COURSE REQUIREMENTS

CATALOG/COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Social background, scope, functions and organization of modern communication media, attention to all major mass communication media; philosophy and goals of modern journalism; impact on governmental, social and economic systems.

PREREQUISITE: none

TEXTBOOKS:

Mass Communication: Living in a Media World, 5th edition, Ralph E. Hanson. ISBN 978-1-4833-4475-1

If you would like to save money by buying the 3rd or 4th edition of this book instead of the 5th, I can give you a list of the readings (same as 5th edition, but different page numbers). The 5th edition is probably all that will be available in the campus bookstore, but the 3rd and 4th edition can be found online or at used textbook stores near campus.

CLASSROOM FORMAT:

Lecture and discussion will be used in the teaching of the class, and students will be tested on lectures by the professor and guest speakers, as well as on textbook readings.

GRADING:

A: 900-1,000 points

B: 800-899 points

C: 700-799 points

D: 600-699 points

F: 599 and below

There will be three major tests, each counting 200 points. You will be tested on only the material covered since the last test. There will be quizzes on some of the textbook readings you will be assigned. These each count 25 points. There will also be a 25-point ethics exercise and four 50-point media assignments (specifics to be announced). Honors students will do one additional assignment (details to be announced)

Major tests can be made up with a documentable serious illness or family crisis, at the discretion of the professor. However, NO 25-point chapter quizzes will be made up, even with a valid excuse.

However, you will have several 25-point extra credit opportunities during the semester that you can use to make up a missed chapter quiz. If you come into class after the quiz has been given and turned in, you may NOT take it.

No laptops or other electronic devices are to be used in class. This includes texting and anything else that can possibly be done with an electronic device. If you so much as glance at your cell phone or another electronic device during class, there will be a grade penalty and your device may be confiscated until after class.

Attendance Policy

In keeping with departmental policy, attendance is mandatory. However, in the case of a documentable family emergency or death or in the event of illness, make ups of major tests and projects will be allowed at the discretion of the professor. If you are seeking an excusable absence for an illness, you must bring a doctor's note that says you were too ill to attend class. It is NOT an excusable absence if you simply bring a slip saying you had a doctor's appointment. In other words, non-urgent doctor or dental appointments alone will not excuse an absence, considering that those can be scheduled when you don't have class. A doctor's note has to specifically address whether you were allowed medically to attend class by your doctor or a nurse practitioner.

Please note: chapter quizzes (25 points) and in-class graded assignments cannot be made up under any circumstance, even if the absence is excused. However, there will be several extra credit opportunities throughout the semester that you can use to make up the missed chapter quizzes.

The second day of class, you should sit where you will sit the rest of the semester. A seating chart will be drawn up and roll taken every class. It is your responsibility to sit in the correct seat or you will be marked absent. My graduate assistant will also mark the roll, deducting points when you use phones and other electronic devices, which is not allowed.

TENTATIVE TIMETABLE:

Because there will be many guest speakers from various busy communications professions coming to class, the entire semester cannot be outlined at once. Therefore, you will get a timetable in about one-month portions. Below is the first.

Monday, Aug. 24 — Go over syllabus. Call roll.

Wednesday, Aug. 26 — Effects of mass media on society. Lecture and class discussion.

Monday, Aug. 31 — Lecture on the book publishing business. No textbook reading.

Wednesday, Sept. 2 — Newspaper guest speakers

Monday, Sept. 7 — Labor Day. No class.

Wednesday, Sept. 9 — 25-point quiz on Chapter 6, pages 136-145, if you have the 5th edition. For 3rd and 4th editions, see page numbers below. Newspaper lecture follows quiz.

Monday, Sept. 14 — Newspaper lecture, Part 2

Wednesday, Sept. 16 — Panel of reporters, editors, photographers and page designers from the independent student newspaper, The Daily Helmsman.

Monday, Sept. 21 — Internship Program with guest speakers and tables for information.

Wednesday, Sept. 23— Quiz on Chapter 5, pages 112-119 if you are using the 5th Edition of the textbook. If you are using the 3rd or 4th edition, see page listings below. Magazine lecture will follow quiz.

Monday, Sept. 28 — Magazine guest speakers

Wednesday, Sept. 30 — First major test (200 points) True/False, multiple choice, short answers and listings.

