

Contracting for Business Honors credit allows the student to earn Honors credit in a regular section of a course by incorporating an Honors component. Students may earn Business Honors credit by contracting a course in the upper division business core or in an upper division course that is required for the student's major.

Faculty members or full-time instructors may supervise a contract. A minimum grade of "B" must be earned in the course to receive Honors credit. Business students may contract up to three courses for Business Honors credit.

The student will work with the faculty member or instructor to discuss the Honors component of the course and then complete the contract. The student is responsible for obtaining the necessary signatures and delivering the contract to Dr. Tankersley no later than the second week of the semester. The instructor must notify Dr. Tankersley at the end of the semester that the student has or has not fulfilled the honors requirement for this class.

The student may also use the contracted Business Honors course to contract for University Honors.
