

Communications Intern

About the Freedom Project Network

The Freedom Project Network (FPN) is a Mississippi-based collective of youth leadership organizations called "Freedom Projects." Drawing inspiration from Mississippi's 1964 Freedom Schools, the Freedom Projects – located in Sunflower, Meridian, and Rosedale, Mississippi – build community and power alongside young Mississippians by facilitating year-round, holistic and liberatory educational experiences.

About the Role

Reporting to the FPN Executive Director, you will support our internal and external communication efforts by creating and distributing content, managing social media and websites, and media relations and event promotion

Responsibilities

1. Tell the story of the Freedom Project in a compelling way through external communications
2. Create eye-catching posts for our Instagram, Facebook and newsletter
3. Create visual materials such as flyers, graphics, and infographics for marketing and communications

Growth and Development

We have a culture of constant learning and we invest in developing our people. You'll have weekly check-ins with your manager, access to mentorship and coaching, and regular feedback on your performance.

Qualifications

Candidates who fit the following criteria are encouraged to apply:

- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Proficiency with social media platforms and content engagement systems
- Ability to create visual content using graphic design tools (preferred)
- Enrollment in a communications, journalism, English or related field

Start Date

As soon as possible

Job Location and Hours

- Remote, with some site visits according to your school's schedule

Paid Internship

You will be eligible to earn a stipend through the University of Memphis's internship program.

Application Deadline

We hire on a rolling basis which means that applications are reviewed and processed on a continuous basis until a hire is made. Please email your resume to latoysha.brown@freedomprojectnetwork.org.

We are committed to equal employment opportunities regardless of race, color, ancestry, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, marital status, disability, gender, gender identity or expression. We are proud to be an equal opportunity workplace.