Readings for those using 3rd edition of textbook:

Chapter 6, Newspapers — Pages 187-193

Chapter 5, Magazines — Pages 154-156 and 160-165

Readings for those using 4th edition of textbook:

Chapter 6, Newspapers — Pages 126-137

Chapter 5, Magazines — Pages 104-110

FIVE PILLARS FOR JOUR1700

- Professionalism: Lecture/discussions on ethics and media law help students learn to conduct themselves professionally. Guest speakers often include professionalism in their talks.
- Writing: Although not a writing course, this class through professor's lectures and guest speakers teaches students the importance of good writing skills in all segments of journalism.
- Multimedia: Guest speakers nearly always include discussion of multimedia in all segments of journalism and lectures emphasize the importance of multimedia skills.
- Critical Thinking: Critical thinking skills are developed through ethics discussion and in-class exercises; through question-and-answer sessions with guest speakers from the profession; and media effects class where questions, such as "Does the media reflect reality or create it?" and "Does media influence the values of individuals and society?" are discussed.
- Media Literacy: The course by its very nature emphasizes media literacy with its lectures, discussions and guest speakers on newspapers, books, magazines, radio, TV, Internet journalism, movies, advertising and public relations.

ASSESSMENT

PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND COMPETENCIES FOR JOUR1700:

- Understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located, as well as receive instruction in and understand the range of systems of freedom of expression around the world, including the right to dissent, to monitor and criticize power, and to assemble and petition for redress of grievances;
- Demonstrate an understanding of the history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- Demonstrate an understanding of gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation and, as appropriate, other forms of diversity in domestic society in relation to mass communications
- Demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- Think critically, creatively and independently;
- Conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- Apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

HOW PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND COMPETENCIES WILL BE MET:

Cognitive objectives to be mastered (ability to explain, analyze, understand, think critically):

- Recognize the role of media in influencing the political and cultural dynamics on the global stage.
- Develop a strong historical sense of how mass communication technologies originated and developed.
- Understand the variety of relationships between media and their audiences, including diverse audiences.
- Be sensitive to the needs of diverse and under-represented groups in programming and creating messages.
- Understand the ongoing government regulation of the U.S. Media as well as the constitutional principles that guide it.
- Recognize the ethical and philosophical issues that arise in media culture and understand the range of viewpoints regarding these issues.
- Understand the behind-the-scenes operations and decision-making processes of major mass communication industries.
- Understand how new technology affects the media and communication.
- Understand what's involved in preparing for and advancing a career in the changing media.
- Understand the allied fields of advertising and public relations and their relationship to media systems.
- Understand mass communication theories and their application to media professions.

Performance standards to be met (demonstrable skills, abilities, techniques, applied competencies):

- Earn a passing score on periodic tests and/or exams.
- Participate in one or more outside activities (e.g., attend FOI lecture, interview media professional, visit media organization, participate in applied research) at the discretion of the instructor.

HOW ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING WILL BE MET FOR JOUR1700:

Awareness:

- Lecture, discussion on First Amendment and basics of media law
- Text readings, guest speakers and lectures by professor will address all the major divisions of mass media, including newspaper, magazine, TV, radio, Internet, books, movies, public relations and advertising.
- Diversity will be discussed as it applies to all areas of mass communication

Understanding:

- When ethical decision making is discussed throughout the semester as it applies to each media profession, students will be required to present justification for their opinions during discussion and class exercises to show they are not just repeating the instructor's lecture points, but showing understanding of the process.
- Discussion questions will be posed in class to stimulate critical thinking. Independent thinking is encouraged.

Application:

- Each student will interview a media professional and write an informal paper on what you learned. This is not a writing class, so you will not be graded on writing proficiency. Content and student's obeying the rules set for the assignment will determine the grade.
- There will be four smaller media assignments. Specifics to be announced throughout the semester.

PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND COMPETENCIES FOR JOURNALISM PROGRAM:

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communication requires that, irrespective of their particular specialization, all graduates should be aware of certain core values and competencies and be to

- Understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located, as well as receive instruction in and understand the range of systems of freedom of expression around the world, including the right to dissent, to monitor and criticize power, and to assemble and petition for redress of grievances;
- Demonstrate an understanding of the history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- Demonstrate an understanding of gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation and, as appropriate, other forms of diversity in domestic society in relation to mass communications.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the diversity of peoples and cultures and of the significance and impact of mass communications in a global society.
- Understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information;

- Demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- Think critically, creatively and independently;
- Conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- Write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- Critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- Apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- Apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING FOR JOURNALISM PROGRAM:

The Council seeks to promote student learning and encourages experimentation and innovation. Assessment is a system of evaluation of student learning at the course or unit level (as opposed to grading at the individual level). Three criteria should guide assessment of student learning:

- Awareness: familiarity with specific information, including facts, concepts, theories, laws and regulations, processes and effects.
- Understanding: assimilation and comprehension of information, concepts, theories and ideas.
- Application: competence in relating and applying skills, information, concepts, theories and ideas to the accomplishment of tasks.

