

Undergraduate Journal

of Service Learning & Community-Based Research

The editorial team seeks submissions from undergraduates for Volume 4 of Undergraduate Journal of Service Learning and Community-Based Research, a refereed, multi-disciplinary, online undergraduate journal open to all undergraduate students in the U.S. and across the globe.

The journal is dedicated to publishing the intellectual and reflective work by undergraduates on service learning, community-based research, and all related curriculum- and/or research-based public community engagement activities. The editorial team of Undergraduate Journal of Service Learning and Community-Based Research encourages undergraduates to pursue their own intellectual projects and to join the academic conversation. The journal will publish undergraduate research that advances knowledge in service learning, community-based research, and all related curriculum- and/or research-based public community engagement activities. All manuscripts will go through a review process.

We invite submissions in six categories:

- Reflective Essay
- Analytical Essay
- Research done in partnership with a community organization in the form given to that organization, accompanied by a short, reflective essay
- Research Articles
- Open Category
- Responses to previously published articles

For detailed information about the Journal's content and submission guidelines, please see our website at <http://www.bk.psu.edu/Academics/journal.htm>. Please review all web pages related to the Journal (Submission Guidelines, Categories for Submission, Review Process and Research Ethics) before submitting your work or sending inquiries to the editor.

Submissions for Volume 4 will be accepted from April 1, 2015 through June 1, 2015.

Please direct all inquiries and questions to the editor, Jill K. Burk, at jkb20@psu.edu.
