

ENGL 4/6618

Dr. Chloe Robertson

Online

Document Design

ENGL 4/6618 takes a theoretical approach towards visual and written communication, honoring the interrelationship between visual and verbal elements present in documentation. In other words, we will interrogate how documents are designed to be both visually and verbally appealing for audiences while conveying the necessary information clearly and artfully. We will then apply what we have learned to create our own documents, practicing what it means to be thoughtful authors and designers in solo and collaborative settings.