COURSE REQUIREMENTSCATALOG DESCRIPTION:

Advanced practice in writing, publishing feature stories for magazines and newspapers and the Web; finding and developing publishable ideas; freelance techniques; advanced reporting skills; writing techniques with emphasis on leads, endings, description, effective use of anecdotes and quotations; critiques of student work.

PREREQUISITE:

JOUR 2121

TEXTBOOKS

Writing for Magazines, Second Edition. Author: Cheryl Sloan Wray. Publisher: McGraw Hill
ISBN: 978-0-07-286491-5

CLASSROOM FORMAT:

Lecture, lab assignments and outside writing assignments

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

- You must read The Commercial Appeal every day as well as a national newspaper such as the USA Today or the New York Times. These newspapers are free on campus, either in front of the library or in the lobby of the Tiger Den. You also must read at least one national magazine each week (a different one each week). Submit a one-page report each Thursday at the beginning of class naming the magazine and newspaper you read and describing your favorite articles. Also include the best descriptive writing in the features. Additional critiques will vary from week to week.
- Writing assignments will count for 60 percent of your final grade. Weekly reading and other writing assignments, such as in-class exercises, will count for 20 percent. You will have a mid-term over the first half of the text and the lecture material up to that point. You will have a final over the second half of the text material and the lecture material from the second half of the course.
- Your major writing assignments will include four newspaper features and one multiple-source feature for a national consumer magazine. Feature stories that are rewritten will be graded in this way: 75 percent of the grade will come from the first version, and 25 percent will come from the rewrite. At least one of your four outside assignments will have to be rewritten. Other feature rewrites are optional.

- All features you write must be submitted for publication. You won't be graded off if stories are not published, but you must try. Any story that is published will receive extra credit, which will vary, based on the prestige of the publication.

No late work accepted without a doctor's excuse.

GRADING:

- Feature stories: 60 percent
 - Tests: 20 percent
 - In-class work and outside assignments: 20 percent
- You will be graded on the plus/minus system

ATTENDANCE FOR JOUR3130:

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism. You may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance, or habitual late arrival. No late work will be accepted without prior arrangements, which are acceptable to your professor. Students may not be permitted to make up any missing work unless it is for an absence due to illness or other catastrophic emergency such as a death in the family that can be documented (e.g. with a doctor's note or a copy of the newspaper obituary). This is a professional program for journalists who are expected to understand and comply with deadlines. If you have some problem making it to class on time make arrangements to fix the problem or consider taking another class. You should consider this class your "job" in the educational process and be on time just as you would elsewhere.

DEPARTMENT POLICIES

PORTFOLIO REQUIREMENT:

All Department of Journalism undergraduate students are required to develop and maintain an active portfolio of their work. Students are to begin the portfolio in JOUR 2121 and contribute to it during every skills course thereafter. The portfolio should contain samples of the student's work from courses and/or professional experience and should develop as the student builds skills. Portfolios will undergo a final review while students are enrolled in the capstone course for their concentration.

EMAIL:

You must have your UM email account activated. If you are using another provider, such as Google, you are required to have your UM email forwarded to that account. Go to <http://iam.memphis.edu> to implement forwarding of UM email. You are required to check your email daily. You are responsible for complying with any email sent to you by your professor or the university. Personal student information, such as grades, is restricted to your UM email address.

MOBILE PHONES AND LAPTOPS:

Some classes require a tablet, laptop or a smartphone to be used during class or to complete class assignments. Others do not allow them. Your instructor will set the policy for his/her specific class.

ATTENDANCE:

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism. You may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance or habitual late arrival. Your instructor will set the policy for his/her specific class. Students with excessive absences are encouraged to withdraw from the course prior to the drop deadline.

DEADLINES:

All deadlines are firm. Assignments turned in late will NOT be accepted unless arrangements have been made with the instructor.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:

In addition to university-wide policies stated in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Department of Journalism considers any fabrication of content and/or sources, misappropriation and plagiarism of facts or other content, turning in substantially the same assignment for credit in two different courses, receiving any assistance from others for work assigned to be completed on his/her own, and violations of copyright law as acts of academic dishonesty punishable to the degree determined appropriate by the course instructor and/or department chair. Penalties might include grade reductions, failure of the course and/or dismissal of the student from the university.

“Your written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com, or a similar electronic detection method, for an evaluation of the originality of your ideas and proper use and attribution of sources. As part of this process, you may be required to submit electronic as well as hard copies of your written work, or be given other instructions to follow. By taking this course, you agree that all assignments may undergo this review process and that the assignment may be included as a source document in Turnitin.com’s restricted access database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism in such documents. Any assignment not submitted according to the procedures given by the instructor may be penalized or may not be accepted at all” (Office of Legal Counsel, October 17, 2005).

Intellectual property and copyright guidelines

1. Ideas cannot be copyrighted.
2. Anything set down in a tangible form, i.e., written, is by law copyrighted.
3. If, in a paraphrase, your work is “substantially similar” to a copyrighted work, you are guilty of copyright infringement.
4. A citation indicates where you got material. However, that portion you do not show as a direct quote must be “substantially original” to you. In other words, you can’t just paste in something from another’s work, put a citation at the bottom and call it your own. You need a full rewrite in your own words and syntax so the unquoted material is “substantially original” to you.

Plagiarism: From UM Student Handbook: The term “plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to, the use, by paraphrase or direct quotation, of the published or unpublished work of another person without full or clear acknowledgement. It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials.

ONLINE SETEs:

You are urged to complete the SETEs evaluation of this course. Once your instructor has posted your grade, you can immediately see that grade, provided you completed a teacher evaluation for that class. How to access your evaluation forms: Log in using your UUID and email password; click on the gray “Student” tab; complete an evaluation for each course listed and hit the “Submit” button at the bottom of the form. It will only take a few minutes of your time. We take the evaluations very seriously and use them to improve courses and instructional quality. Your feedback is essential and will be appreciated.

DISABILITY:

Any student who feels s/he may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact me privately to discuss your specific needs. Please contact the Office for Disability Services at 901-678-2880 in 110 Wilder Tower to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities.

DIVERSITY:

Students are required to respect the differences of others and treat all persons with civility. Discriminatory, derogatory and threatening language or behavior will not be tolerated. Further, students are expected to consider their work through a diverse mind. Mass communication reach a mass audience, and students should be aware of how those messages are received by a diverse audience.

WEATHER POLICY:

Check with local media and the University of Memphis website regarding inclement weather. If the university is closed or classes are canceled, this course will not meet. However, students will still be responsible for that day’s work.

AP STYLE AND GRAMMAR:

All written work should follow the AP Stylebook and accepted rules of grammar and punctuation. If you don’t know the style for a particular phrase, look it up or ask your classmates or the instructor.

FIVE PILLARS OF JOUR3130

- Professionalism: Students learn the professional standards and practices of feature writing by discussing the composition and merits of award-winning features presented in class.
- Writing: Students are required to research topics and write and rewrite multiple short and long form articles and analyze their strengths and weaknesses.
- Multimedia: Students understand through lecture and demonstration how feature writing applies to print, electronic media and the web.
- Critical Thinking: Students must demonstrate an understanding of the audience for which their work is intended. As part of this process, students will be required to review such reference works as Writers Market prior to writing.
- Media Literacy: Students understand the increasingly changing media environment in terms of technological, economic, and societal trends.

ASSESSMENT
