Dr. Rudd expressed his appreciation to the staff in Student Services, Financial Services, and Advising for the help they provided students during this past year.

The University held its first outdoor graduation at the Liberty Bowl after canceling previous graduations because of COVID-19. The University received excellent feedback from staff, students, and parents and is considering having future outdoor graduations. Dr. Rudd expressed his appreciation to Tammy Hedges, her team, and Dr. Weddle-West.

Dr. Rudd expressed his appreciation to Hilliard Crews and Crews Family Foundation for their donation, which is the largest single academic gift in University’s history to name the Crews School of Accountancy. Dr. Rudd thanked Joanna Curtis, her team, and Dean Damon Fleming in the Fogelman College of Business and Economics for their efforts. This gift will impact not only the School of Accountancy but also the Fogelman College of Business and Economics, and the University as a whole.

Dr. Rudd presented recommendations to the Board from the workgroups addressing race and social justice issues on the University’s campus and community. Dr. Rudd expressed his appreciation to the Student Government Association and the work they did with the workgroups. Dr. Rudd presented three naming recommendations to the Board for approval:

V. UPDATE OF LAMBUTH CAMPUS

Chairman North recognized Dean of Lambuth Campus, Dr. Niles Reddick. Dr. Reddick presented an update of the Lambuth Campus. The Lambuth Campus began operations on August 8, 2011 and there has been a 430% increase of students since that time. Currently, the Lambuth Campus has a budget of $9 million. There are 70 faculty members, with 30 of those faculty being part-time and there are 30 staff members.

Dr. Reddick presented Lambuth’s enrollment for the last three years. Despite the pandemic, the Lambuth Campus had a 20% increase in enrollment. The Lambuth Campus has 16 undergraduate programs, with the Nursing program being the largest. The Lambuth supported the research missions of the University of Memphis by opening the Center for Community Criminology Research, CAESAR-Center for Applied Earth Science and Engineering Research, and other University of Memphis sponsored events.
The Lambuth Campus has several Community Partnerships including, the Early Reporting Center, the Swim Club, the Madison Academic High School Athletics, and several others. There are also several registered student organizations. Dr. Reddick mentioned that Lambuth has several student engagement activities including, an art show through the museum in Memphis, a writer’s event, and a swim-in. There are several Student Academic Engagement activities including the University of Memphis Lambuth Undergraduate Research Symposium, which is led by faculty.

Student Activities representative Beth Ann Simpson manages the internships on the Lambuth Campus. Majority of the internships listed are led by faculty. There is also a UMRF Call Center that employs 75 students and has paid over $1 million in wages. The Lambuth Campus has several traditions including:

- The J.L. Williams gate ceremony
- Lambuth Alumni event called True Blue Day
- Lambuth Historical Preservation Committee

The Lambuth Campus has several development activities. Dr. Reddick presented a list of new scholarships in those academic areas including the Wes Henley Music Studio Gift for Internships, which was a studio gifted by Mr. Wes for the students to use as a recording studio. The Lambuth Campus is also having campus improvements completed. The Jacqueline Fleener Fountain was one of the improvements completed on the Lambuth Campus this year. All the improvements are an investment for $21 million by the State of Tennessee.

The Lambuth Campus plans to move toward a more health center campus in the future, offering various degrees in that field including a doctorate of physical therapy, working to offer doctorate of occupational therapy, doctorate of nursing practice, adding an accelerated Bachelor of Science in Nursing, and working with the hospital to increase the MSN-FNP. The Madison Academic High School is being built on the Lambuth Campus and a dual enrollment program is expected to be created this fall.

Dr. Reddick concluded his presentation. Chairman North open for questions or comments from the Board. Trustee Springfield applauded the work completed on the University of Memphis Lambuth Campus and what it means to the community of Jackson, TN, and alumni. Trustee Edwards commented on how excited he is about the health center campus transition the Lambuth Campus is making.

Chairman North commented that it is clear the Lambuth Campus is relevant and applauded the Lambuth staff for how relevant they have made the Lambuth Campus in the community. Dr. Rudd thanked Dean Reddick and his leadership and the city of Jackson, TN for their support of the Madison Academic High School.

