

Entrepreneurial Journalism

Jour 7100.M50

Fall 2012

5:30 – 8:30/Monday/ONLINE <http://ummeet.adobeconnect.com/j7100/>

Professor: Dr. Carrie Brown-Smith

Office: Meeman 314

Office Hours: Thursday 3- 5 And By Appointment. I am available most afternoons, just email/text to set up a time. Can also “meet” virtually via Google+, AOL Instant Messenger, Skype etc.

Phone: 202-251-5719 (call or text)

Email: cbrown14@memphis.edu or carrielisabrown@gmail.com

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

CATALOGUE/COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course, Entrepreneurial Journalism & Media Management, will examine business models and new media tools that can encourage entrepreneurial thinking and planning in various fields of mass communication, as well as the theory and practices of traditional media management. Subjects will include assessment, organization and strategy, budgeting, decision-making, and other functions in advertising, news, and public relations.

COURSE OBJECTIVE:

Michelle Ferrier, Elon University: I want my students to able to dance with the uncertainties in the field. To be flexible and creative, because we know they will have multiple jobs in their lifetime.

The goal of this course is to better prepare students for entering a tumultuous media environment by fostering an understanding of business dynamics and opportunities in media industries in the context of digital disruption. Students will get a basic grounding in the skills and knowledge they would need to not only potentially start their own businesses, but also to bring entrepreneurial, innovative thinking into legacy organizations. This course will examine a variety of emerging and traditional business models and discuss how to leverage digital media tools. Students will learn also learn about organizational culture and leadership and barriers to change efforts in existing organizations and possible strategies for overcoming those issues.

PREREQUISITE:

None. Must be graduate or law student.

TEXTBOOKS:

Briggs, Mark. (2011). Entrepreneurial Journalism: How to Build What’s Next for News [ISBN: 978-1-60871-420-9].

CLASSROOM FORMAT:

Lecture and discussion.

GRADING:

Business plan/pitch (will work with team)	50%
Class blog posts/short papers	30%
Attendance and participation	20%

BUSINESS PLAN/PITCH:

All semester you will be working with a team to develop a business plan and a pitch to potential investors. On the last day of class, you will do a team presentation with a pitch deck (10-minute time limit). In addition to the written business plan, each person will submit a final memo outlining your contributions to the group and reflecting on what you learned from the experience. Grade will be based on the following: Has the plan been well-researched? Has the team identified and addressed key questions and challenges and, like an entrepreneur, adjusted nimbly? Did the team present the plan clearly and engagingly?

CLASS BLOG POSTS/SHORT PAPERS:

We will be maintaining a class blog throughout the semester that chronicles what we are learning, reading and doing. Throughout the semester you may be asked to write short class blog posts or leave comments on the blog reflecting on readings, analyzing specific topics or other specific assignments. We will also regularly use the hashtag #jpreneur on Twitter to chronicle our experiences.

Two of these assignments you should start planning for immediately:

- Class blog post describing the entrepreneurial scene in your community. What kinds of support systems or resources for new businesses exist in your area? Is there an accelerator or incubator or similar organization in town? Where could you go to network and learn more about entrepreneurship? Start with some basic online searches; you could call some people up and interview them to learn more. DUE SEPTEMBER 10
- Each of you should plan on attending some kind of event in your local community related to entrepreneurship and/or technology. You will write a class blog post describing that event and what you learned, preferably with some kind of multimedia element, such as photo or video. DUE BY LAST DAY OF CLASS

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION:

This is a graduate seminar. You are expected not only to read the material before class, but also be prepared to discuss it. Remember you are not an undergraduate anymore, Toto. The days of you just passively listening to your professor drone on are over while taking notes so you can regurgitate the material are over. You need to be actively engaged in your own learning process. Participation is not only verbal in-class but also in the form of comments and other online forums.

TENTATIVE TIMETABLE:

Week One – August 27

Intro to the class, go over syllabus

Watch in class: Entrepreneurial Advice from the Experts

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DKgwG1zLKL&feature=youtube_gdata_player

Do: Before next class: Watch Page One movie. Live tweet lessons learned or observations using the #jpreneur hashtag

Work on assignment to survey the entrepreneurial landscape in your town, due September 10

Week Two – September 3

No Class, Labor Day

Week Three – September 10

Disruption – What is happening in media businesses today

Read: Briggs Chapter 1

C. Shirky: Newspapers and Thinking the Unthinkable

<http://www.shirky.com/weblog/2009/03/newspapers-and-thinking-the-unthinkable/>

Selection from Clayton Christensen Innovator's Dilemma TBA

Schawbel, D. Why students should gain entrepreneurial skills before graduating:

<http://techcrunch.com/2012/06/30/why-students-should-gain-entrepreneurship-experience-before-graduating/>

Do: Brief case study. Choose a traditional media organization in your town (or a favorite somewhere else). What has this organization's response been to the changing media landscape? If possible, interview somebody from that organization, and ask them what lessons they have learned as they work to adapt. If you can't score an interview, see what you can read about the organization's strategy or lack thereof online. What kinds of opportunities did they take...or miss... to grow audience or build new revenue? This does not have to be comprehensive, but will hopefully get you thinking. Due next class.

Week Four – September 17

Live stream/video – LaunchMemphis/SeedHatchery entrepreneurs speak to class

Organizational culture and organizational change: What you need to know about being an intrapreneur and making change from within

Read:

Briggs Chapter 2: Get Inspired by Success

Selection from E. Schein Organizational Culture and Leadership TBA

Do: Prep a brief class presentation for next week on a new, innovative media startup you admire.

What have they done well? What kinds of attitudes or techniques might you adopt from them?

How did they define and meet a previously unmet need? Think like a business person as well as an audience member – where is their revenue coming from? What is their content strategy? Their marketing strategy?

