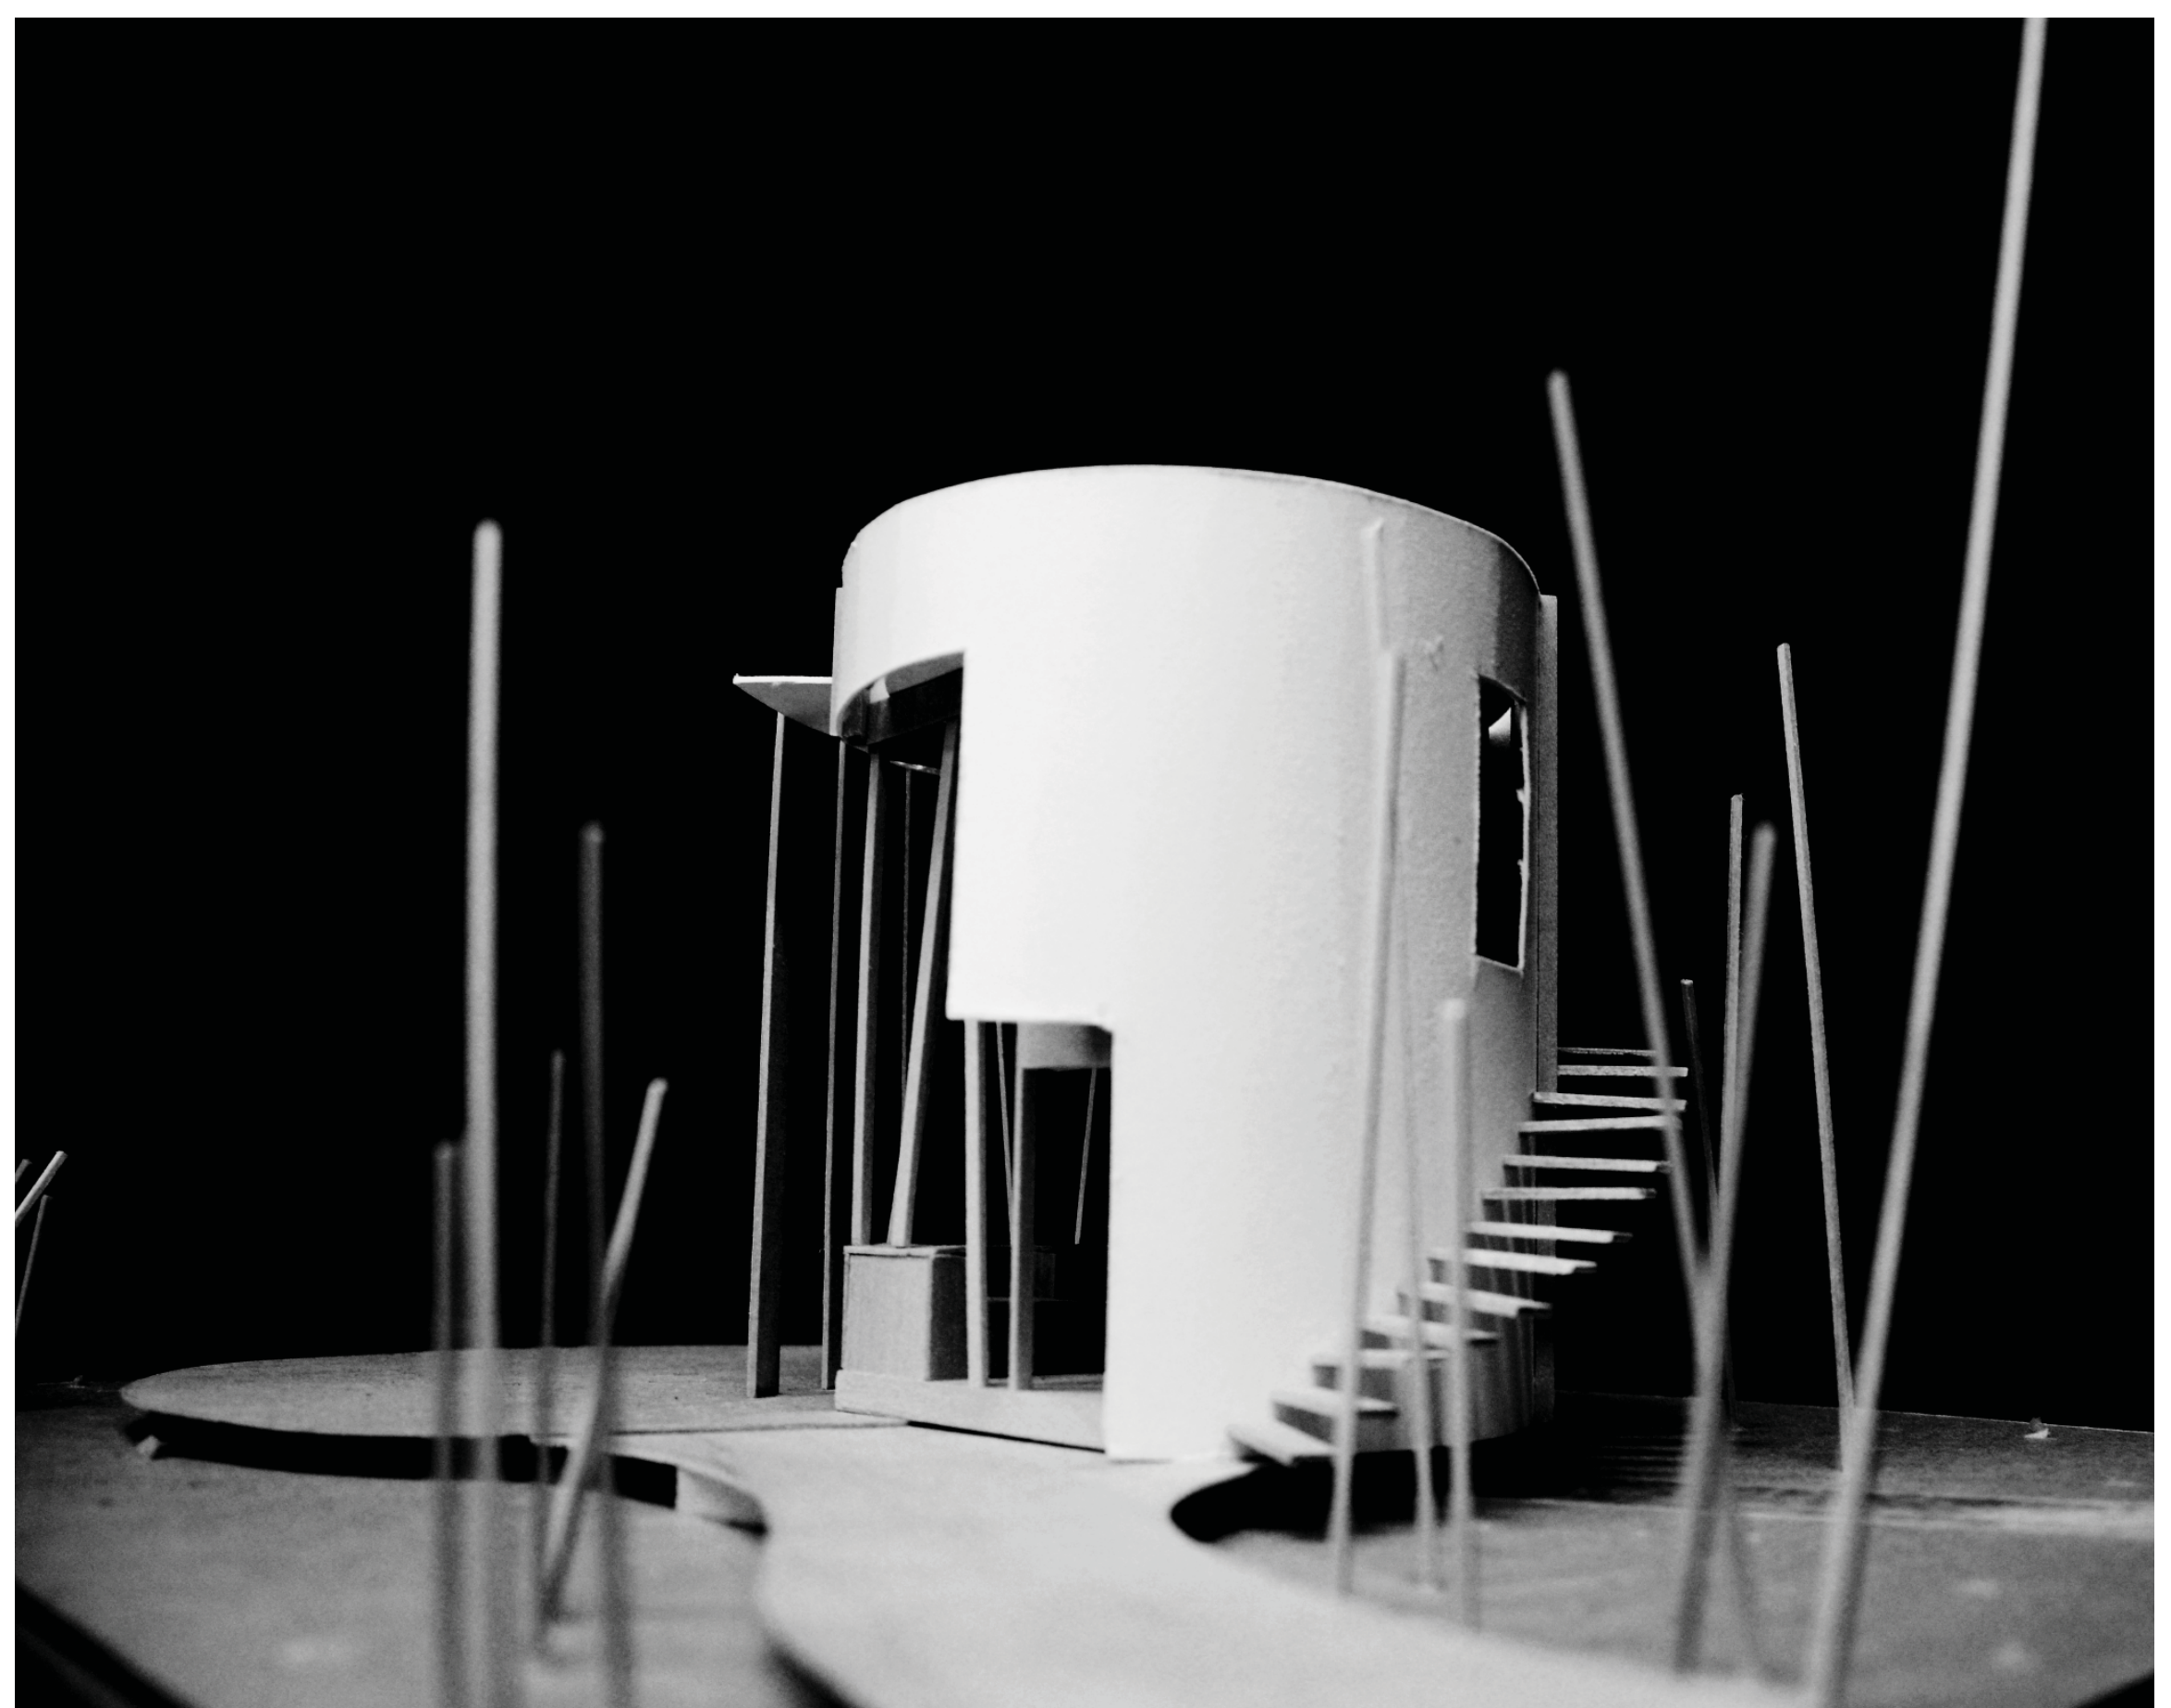