VI. INCREASING GRADUATION RATES/CLOSING COMPLETION GAPS: CURRENT AND FUTURE PROGRAMS, STRATEGIES AND GOALS
Chairman North recognized Vice President of Student Academic Success, Dr. Karen Weddle-West and Provost, Dr. Tom Nenon. Dr. Weddle-West shared the success of increasing graduation rates and closing completion gaps.

To increasing graduation rates and close completed gaps the University must continue to enroll high populations of students. The University of Memphis had the highest enrollment than all the other institutions in Tennessee this past year and for the second year the University is the 2nd largest public University in Tennessee. While enrollment has grown, quality has been enhanced by higher GPAs, steady levels of ACTs, and a higher percentage of honor students. The Clearinghouse data is important to mention because it shows the students that enrolled at the University of Memphis and transferred to other Universities and those students that transferred from other Universities to the University of Memphis.

The University of Memphis saw an increase in the graduation rates from 2008 through 2020. Programs that helped the University get to those high graduation rates include:

- Complete to Compete Initiative
- The consolidation of Academic Affairs and Student Affairs
- Employing Predictive Analytics
- Enhanced Early Alerts
- Student Academic Success Center created
- Center for Athletic Academic Services
- Office of First-Generation Student Success
- Parent and Family Services program
- Dean of Students extended their services
- Student Success Teams

Completion Gaps have been closed because of the initiatives. The University is recognized for its ranking for undergraduate degrees for graduating African American students, law degrees, master’s programs, and for the enrollment of the largest percentage of high-achieving Lantix students in our district through the University’s Talented Tenth Induction Program. Retention rates have increased from first year to second year students, with 79.5% being the University’s second highest rate. Graduation gaps have been identified as being Pell related but the University has decreased the gap to 11% for historically underrepresented minorities, however the persistent Pell gap remains. Dr. Weddle-West presented information to show how important it is to close completion gaps financially related to the Memphis Advantage Scholarship. Student who received the $4,000 scholarship graduated African American students at 68.1% this past summer, which is the highest percentage the University has had, compared to the 42.1% of students that did not receive the scholarship. The University’s Finish Line Program continues to have a major impact on closing completion gaps and increasing rates of historically underrepresented populations with 745 graduates. The Talented Tenth program is the University’s major recruiter that allows the University to bring in the top 10% from the surrounding areas to induct them early.
Summer enrollment increased at the University with the implementation of the 3+3 program and financial opportunities to help the Pell students. Now that the University has moved virtually, 24/7 free online tutoring has increased with student involvement. The African American Male Academy has seen involvement from the 13-year-old boys that are part of the middle school virtually on Saturday. Dr. Weddle-West thanked the donors for providing tablets, and Trustee Johnson and Trustee Ellison for their involvement. The African American Academy graduated 274 African American males in Fall 2020. UofM Global continues to help increase graduation rates. The psycho-social program for Academic Coaching for Excellence continues to provide incentives and instruction that the University's low-income and underrepresented population needs. Dr. Weddle-West mentioned again the purpose of the Eradicating Systemic Racism and Promoting Social Justice Initiative, which is to focus on increasing rates and closing gaps.

The next steps the University is taking to increase graduation rates and close completion gaps include:

- Creating a model for a Culture of Student Academic Success by measuring risk
- Just-In-Time Initiatives
- Registration Incentives
- Micro-Grants
- Three Year Graduation Plan
- Future Practices through the Dean of Students Office
- Creation of the endow Completion Scholarship for the African American Male Academy
- Bruns Scholarship Challenge Fund
- Springfield First Generation Scholarship
- Towler, Cheng, Searcy Family Completion Scholarship

Chairman North commented that the presentation showed that Dr. Weddle-West is working every aspect to achieve the results that the University has shown. Dr. Nenon acknowledged the work the Office of Institutional Research completes and thanked Dr. Weddle-West for her work.

Chairman North opened for questions or comments from the Trustees. Trustees offered comments about the efforts and work being completed by the University.

No other comments were provided.

