Note: All University of Memphis audio lab desktops will provide students with access to Adobe Creative Cloud.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS:

One Flash Drive (At least 2GB capacity)

Classroom format

This course is designed to give students advanced experience with audio journalism through journalistic podcasting, an increasingly popular medium for journalistic storytelling. Students will conceptualize, pitch, and produce a journalistic podcast during the semester, culminating in the release of a pilot episode that will be made available to the public via the new U of M online radio station, The Roar. Graduate students are expected to produce two podcast episodes to be aired on The Roar.

Accessing the course website

You can access course materials at <https://memphis.instructure.com/>

Course RequirementsCOMPUTER USAGE:

Students are expected to use a computer in this course. Students will use Apple computers running the Macintosh operating system in class but may use Windows computers at their own discretion. Students will work with the design software standard in the professional world. At this time, the professional standard is the Adobe Creative Cloud. Extensive instruction about how to use Adobe Audition will be offered in this course.

WRITING STYLE:

Although this is not specifically a writing course, students will be required to adhere to the Associated Press style guide and other journalistic writing standards.

ASSIGNMENT FORMAT:

- Podcast analyses will be assigned five times during the semester. Students will be required to listen to multiple episodes of one podcast and report on their findings. These assignments are meant to increase student consumption of podcasts and their awareness of various podcasting styles and formats.
- Audio practice assignments: Students will be assigned five audio practice assignments during the semester. This is to help hone skills in voicing, audio recording, audio editing, script writing, and overall podcast structure.
- Final Podcast Pilot: Students will produce one 15-minute polished podcast episode with cover art that will air on the University's online radio station, The Roar.
- Final Podcast Pilot: Graduate students will have an option of producing two 15-minute polished podcast episodes or one 30-minute podcast episode with cover art that will air on the University's online radio station, The Roar.

Portfolio:

All Department of Journalism and Strategic Media undergraduate students must develop and maintain an active online portfolio of their work. More information about the final review of portfolios is in the Assessment section later in the syllabus. You will need to incorporate work from this course in your online portfolio. We will take time in class for you to update your site.

Grading

Grading Philosophy: A=Professional quality work that could be use with little or no modification; B=Good to excellent work and exceeds requirement, but would require revision to be used professionally; C=Satisfactory work and adequately meets requirement, but would need significant revision; D=Barely satisfies minimum requirement and below average quality; F=Unsatisfactory work and does not meet minimum requirement. ASSESSMENT AND OUTCOMES

Five Pillars in JOUR 4530/6530

- Critical Thinking: Students must demonstrate an understanding of the audience that will consume multi-platform work and explain this connection in project pitches.
- Media Literacy: Students learn how multimedia projects are researched, planned, and created through class assignments and projects.
- Multimedia: Students will prepare materials for multiple media platforms including audio, video, social media, photography, and data visualization.
- Professionalism: Students learn the professional standards and routines of multimedia journalism by discussing and producing multimedia projects, using audio and/or video recording equipment and software to produce and distribute multimedia projects. Students learn the ethical guidelines for producing multimedia projects. Students learn legal issues associated with producing multimedia projects. Finally, students will distribute their work through appropriate journalistic channels based on the project's scope and platform.
- Writing: Journalistic writing skills will be reinforced in the class. Students will be required to write stories, scripts, social media content, and promotional materials for all projects produced.

Professional Values and Competencies in JOUR 4530/6530

- Understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located, as well as receive instruction in and understand the range of systems of freedom of expression around the world, including the right to dissent, to monitor and criticize power, and to assemble and petition for redress of grievances.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications,
- Demonstrate an understanding of gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation and, as appropriate, other forms of diversity in domestic society in relation to mass communications.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the diversity of peoples and cultures and of the significance and impact of mass communications in a global society;
- Understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information.
- Demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity.
- Think critically, creatively and independently.
- Conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work.
- Write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve.
- Critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness.
- Apply basic numerical and statistical concepts.
- Apply current tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work, and to understand the digital world.

