

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS APPEAL (SPA)

Eligibility for student financial aid is determined, in part, by the student's ability to meet the following Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) standards:

- GPA Standard – 2.0 cumulative GPA for Undergraduate and Law students; 3.0 cumulative GPA for Graduate students.
- Pace of Progression Standard – Complete 67% of all credit hours attempted.
- Maximum Timeframe Standard. Credit hours for completion of degree must not exceed 150% of academic program requirements. Undergraduate students – Must attempt fewer than 180 credit hours before receiving degree. Graduate or Law students - Determined by the degree completion requirements listed for the academic program in the Graduate or Law Bulletin. Note: Those who failed the maximum timeframe standard will also need to submit a Graduation Plan signed by an approved graduation analyst. The form and list of analysts can be found on our website at <http://www.memphis.edu/financialaid/pdfs/gradplan.pdf>.
- Academic Plan. Students on Financial Aid Probation, after having an appeal approved, must comply with conditions outlined in the Academic Plan based on the SAP standard failed. Most academic plans require no grades of F, W, or I (incomplete) during the probationary semester(s), and a minimum semester GPA of 2.1 for Undergraduate, 3.1 for Graduate or 2.1 for Law school students.

Because you have failed one or more of these standards, Federal regulations state that you cannot be awarded financial aid without documenting the reason you were unable to make SAP, and giving evidence of how that situation has changed so that you can make SAP in future semesters. Students may have a maximum of three (3) satisfactory academic progress appeals during their academic career at the University of Memphis.

Appeal forms submitted without supporting documentation will be denied. Information submitted to the Financial Aid Office is covered under Federal privacy laws and will not be shared with those who do not have the need or authorization to view.

The deadline to submit an appeal to receive aid is the posted last day to withdraw from full-term classes for that semester.
