

AAC Workshop

When: Tuesdays and Thursdays,
June 13-29, 2017;
8:30 a.m. to noon
Meets one evening per month in the Fall term

Where: School of Communication
Sciences & Disorders, UofM Park
Ave. Campus, 4055 N Park Loop

Facilitator: Vicki Haddix, M.S., CCC-SLP

Apply for this year's class by May 15.

This workshop will have 10 meetings and an online component. It is designed for professional SLPs and certified teachers working with children and young adults with complex communication needs. Participants will have opportunities to:

- explore devices/iPad apps
- role play evidence-based teaching practices
- complete projects involving their current caseload
- learn AAC assessment techniques

Ongoing support will be offered to participants in the fall term as they put their new skills into practice at work. This course offers up to 3.05 ASHA CEUs (Intermediate level, Professional area). A minimum of five sessions must be attended to get any ASHA CEUs.

Vicki Haddix joined the UofM as a Clinical Professor in the School of Communication Sciences & Disorders in 2015. She worked for 10 years in Boston Public Schools, the last 5 coordinating AAC services in the district. She has presented on AAC at numerous conferences, including ASHA, ATIA and ISAAC.

Speaker Disclosure:

Financial—Employee of the University of Memphis

Nonfinancial— No relevant nonfinancial relationship exists.

The NSSLHA Chapter at the University of Memphis is approved by the Continuing Education Board of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) to provide continuing education activities in speech-language pathology and audiology. See course information for number of ASHA CEUs, instructional level and content area. ASHA CE Provider approval does not imply endorsement of course content, specific products or clinical procedures.

Driven by doing.