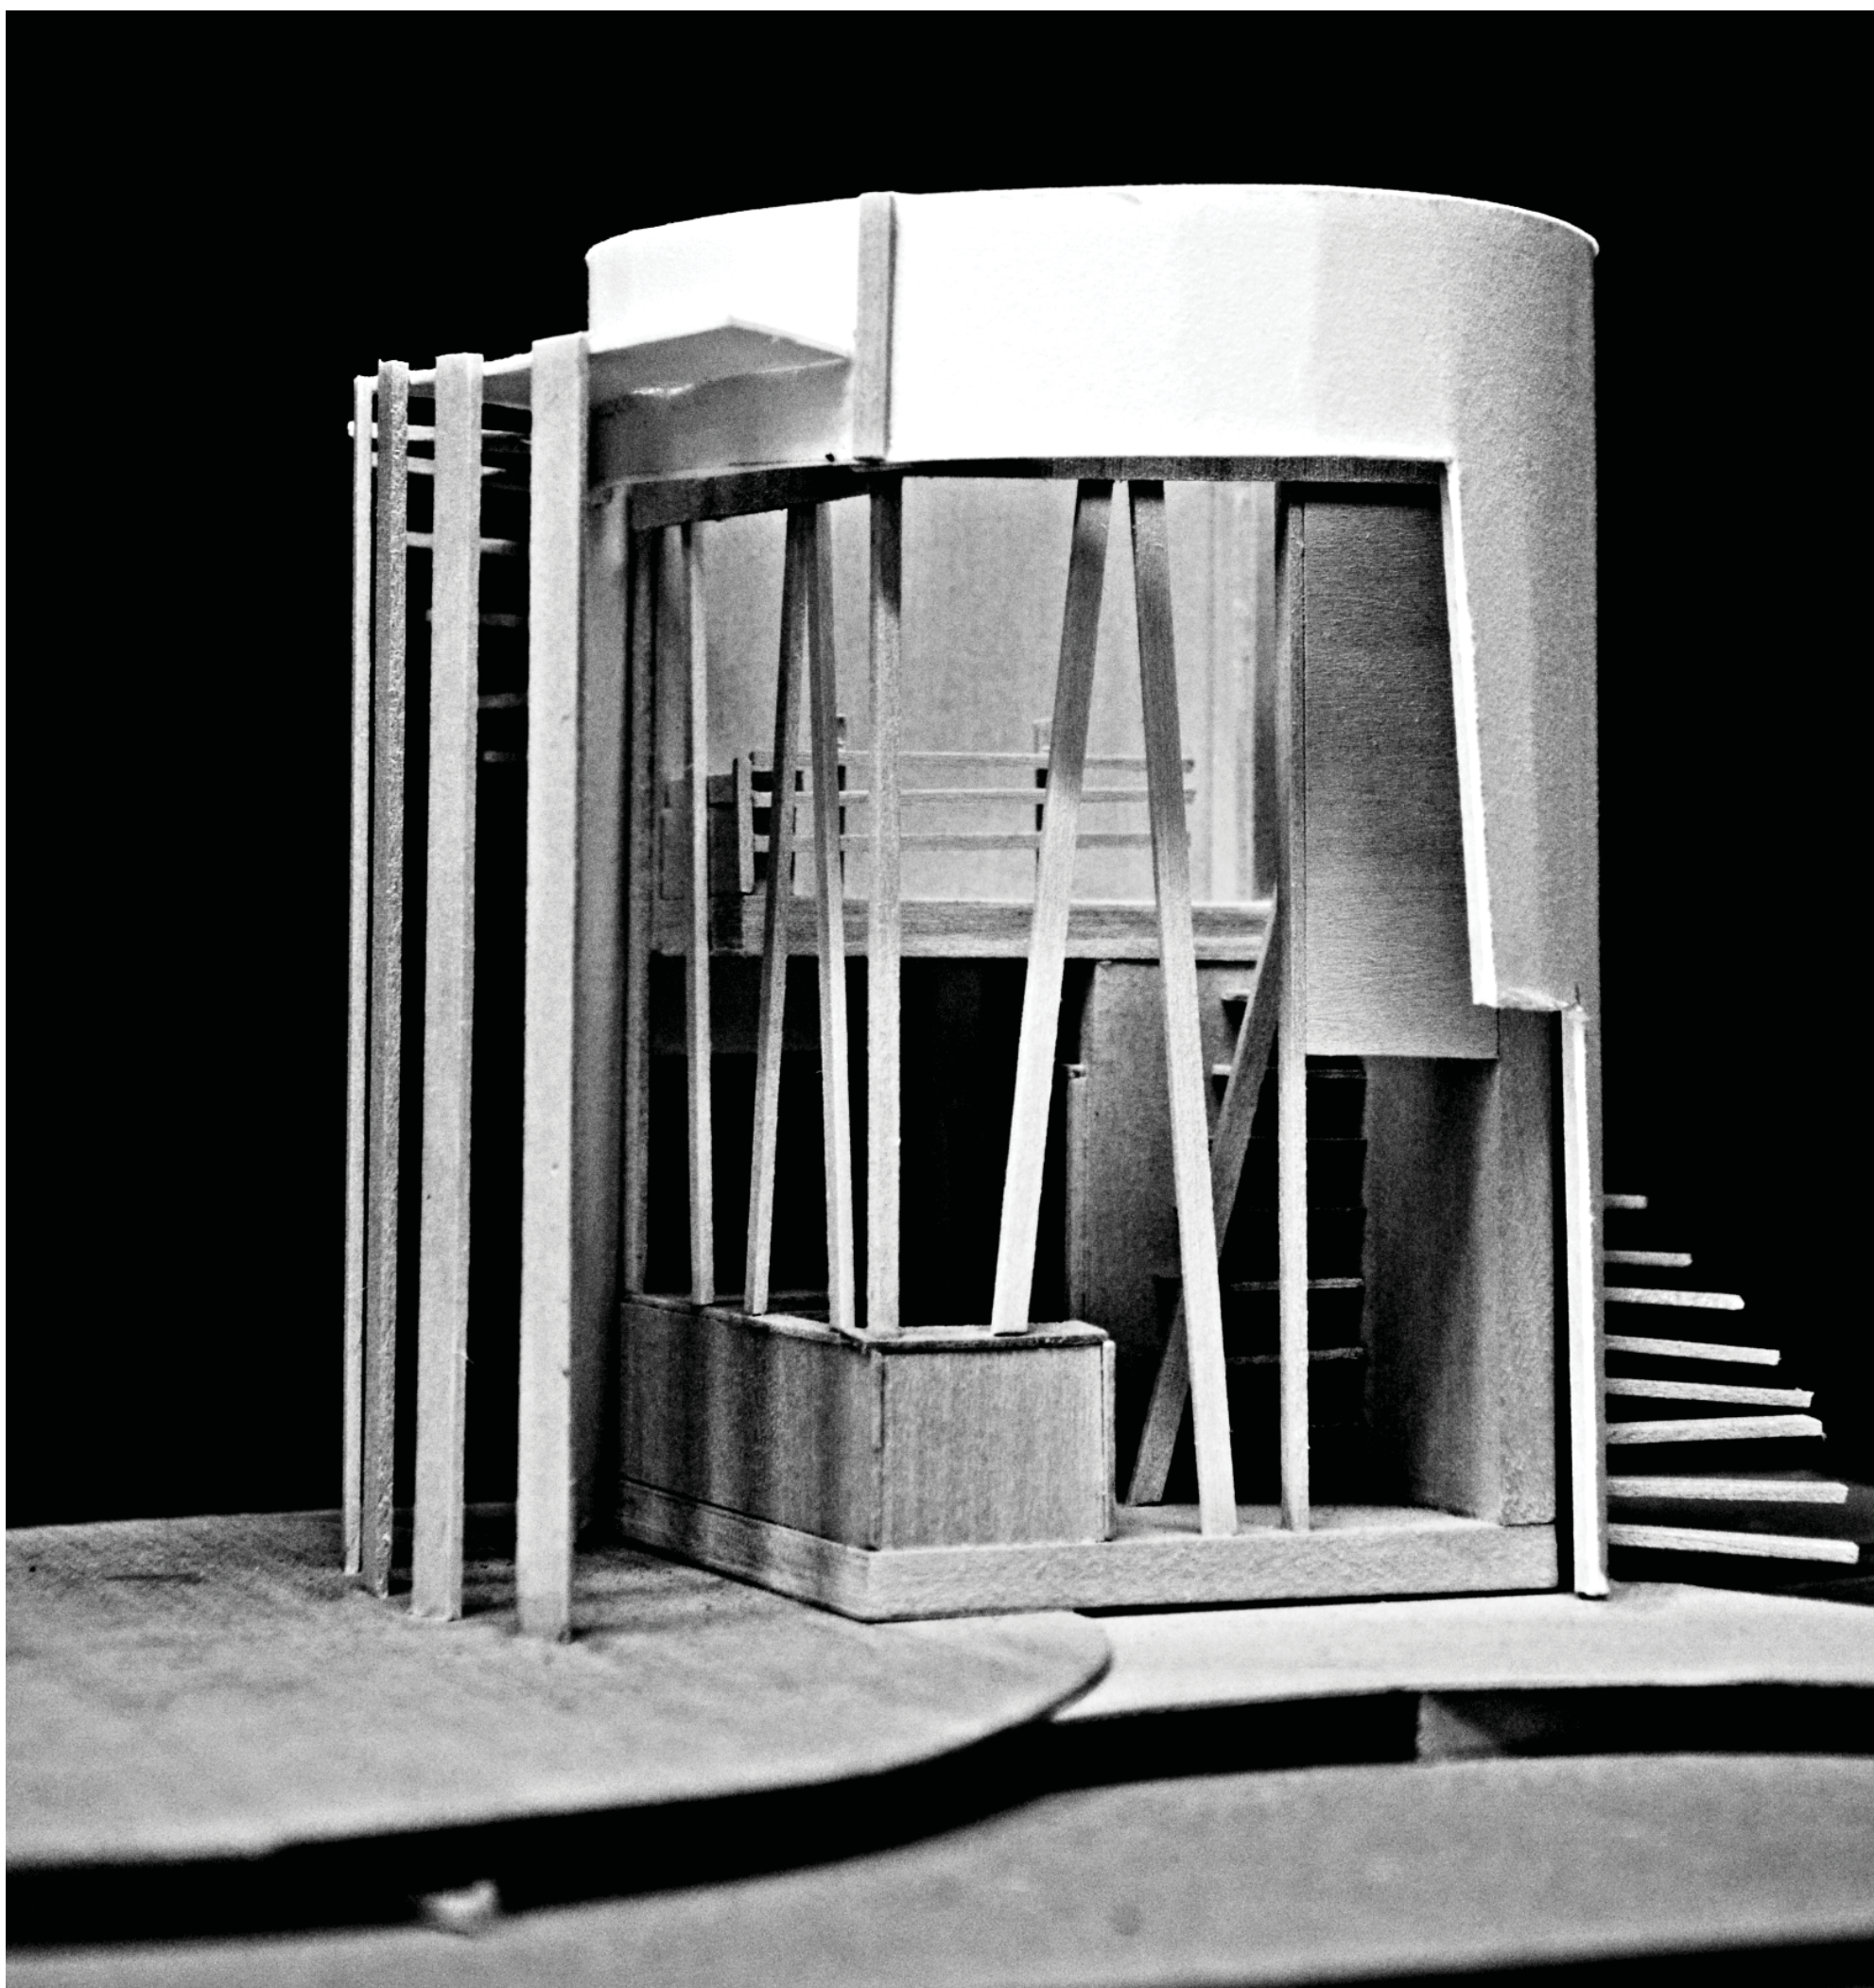

Section A

Stair/Bookshelf Detail

Section B

Renderings + Sketches

Living with the Environment

Approach Viewports

Landscape Sketches

