The Associated Press Stylebook and Briefing on Media Law, Christian, D. (ed.) The Associated Press, 2010. ISBN: 978-0-917-36054-1

CLASSROOM FORMAT:

Lecture, lab assignments and outside assignments.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

- Assignments will be completed both in and outside the classroom, so attendance and participation are vital. Class time is also valuable for discussions about news and upcoming assignments, so please be on time. Students who arrive more than 15 minutes late will be counted as absent.
- Here's how attendance works: I'm not interested in hearing excuses. You get three free passes during the semester. After you cash in the passes, missed classes are reflected in your final grade. For example, if you miss two additional classes, your final grade drops a letter grade. If you miss two more, your grade drops again. It is your responsibility to sign the attendance sheet if you arrive late to class.
- Be sure to join our class Facebook page, because if you miss a class, it is your responsibility to find out from a classmate what is due. Do not count on me to answer messages about missed work.

- You must stay informed about the news and about newsmakers. It is impossible to be a good editor unless you are informed about local, national and international news.
- All assignments must be filed to the ecourseware drop box by midnight (11:59 p.m.) on the day they are due. Late assignments will NOT be accepted.
- Grammar/AP style/ news quizzes — Students will take weekly grammar/style/news quiz focused on grammar, news and Associated Press Style. Students will not be able to make up missed quizzes, but there will be a bonus quiz at the end of the semester.
- Journals — Students will keep an editing journal and update it weekly in the blog format of their choice. Journals will be discussed in class and reviewed by the instructor. Each journal entry will include a “word of the week,” a “catch of the week,” a favorite headline of the week, a favorite photo and a favorite passage of the week. Weekly journal entries need to be insightful, not verbose. In other words, tell us why you like the work included. Late journals will not be accepted.
- Final project — A final project is due at the end of the semester. It will be a zine or series of zines produced by the class.
- Mid-term Exam/Final exam — Students will complete two exams during the semester to ensure they understand the material. The exams will require a modest amount of preparation and study. There will be no opportunities to make up an exam, so students who know they will miss exam days should contact the instructor in advance. An additional project may take the place of an exam.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING FOR JOURNALISM PROGRAM

The Council seeks to promote student learning and encourages experimentation and innovation. Assessment is a system of evaluation of student learning at the course or unit level (as opposed to grading at the individual level). Three criteria should guide assessment of student learning:

- + Awareness: familiarity with specific information, including facts, concepts, theories, laws and regulations, processes and effects.
- + Understanding: assimilation and comprehension of information, concepts, theories and ideas.
- + Application: competence in relating and applying skills, information, concepts, theories and ideas to the accomplishment of tasks.

DEPARTMENT POLICIES

E-MAIL:

You must have your UM email account activated. If you are using another provider such as Google, you are required to have your UM email forwarded to that account. Go to the <http://iam.memphis.edu> website to implement forwarding of UM email. You are required to check your email daily. You are responsible for complying with any email sent to you by your professor or the University.

CELL PHONES:

You must turn them off during class.

ATTENDANCE:

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism. You may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance, or habitual late arrival. No late work will be accepted without prior arrangements, which are acceptable to your professor. Students may not be permitted to make up any missing work unless it is for an absence due to illness or other catastrophic emergency such as a death in the family that can be documented (e.g., with a doctor's note or a copy of the newspaper obituary). This is a professional program for journalists who are expected to understand and comply with deadlines. If you have some problem making it to class on time make arrangements to fix the problem or consider taking another course. You should consider this class your "job" in the educational process and be on time just as you would elsewhere.

CHEATING:

In addition to university-wide policies stated in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Department of Journalism considers making up quotes from sources, turning in substantially the same assignment for credit in two different courses, or a student receiving any assistance from others for work assigned to be done on his/her own, as acts of cheating punishable to the degree determined appropriate by the course instructor and department chair. That may include grade reductions or seeking dismissal of the student from the university.

"Your written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com, or a similar electronic detection method, for an evaluation of the originality of your ideas and proper use and attribution of sources. As part of this process, you may be required to submit electronic as well as hard copies of your written work, or be given other instructions to follow. By taking this course, you agree that all assignments may undergo this review process and that the assignment may be included as a source document in Turnitin.com's restricted access database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism in such documents. Any assignment not submitted according to the procedures given by the instructor may be penalized or may not be accepted at all." (Office of Legal Counsel, October 17, 2005)

ONLINE SETEs:

You are urged to complete the SETEs evaluation of the course. Once your instructor has posted your grade, you can immediately see that grade, provided you completed a teacher evaluation for that course. How to access your evaluation forms: Log in using your UUID and email password; click on the gray "Student" tab; complete an evaluation for each course listed and hit the "Submit" button at the bottom of the form. It will only take a few minutes of your time. We take the evaluations very seriously and use them to improve courses and instructional quality. Your feedback is essential and will be appreciated.

DISABILITY:

Any student who feels s/he may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact me privately to discuss your specific needs. Please contact the Office for Disability Services at (901) 678-2880 in 110 Wilder Tower to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities.