DEPARTMENT POLICIES

PORTFOLIO REQUIREMENT:

All Department of Journalism undergraduate students are required to develop and maintain an active portfolio of their work. Students are to begin the portfolio in JOUR 2121 and contribute to it during every skills course thereafter. The portfolio should contain samples of the student's work from courses and/or professional experience and should develop as the student builds skills. Portfolios will undergo a final review while students are enrolled in the capstone course for their concentrations.

EMAIL:

You must have your UM email account activated. If you are using another provider, such as Google, you are required to have your UM email forwarded to that account. Go to <http://iam.memphis.edu> to implement forwarding of UM email. You are required to check your email daily. You are responsible for complying with any email sent to you by your professor or the university.

MOBILE PHONES AND LAPTOPS:

Some classes require a tablet, laptop or a smartphone to be used during class or to complete class assignments. Others do not allow them. Your instructor will set the policy for her/her specific class.

ATTENDANCE:

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism. You may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance, or habitual late arrival. Students are permitted three total unexcused absences without penalty. After three absences, the student's final grade will be deducted one letter grade for each absence. After seven unexcused absences, the student will fail the course. Absences for illness and other catastrophic emergencies, such as a death in the family, must be documented (e.g. doctor's note or obituary) to be excused from the total absence count. Students with excessive unexcused absences are encouraged to withdraw from the course prior to the drop deadline.

DEADLINES:

All deadlines are firm. This is journalism and mass communications. Assignments turned in late will NOT be graded. Late work is not accepted unless prior arrangements have been made with the instructor. Students are NOT permitted to make up assignments, quizzes, tests, etc. that occurred during an unexcused absence. Students who will miss class and/or a deadline because of an excused absence are expected to notify the instructor immediately upon knowing the absence will occur; exceptions will be made for reasonable circumstances. Students who are absent during the final exam are not permitted to make up the exam and will earn a grade of 0, which might result in failure of the course.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:

In addition to university-wide policies stated in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Department of Journalism considers making up quotes from sources, turning in substantially the same assignment for credit in two different courses, a student receiving any assistance from others for work assigned to be done on his/her own, and violations of copyright law as acts of academic dishonesty punishable to the degree determined appropriate by the course instructor and department chair. Penalties might include grade reductions or dismissal of the student from the university.

“Your written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com, or a similar electronic detection method, for an evaluation of the originality of your ideas and proper use and attribution of sources. As part of this process, you may be required to submit electronic as well as hard copies of your written work, or be given other instructions to follow. By taking this course, you agree that all assignments may undergo this review process and that the assignment may be included as a source document in Turnitin.com's restricted access database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism in such documents. Any assignment not submitted according to the procedures given by the instructor may be penalized or may not be accepted at all.” (Office of Legal Counsel, October 17, 2005)

Intellectual property and copyright guidelines

1. Ideas cannot be copyrighted, but the way they are described can.
2. Anything set down in a tangible form, i.e., written, is by law copyrighted.
3. If, in a paraphrase, your work is “substantially similar” to a copyrighted work, you are guilty of copyright infringement.
4. A citation indicates where you got material. However, that portion you do not show as a direct quote must be “substantially original” to you. In other words, you can't just paste in something from another's work, put a citation at the bottom and call it your own. You need a full rewrite in your own words and syntax so the unquoted material is “substantially original” to you.

Plagiarism: From UM Student Handbook: The term “plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to, the use, by paraphrase or direct quotation, of the published or unpublished work of another person without full or clear acknowledgement. It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials.

ONLINE SETEs:

You are urged to complete the SETEs evaluation of this course. Once your instructor has posted your grade, you can immediately see that grade, provided you completed a teacher evaluation for that class. How to access your evaluation forms: Log in using your UUID and email password; click on the gray “Student” tab; complete an evaluation for each course listed and hit the “Submit” button at the bottom of the form. It will only take a few minutes of your time. We take the evaluations very seriously and use them to improve courses and instructional quality. Your feedback is essential and will be appreciated.

DISABILITY:

Any student who feels s/he may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact me privately to discuss your specific needs. Please contact the Office for Disability Services at 901-678-2880 in 110 Wilder Tower to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities.

DIVERSITY:

Students are required to respect the differences of others and treat all persons with respect. Discriminatory, derogatory and threatening language or behavior will not be tolerated. Further, students are expected to consider their work through a diverse mind. Mass communications reach a mass audience, and students should be aware of how those messages are received by a diverse audience.

WEATHER POLICY:

Check with local media and the University of Memphis website regarding inclement weather. If the university is closed or classes are canceled, this course will not meet. However, students will still be responsible for that day’s work.

AP STYLE AND GRAMMAR:

All written work in this class should follow the AP Stylebook and accepted rules of grammar and punctuation. If you don’t know the style for a particular phrase, look it up or ask your classmates or the instructor.
