COLLABORATIVE WRITING

English
7/8818

Instructor:
W.Duffy

This course is structured as a blended seminar and workshop. We will read and engage texts on the theory, history, and teaching of collaborative writing, especially in the context of writing instruction. But we will also pursue collaborative writing in practice, testing approaches to its production, adaptation, and facilitation. In this way this course might best be framed as a practicum in coauthorship.
