

ENGL-3606-001: Poetry Writing

ENGL

3606 is an introductory class for anyone who wants to learn more about writing and reading poetry. Students will learn the conventions of the genre through close reading, analysis, creative practice, and constructive critique, studying canonical and contemporary selections of poetry to analyze the use of style, structure, and figurative language. The semester will end with a portfolio of revised original work that is finely crafted and compelling. Attentive reading, writing, and participation are crucial to success in the course. All are welcome.