

Teaching Portfolios and the John Angus Campbell Award 2017-8

Key Dates

10/20/2018	Workshop: The Basics of the Teaching Portfolio
3/26/2018	Final due date for submitting Teaching Portfolio to advisors
4/2/2018	Final due date for advisors to submit nominations to Campbell Award committee

Basic Eligibility Requirements

(Advisors should confirm an advisee's basic eligibility before nominating her/him for the award)

Student is currently teaching in the Department of Communication.

MA	1. Student is in the second consecutive semester of teaching (excluding summer) or beyond. 2. Student must have a minimum GPA of 3.50.
PhD	1. Student has taught for two consecutive semesters (excluding summer) and is in her/his third semester of teaching or beyond. 2. Student must have a minimum GPA of 3.75.

Rules and Procedures

- 1. All teaching assistants must develop and maintain a teaching portfolio. Faculty advisors will nominate graduate students for the award based on a review of their advisee(s) portfolio and a teaching observation. For advisors with multiple advisees, the teaching observation may be handled by another faculty member.
- No student may receive the award two years in a row. However, if a student has received the award s/he may be nominated again after a one-year hiatus.
- Selection of the award winner will be based on the following basic criteria: a. statement of teaching philosophy; b. teaching observation; c. SETE scores; d. breadth of teaching experience; e. overall quality of the portfolio presentation.
- The committee will provide each nominee with an evaluation of his/her portfolio.
- The committee chair will nominate outstanding department award winners for the university graduate teaching award in the subsequent year.