

BLACK SPECULATIVE FICTION: AFROFUTURISM

Afrofuturism is social, political, and artistic movement that encourages Blacks across the Diaspora to re-imagine the world as one where people of African descent and their cultures are central to the creation of the world.

In this course we will be examining Afrofuturism as a literary movement and as an artistic space that encourages and/or demands that readers engage with ideas and concepts that are uncomfortable and push them to open up to new possibilities and to the inevitability of change.
