NEW QUIZZES ANONYMOUS GRADING

Anonymous Grading

☐ Graders cannot view student names
Once enabled for New Quizzes, anonymous grading will not be able to be toggled off.

In New Quizzes, instructors can enable Anonymous Grading. This update helps reduce the perception of bias in the classroom by allowing instructors to assess manually-graded questions anonymously. When creating or editing a New Quiz and the Anonymous Grading feature option is enabled, instructors can select the Anonymous Grading check box.

Note: Once enabled, Anonymous Grading cannot be disabled for a New Quiz.

The screenshot shows a quiz results page for a student named 'Nash'. The results show a score of 40% (2 out of 5 points) and a time of 01:28. The quiz questions are visible, and the student's answers are shown. The 'Anonymous Grading' feature is highlighted with a red box and an arrow.

In the Moderate page, student quiz details are hidden when Anonymous Grading is enabled. Additionally, the Manage Current Attempt section in the individual student mode is hidden. In Speed Grader, student names and grades are hidden by default.

Note: When posting grades for anonymous New Quizzes, grades are posted for everyone in the course, and anonymity is removed.
