

Academic Awards for 2022

College of Health Sciences

Name of Award:	The Melvin A. Humphreys Prize for Student Research
Total Award Amount:	$500 (amount may vary annually depending upon available funds)
Number of Awards:	One (unless determined otherwise by the adjudicating committee)
Award Committee:	Composed of CHS Graduate Council members with the CHS Graduate Director acting as committee chair
Eligibility Guidelines:	Undergraduate or graduate student pursuing an academic major in the College of Health Sciences who is either currently enrolled or who has graduated within one year (May 2021) prior to the award's application deadline.
Award Criterion:	One prize is awarded based on the best, first-authored scholarly product presented (or accepted for presentation) and/or published (or accepted for publication) in an academic/professional forum within one year preceding the award's application deadline.
Application Process:	Applicants must electronically submit the following to the Director of Academic Programs, College of Health Sciences, lweiss@memphis.edu with Humphreys Prize Submission in the subject line.

- brief award-consideration cover letter
- electronic copy of the scholarly work being considered
- electronic copy of evidence that the work has been presented (or accepted for presentation) and/or published (or accepted for publication) in an academic/professional forum by the application deadline

Application Deadline: Friday, March 18, 2022

Award Notification: Will be made by The University of Memphis Scholarship Office.

For More Information: Please contact:
Dr. Lawrence Weiss
Director of Academic Programs
College of Health Sciences
The University of Memphis
e-mail: lweiss@memphis.edu