Week Five – September 24

Class presentations on innovative media orgs

Leadership and Change

Read: Selection from Schein in Organizational Culture and Leadership TBA

Selection from Kets de Vries in Leadership Mystique TBA

Watch: Startup.com documentary

Week Six – October 1

What problem will you solve/ pain will you cure?

Read: Briggs Chapter 4

Week Seven – October 8

Turning your idea into a business: How will you solve that problem?

Read: Briggs Chapter 5

Week Eight – October 15

FALL BREAK, no class

Week Nine – October 22

Show me the money: Examining different revenue models for media businesses. Paid subscriptions, advertising, nonprofits, crowdfunding, more.

Read: Briggs Chapter 3 and 6

Chris Anderson, "The Long Tail" <http://www.wired.com/wired/archive/12.10/tail.html>

Week Ten – October 29

Building your business know how

Business plan basics; agile product development strategies; assessing your needs;

Read: Brings Chapter 6 and sample business plan in the appendix

Week Eleven – November 5

Harnessing technology

Mobile strategies, choosing platforms, leveraging social media tools

Read: Briggs Chapter 7

Week Twelve – November 12

Market/Customer Discovery

Identify your market and understanding the competitive landscape.

Read: Briggs Chapter 8

Do: Begin developing a test group for your idea. This group should fit the demographic target profile for your business. You will be soliciting feedback from them for your idea.

Week Thirteen – November 19

Marketing and measurement; tying up loose ends and discussing problems and ideas that have come up over the course of the semester

Week Fourteen – November 26

No class – meet in groups to get ready for next week's pitch

Week Fifteen – December 3

This is it! Do your pitch

ASSESSMENT

PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND COMPETENCIES FOR JOUR7100:

- understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information;
- demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- think critically, creatively and independently;
- conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

PERFORMANCE STANDARDS TO BE MET (DEMONSTRABLE SKILLS, ABILITIES, TECHNIQUES, APPLIED COMPETENCIES):

- Graduate seminar discussion participation, to include presentations on assigned topics and/or readings.
- Business plan including individual research into specified management or entrepreneurial
- topics regarding the application of theories and approaches in the management literature to media organizations.
- Tests, quizzes, and other assessments as needed

PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND COMPETENCIES FOR JOURNALISM PROGRAM:

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communication requires that, irrespective of their particular specialization, all graduates should be aware of certain core values and competencies and be to

- understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located, as well as receive instruction in and understand the range of systems of freedom of expression around the world, including the right to dissent, to monitor and criticize power, and to assemble and petition for redress of grievances;
- demonstrate an understanding of the history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;

- demonstrate an understanding of gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation and, as appropriate, other forms of diversity in domestic society in relation to mass communications.
- demonstrate an understanding of the diversity of peoples and cultures and of the significance and impact of mass communications in a global society.
- understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information;
- demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- think critically, creatively and independently;
- conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING FOR JOURNALISM PROGRAM:

The Council seeks to promote student learning and encourages experimentation and innovation. Assessment is a system of evaluation of student learning at the course or unit level (as opposed to grading at the individual level). Three criteria should guide assessment of student learning:

- Awareness: familiarity with specific information, including facts, concepts, theories, laws and regulations, processes and effects.
- Understanding: assimilation and comprehension of information, concepts, theories and ideas.
- Application: competence in relating and applying skills, information, concepts, theories and ideas to the accomplishment of tasks.

DEPARTMENT POLICIES

EMAIL:

You must have your UM email account activated. If you are using another provider such as Google, you are required to have your UM email forwarded to that account. Go to the <http://iam.memphis.edu> website to implement forwarding of UM email. You are required to check your email daily. You are responsible for complying with any email sent to you by your professor or the University.

CELLPHONES:

You must turn them off during class.

ATTENDANCE:

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism. You may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance, or habitual late arrival. No late work will be accepted without prior arrangements, which are acceptable to your professor. Students may not be permitted to make up any missing work unless it is for an absence due to illness or other catastrophic emergency such as a death in the family that can be documented (e.g. with a doctor's note or a copy of the newspaper obituary). This is a professional program for journalists who are expected to understand and comply with deadlines. If you have some problem making it to class on time make arrangements to fix the problem or consider taking another class. You should consider this class your "job" in the educational process and be on time just as you would elsewhere.

CHEATING:

In addition to university-wide policies stated in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Department of Journalism considers making up quotes from sources, turning in substantially the same assignment for credit in two different courses, or a student receiving any assistance from others for work assigned to be done on his/her own, as acts of cheating punishable to the degree determined appropriate by the course instructor and department chair. That may include grade reductions or seeking dismissal of the student from the university.

"Your written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com, or a similar electronic detection method, for an evaluation of the originality of your ideas and proper use and attribution of sources. As part of this process, you may be required to submit electronic as well as hard copies of your written work, or be given other instructions to follow. By taking this course, you agree that all assignments may undergo this review process and that the assignment may be included as a source document in Turnitin.com's restricted access database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism in such documents. Any assignment not submitted according to the procedures given by the instructor may be penalized or may not be accepted at all." (Office of Legal Counsel, October 17, 2005)

ONLINE SETEs:

You are urged to complete the SETEs evaluation of this course. Once your instructor has posted your grade, you can immediately see that grade, provided you completed a teacher evaluation for that class. How to access your evaluation forms: Log in using your UUID and email password; click on the gray "Student" tab; complete an evaluation for each course listed and hit the "Submit" button at the bottom of the form. It will only take a few minutes of your time. We take the evaluations very seriously and use them to improve courses and instructional quality. Your feedback is essential and will be appreciated.

DISABILITY:

Any student who feels s/he may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the Office for Disability Services at (901) 678-2880 in 110 Wilder Tower Hall to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities.