

For available facilities and equipment available on campus, use memphis.edu/research/facilities/

Facilities

Equipment

Other Resources

Human Resources: The University of Memphis Earth Science department will support academic year allocation of investigators' research effort to this project at a level sufficient to ensure the success of the proposed project. In addition, administrative and project management related responsibilities associated with this project will be supported by the Department of Earth Science's full-time business manager, as well as the University's full time professional staff of Grants and Contracts Accountants and Sponsored Research Administrators. Human resources committed to this project as described in the budget justification include: Dr. [lead PI], PI, total of [total person months] per year; [include all personnel in this list and their person months].

Include substantial collaboration with individuals not included in the budget