This is a writing course. Consequently, students will write every week and receive regular feedback and coaching on their work. The class will consist of both lecture and laboratory time to be determined by the instructor.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

- Writing assignments will be completed both in and outside the classroom. During the semester, each student will complete three writing assignments produced out of class: (1) news story covering a meeting or an event; (2) news story based on a single interview; and (3) in-depth news story based on multiple interviews.
- All assignments must be filed in a word document that is double spaced with indented

- paragraphs. If assignments do not follow this format, they will not be graded.
- All students will complete an online portfolio as a final project to showcase their work and to begin building a professional online presence. The portfolios will include clips, design work, resumes and blogs and will facilitate future course work and internship placement.
 - Students will read The Daily Helmsman every day as well as the front section (A) and the local section (B) of The Commercial Appeal Monday through Friday, and then be prepared for a quiz on the content of these newspaper pages. The Daily Helmsman and The Commercial Appeal are available for free on campus Monday through Friday.
 - Media writing requires knowledge of the Associated Press style. All writing assignments for 2121 are expected to be in correct AP style format. During the semester, each student will complete five AP Style exercises on the ecourseware site for 2121. Deadlines for passing the AP quizzes will be determined by the instructor.
 - All 2121 students also must take a writing diagnostic test at the beginning and the end of the semester. The first test scores will not impact course grades, but will be used as part of a department assessment of student achievement. The second time it is taken it will be part of the final exam.

OTHER ISSUES:

Media writing is a practical, hands-on course that teaches you to think and write as professionals. Consequently, regular attendance is vital. When you miss a lab you cannot make up the work regardless of the reason. Please do not email the instructor to ask what work was covered during your absence. Instead, check with a classmate. Remember: The work you do in class is worth 50 percent (that's half!) of your course grade.

Meeting deadlines is essential for media professionals. In other words, story deadlines are firm. Late stories will not be accepted. Grammar, spelling, punctuation, and AP style are crucial to your success in media writing. We will work in these areas every week, so please bring your textbooks to class.

Coming to class well prepared is equally important. This means reading the assigned chapters in the textbook and staying informed about current events. JOUR 2121 is the linchpin for a professional program; please act accordingly.

DEPARTMENT POLICIES

EMAIL:

You must have your UM email account activated. If you are using another provider such as Google, you are required to have your UM email forwarded to that account. Go to the <http://iam.memphis.edu> website to implement forwarding of UM email. You are required to check your email daily. You are responsible for complying with any email sent to you by your professor or the University.

CELLPHONES:

You must turn them off during class.

ATTENDANCE:

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism. You may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance, or habitual late arrival. No late work will be accepted without prior arrangements, which are acceptable to your professor. Students may not be permitted to make up any missing work unless it is for an absence due to illness or other catastrophic emergency such as a death in the family that can be documented (e.g. with a doctor's note or a copy of the newspaper obituary). This is a professional program for journalists who are expected to understand and comply with deadlines. If you have some problem making it to class on time make arrangements to fix the problem or consider taking another class. You should consider this class your "job" in the educational process and be on time just as you would elsewhere.

CHEATING:

In addition to university-wide policies stated in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Department of Journalism considers making up quotes from sources, turning in substantially the same assignment for credit in two different courses, or a student receiving any assistance from others for work assigned to be done on his/her own, as acts of cheating punishable to the degree determined appropriate by the course instructor and department chair. That may include grade reductions or seeking dismissal of the student from the university.

"Your written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com, or a similar electronic detection method, for an evaluation of the originality of your ideas and proper use and attribution of sources. As part of this process, you may be required to submit electronic as well as hard copies of your written work, or be given other instructions to follow. By taking this course, you agree that all assignments may undergo this review process and that the assignment may be included as a source document in Turnitin.com's restricted access database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism in such documents. Any assignment not submitted according to the procedures given by the instructor may be penalized or may not be accepted at all." (Office of Legal Counsel, October 17, 2005)

ONLINE SETEs:

You are urged to complete the SETEs evaluation of this course. Once your instructor has posted your grade, you can immediately see that grade, provided you completed a teacher evaluation for that class. How to access your evaluation forms: Log in using your UUID and email password; click on the gray "Student" tab; complete an evaluation for each course listed and hit the "Submit" button at the bottom of the form. It will only take a few minutes of your time. We take the evaluations very seriously and use them to improve courses and instructional quality. Your feedback is essential and will be appreciated.
