

THE UNIVERSITY OF MEMPHIS
ENGL 4605: FORMS OF FICTION:
FAIRY TALE RETELLINGS

Professor: Eric Schlich
Office: Patterson 447

Email: bschlich@memphis.edu
Class: MW 12:40-2:05

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This forms class will study foundational fairy tales by the Brothers Grimm, Charles Perrault, and Hans Christian Andersen as sources of inspiration for new original fiction. Students will write an analysis of a fairy tale of their choosing, present on a fairy tale retelling from the anthology, complete fairy tale exercises, and expand one exercise into a full story draft to be workshopped and revised.

REQUIRED TEXTS

Bernheimer, Kate, ed. My Mother She Killed Me, My Father He Ate Me: Forty New Fairy Tales. New York: Penguin, 2010.