Policies

We do not allow food inside the museum, but there is a small picnic area outside where you are welcome to eat lunch. Nearby T.O. Fuller Park has larger picnic areas and playgrounds available with advance notice. You can contact their office at (901) 543-7581.

In the event of inclement weather, the outdoor portion of the tour may be replaced with an indoor activity.

Thank you for your interest in the C.H. Nash Museum at Chucalissa.

We book visits for groups of all ages, and we would love to host you! This packet contains general field trip information and choices for tailoring programming and crafts to your students' educational needs.

A typical 2-hour visit includes:

- A scavenger hunt in the main exhibit hall
- An outdoor tour of the village site
- A trip to the hands-on archaeology lab
- An educational program and craft of your choosing (see the following pages for choices)

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM OFFERINGS

All programs begin with a brief lesson followed by a hands-on activity where students are given the opportunity to handle Native American artifacts.

Native American Music examines the different ways that people use music around the world and discusses how prehistoric people made their musical instruments.

- Activity: drum circle, interactive storytelling, or snake dance
- Recommended for all grades

Native American Sports & Hunting introduces students to pre-historic games and hunting techniques.

- Activity: Chunky and spear throwing with atlatls
- Recommended for all grades

Mystery Box is a crash course in Archaeology. Students learn to differentiate between history and prehistory, identify common types of artifacts, and think about what they are leaving behind for future generations.

- Activity: artifact analysis
- Recommended for 3rd grade and above

Trash Talks focuses on why archaeology is important. Students discuss what can be learned by studying things left behind by past peoples and discover what can be learned from the things we throw away today.

- Activity: hunt for clues of the past and present
- Recommended for 4th grade and above

Prehistoric Stone Tools & Weapons considers why the archaeological record is incomplete and explains how archaeologists learn about prehistoric artifacts.

- Activity: examine a prehistoric tool kit
- Recommended for 5th grade and above

Prehistory to Trail of Tears is a lecture that covers Native American history from 10,000 years ago through contact with European colonists.

- Activity: examine primary sources documenting the Trail of Tears
- Recommended for 4th grade and above

We are happy to customize programs!

Contact us to discuss scheduling a program to meet specific state standards or for a group outside the recommended grade level.

EDUCATIONAL CRAFT OFFERINGS

Coloring Books

Students color illustrations of the Chucalissa village and people. No additional cost.

Simple Beading

Students learn about the meaning of each color in Mississippian culture and then string beads onto yarn, using the different colors to create a story. No additional cost.

Talking Sticks

Talking Sticks were used to teach Native American children to be respectful of others and take turns when speaking in a group. Students will make their own talking stick from popsicle sticks, feathers, string, markers, and googly-eyes. No additional cost.

Pottery

We offer two versions of this craft. Students can either learn prehistoric techniques for crafting a pot and make a pinch pot of their own or focus on pottery remains in the archaeological record and make a pot sherd (ideal if choosing one of the archaeology programs). Additional cost of $1.00 per student.

Snake Painting

Students learn about the important role that snakes played in Mississippian mythology and paint a wooden snake to take home. Additional cost of $2.00 per student.

OPTIONAL ADD-ONS

Please inquire to learn more about adding these to your visit:

Storytelling Videos explore the history of contemporary lives of Native Americans of the Mid-South. We offer a variety of videos that range in grade levels and in length from 8 minutes to 55 minutes.

Grab Bags give something for students to take home after they tour the museum. Individual items range from $0.50-$2.00 per student. Please order grab bags at least two weeks in advance.
