

Ancient Egyptian Detective

The Egyptian exhibit contains evidence of different aspects of the daily lives of the ancient Egyptians. By careful detective work, using your own powers of observation and the information you read in the exhibit, can you solve the puzzles below?

What Animal Is It?

_____ I am an animal that lives in the waters of the Nile River.

_____ I am an animal that flies in the sky. What animal am I?

_____ I am sometimes called the "king of beasts," in this exhibit,
I am resting comfortably on my side, what animal am I?

Find the Objects

_____ I am used by men and women to ride on the Nile River.
What am I?

_____ I am used to shape stone and wood. What am I?

_____ In ancient times men and women wore me on their hand.
What am I?

Dinner in Ancient Egypt

The ancient Egyptians ate many different foods. They had meats, fruits, vegetables, breads, and even sweets. Look through the exhibit and see if you can find the examples of either the real foodstuffs or pictures or models of foods listed below. When you find it, write the museum number beside the name below.

_____ Bread

_____ Goose or duck

_____ Cucumber or squash

_____ Grapes or figs