

ENGL7/8590 FALL 2021

LANGUAGE, RACE, & IDENTITY

INSTRUCTOR: DR. LYN WRIGHT

TIME: W 1-4 PM

This class examines how language constructs race and race shapes language from socio- and applied linguistic perspectives.

We will consider variationist and linguistic anthropological approaches to dialect studies, intersections of racial identity with bi- and multilingualism, and anti-racism in TESOL and applied linguistics, among other topics. Students will have the opportunity to pursue a research project on a related topic of their choice.