VII. MEMPHIS ATHLETICS UMADE WORKGROUP PROGRESS

Chairman North recognized Athletic Director Laird Veatch and Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Welfare, Marlon Dechausay.

Mr. Veatch offered comments about Mr. Dechausay and introduced him. Mr. Veatch also provided some background information about the workgroup. Athletics wants this to be sustainable and an ongoing part of their culture. Athletics intentionally engaged the student athletes and staff in the process.

Mr. Veatch introduced Mr. Dechausay to present the UMADE Workgroup Progress. In June after the George Floyd incident, Athletics wanted to check on their student athletes and staff. A series of high-level engagement was conducted virtually with the athletics staff, minority staff, and student athletes and surveys were sent as well.

A core group of 11 people including coaches, student-athletes, staff, and external partners was created. The group met every week for 5 to 6 weeks to review the surveys and provide an outline of the priority action items.

Actions completed this summer for the student-athletes were:

- Voter education and registration
- Unity Walks
- Black Lives Matter Helmet Sticker this season

Some national representation for the Athletics’ department were:

- The appointment of the NCAA Athletic Diversity and Inclusion Designee. Mr. Dechausay serves in that role.
- Mr. Veatch American’s Racial Equality Action Group along with two student-athletes
- In September 2020, Mr. Dechausay was selected to serve on the LEAD1 Diversity and Inclusion Working Group.

From the surveys, themes and priorities were created and will be used as the pillars for the year. The Pillars are:

- Diversity and inclusion: athletics wanted to see more representation within the athletics department and coaches but evaluation how to attract more diverse candidates.
- Training and Education: having mandatory diversity training and the creation of a UMADE resource website.
- Promotion and Visibility: part of this pillar is the creation of the equality logo and athletics honoring the first African American Athletes in all sports next year.
- Communication and Accountability: improving communication.

The Equality Logo was unveiled during the presentation. The logo will be worn as patches on Athletic uniforms and game day apparel. The patch represents diversity, respect, and the Memphis State Eight. A video was presented from Student Athletes about what they feel equality, dignity, and respect means to them.

Chairman North asked if there were any question or comments. Trustees offered comments and applauded the work the UMADE workgroup has done.

  a. President Rudd, administrators, faculty, staff, students, legislators, alumni and family participated in the marker ceremony, December 14, 2021 (per Board of Trustees approval on December 2).

Marker Copy:

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Wellesley College, later earning her MA and PhD degrees from Johns Hopkins University, Miriam DeCosta Sugarmon was denied entrance to then Memphis State University in 1957. In 1966, she became the first Black professor at the University where she taught Spanish, was the advisor to the Black Student Association, and helped organize the Faculty Forum.

Assessment Plan

Assessment Strategies

- A 3-phase rubric is used for all 14 working groups to standardize assessment activities across teams with disparate goals and strategies, and plan for scheduled measurements of the status of progress towards strategies. Teams have identified strategies, metrics, and benchmarks to monitor progress during the three phases using SMART goals: Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, Time-Bound.

- Successful initiative assessment requires centralized communication, collaboration, and ongoing assessment of progress towards goals throughout the lifecycle of the initiative. This includes collaboration with the Office of Institutional Research, outsourcing qualitative analysis to the Center for Research in Education Policy and adequately staffing key offices that provide DEI programming and conduct assessments.

Presentation: Presidential Review and Evaluation (Policy Change, SACSCOC Requirements and Timeline)

Presented by: Raaj Kurapati, Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Background:

Based on the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) requirements, the Board of Trustees (BOT) had previously approved the Presidential Review and Evaluation Policy indicating that the President’s evaluation would be discussed annually during the September BOT meeting. To align the President’s evaluation with the period being evaluated (fiscal year basis), the proposal is to make a minor revision to the policy so that the President’s evaluation is discussed during the June BOT meeting instead of the September BOT meeting. A copy of the proposed policy changes is included in the Board materials.

Additionally, this presentation will detail the SACSCOC requirements regarding the President’s performance assessment and how the University will comply as well as provide the timeline for completion.

Committee Recommendation:

The Governance and Finance Committee recommends approval of the changes to the Presidential Review and Evaluation Policy as presented in the meeting materials.