How professional values and competencies will be met

Cognitive objectives to be mastered (ability to explain, analyze, understand, think critically)

- Learn intermediate to advance techniques with digital cameras and audio recording equipment
- Apply sound news judgement in a multi-platform environment and communicate using the most effective platform for each project
- Execute in-depth, meaningful interviews with subjects on topics relating to students' projects.
- To produce professional grade content that can be distributed to the public via appropriate media channels.
- To work within the digital computer framework and process images, video and audio to its maximum potential while taking care not to alter fact or otherwise create unethical representations

Performance standards to be met (demonstrable skills, abilities, techniques, applied competencies)

- Complete a large-scale project that relies heavily on the skills presented in the class.
- Demonstrate an advanced ability to capture and edit content with the appropriate, industry-standard equipment to make it suitable for presentation
- Demonstrate advanced knowledge of the software required for the course (image, video, and audio editing software)

How assessment of student learning will be met

Awareness

- Become aware of storytelling trends in the media industry, including the ethical issues that accompany such trends.

Understanding

- Develop an understanding of advanced multimedia storytelling process from development to editing to final presentation in multiple media outlets.

Application

- Creation of large-scale multimedia projects addressing different platforms, photography, video, audio, audio-visual and data visualization, which are edited using a combination of Adobe Photoshop and Premiere Pro, Audacity, and data visualizations applications.

JOURNALISM AND STRATEGIC MEDIA POLICIES

Portfolio requirement

All students in the Department of Journalism and Strategic Media must develop and maintain an active portfolio of their work. Undergraduate students are to begin the portfolio in JRSM 3900, and graduate students are to begin in JRSM 7002. Students are to contribute to it in every skills course thereafter. The portfolio should contain samples of the student's work from courses and/or professional experiences and should develop as the student builds skills. Portfolios will undergo a final, external review while students are enrolled in their capstone courses.

Students may use any type of web hosting for their portfolios, but it must have an independent and professional URL. Students may use any content management system, but students are encouraged to use WordPress, Wix or Squarespace. Students are encouraged to consider purchasing a URL and hosting if they plan to use the portfolio for a long term, but they must keep the portfolio active for six months following graduation from the University of Memphis.

Students should have a professional email address they plan to use throughout their professional lives, via a common email service, such as Gmail.

All portfolios must contain the following items:

- Samples of work from courses and/or professional activities. (Example: Broadcasting students must include a video reel)
- A current résumé
- A personal profile
- Contact information/means of contact
- Social media links

Students might wish to include a blog, video reels, photograph galleries, SoundSlides presentations, design PDFs, audio files and writing pieces as examples of professional work. The professional work should be tailored to the career the student seeks after graduation. Thus, each student's portfolio should show a unique blend of work.

Email

Students must have their UofM email accounts activated. Students using another provider, such as Google, are required to have all UofM email forwarded to that account. Students should go to the <http://iam.memphis.edu> website to implement forwarding of UofM email. Students are required to check their email daily. They are responsible for complying with any email sent to professors or others in the University.

Electronic devices

Some classes require a tablet, laptop, or a smartphone. Others do not. Instructors will set the policy for their specific classes.

Attendance

Class attendance is mandatory in Journalism and Strategic Media. Students may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance or habitual late arrival. No late work will be accepted without prior arrangements with the class professor. Students may not be permitted to make up any missing work unless it is for an absence because of illness or other catastrophic emergency, such as a death in the family that can be documented (e.g., with a doctor's note or a copy of the newspaper obituary). Journalism and Strategic Media is a professional program, and students are expected to understand and comply with deadlines. Students who have some problem making it to class on time should plan to correct the problem or consider taking another class. Students should consider this class as a "job" in the educational process and be on time just as they would elsewhere.

Course repetition

Majors and minors who fail to earn the minimum passing grade ("C-") in a class required by their program of study in Journalism and Strategic Media more than three times will be dropped from the program.

Students may not use or submit work from a previous course, even if it is the same course being repeated, to fulfill requirements for assignments in another course. If students wish to rework the original submission, or to work with the same general idea, that may be permissible upon discussion with and written approval from the professor of the current course. All written work will be checked for policy adherence via TurnItIn.com. All creative work will be checked for policy adherence by the professor and judged against previous submissions. The only exception to this policy is the student's online portfolio and its attendant pieces (for example, the résumé and logo).

