

Scott Wilson
Customer Experience Principal
FedEx Corporate

Scott Wilson is a Customer Experience Principal at FedEx Corporate. He holds a B.S. in Organizational Management from Crichton College and an Executive MBA from the University of Memphis. Prior to joining FedEx, Scott was the Director of Marketing and Communications for The Urban Child Institute. He is also a marketing and business strategy consultant for small and medium businesses.

Before FedEx and The Urban Child Institute, Scott owned and operated several businesses and worked more than 13 years in management positions at FedEx Express. Married with three children, Scott is a native Memphian and, though he has lived and worked in several cities around the Southeast, he is glad to be home for good.