

June 2023

Dr. Subhash Jha and PhD Student Research Recognized

Associate Professor of Management Dr. Subhash Jha and his doctoral student, Della Garner, were recognized for their haptic research as Emerging Fellows by The Academic Advisory Council for Signage Research and Education. This program rewards and supports scholars researching innovative ideas in signage.

Dr. Subhash Jha

Dr. Kurt Kraiger Featured by Wallethub

Department Chair of Management and Interim Associate Dean, Dr. Kurt Kraiger, was featured in WalletHub's recent article about the Best Entry Level Jobs. To read more about Dr. Kraiger's findings, click here.

Dr. Kurt Kraiger

Management Professors Secure Grant from National Science Foundation

Drs. Alex Lindsey, Jessica Kirk and Kristen Jones, from the Department of Management, have received a Science of Organizations (SoO) grant from the National Science Foundation (NSF) to design an intervention that will train organizational leaders to cultivate working environments that are especially conducive to enhancing the psychological safety of racial minority women employees at work. This grant is significant because it demonstrates the success of FCBE's seed grant program and aligns with the university's goals of maintaining Carnegie R1 status as well as the mission of the Center for Workplace Diversity and Inclusion (CWDI).

Dr. Kathy Tuberville Receives SHRM 2023 Student Chapter Advisor Impact Award

Dr. Kathy Tuberville, associate professor of teaching in the Department of Management, recently received the 2023 Student Chapter Advisor Impact Award from the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) for having made a positive impact in the life of one or more student members. There is only one such award given each year and over 270 chapters nation-wide. To read more about Dr. Tuberville's recognition, click here.

Dr. Kathy Tuberville

Former Economics PhD Student Named SNHU Business School Dean

Former Economics PhD student, Dr. Diego Nocetti, was recently named Dean of the Business School at Southern New Hampshire University. He has had an impressive career as an economic theorist and is continuing to make FCBE proud. To read more about Dr. Nocetti's appointment, click here.

Follow Us on Social @uofmfogelman