Academic integrity

In addition to University-wide policies stated in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Department of Journalism and Strategic Media considers making up quotes from sources, turning in substantially the same assignment for credit in two different courses or students receiving any assistance from others for work assigned to be done on their own, as acts of cheating punishable to the degree determined appropriate by the course instructor and department chair. Punishment may include grade reductions or seeking dismissal of the student from the University.

Further, as this is a journalism and strategic media class, students are expected to comply with copyright law and must have sufficient permission to use any copyrighted materials used in creative projects, unless otherwise informed in cases of exercises or reproduction.

Your written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com, or a similar electronic detection method, for rating the originality of your ideas. Also to evaluate proper use and assignment of sources, you may need to submit electronic and hard copies of your work. Other instructions to follow may also be given. By taking this course, you agree that all assignments may undergo this review process. The assignment may be included as a source document in Turnitin. Com's restricted access database. It is solely for detecting plagiarism in such documents. Assignments not submitted according to the instructor's procedures may be penalized or may not be accepted at all. (Office of Legal Counsel, October 11, 2018)

Online SETEs

Students are urged to complete the SETEs evaluation of this course. Once the instructor has posted grades, students can immediately see that grade, provided they have completed the SETE for that class. To access evaluation forms, students should log in to MyMemphis using their UUIDs and email passwords; click on the gray "Student" tab; complete an evaluation for each course listed and hit the "Submit" button at the bottom of the form. Completing the SETE will only take a few minutes. Faculty take the evaluations very seriously and use them to improve courses and instructional quality. Student feedback is essential and is appreciated.

Deadlines

All deadlines are firm. This is journalism and strategic media. Students needing an extension on an assignment must receive approval from the instructor. Exceptions will be made for reasonable circumstances if the student notifies the instructor prior to the due date.

AP Style and grammar

All written work in this class must follow the AP Stylebook and accepted rules of grammar and punctuation. Students are responsible for learning these rules and checking their work for errors.

Disability and accommodations

Students who need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the Office for Disability Resources for Students at 901-678-2880 in 110 Wilder Tower Hall to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities.

Diversity and inclusivity

Students are required to respect the differences of others and treat all people with respect. Discriminatory, derogatory and threatening language or behavior will not be tolerated. Further, students are expected to consider their work through a diverse mind. Media reaches a mass audience, and students should be aware of how those messages are received by a diverse audience.

Weather policy

Always check with local media and the University of Memphis website regarding inclement weather. If the University is closed or classes are canceled, this course will not meet. However, students will still be responsible for that day's work.

Student support

Student who are experiencing personal or academic challenges including, but not limited to food or housing issues, family needs, or other stressors, should visit the Office of Student Accountability, Outreach & Support page to learn about resources that can help: <https://www.memphis.edu/saos/sos/crisis-resources.php>. Any student who faces personal challenges including, but not limited to securing their food or housing and believes this may affect their performance in the course is urged to contact the Office of Student Accountability, Outreach & Support (901-678-2187) located in the University Center, Suite 359 for assistance. Students may also talk with course instructors about the challenges they are experiencing. Instructors may be able to help connect with campus or community support.

COVID-19 protocols for this course

COVID-19 Health and Safety Policy - Masks and Social Distancing

All students, faculty and staff will wear masks in all public spaces, including our classroom (lab) per the COVID-19 policy. The first time a student enters a classroom without wearing a face covering, the student will be asked to leave the class until they return a covering. Further violations will be referred to the Office of Student Accountability. Students who repeatedly or flagrantly violate these community expectations may be referred for discipline under the Student Code and, if appropriate, immediately removed from campus by the Dean of Students.

Student Health

Students who are experiencing symptoms such as sneezing, coughing or a higher-than-normal temperature should inform me by email so they can be excused from class and should stay home. Students should contact their health care provider or the Student Health Center at <https://www.memphis.edu/health/>.

Students who have a positive COVID-19 test should contact the Dean of Students at deanofstudents@memphis.edu.

Student Resources

Students who need additional resources can contact the Dean of Students Office at <https://www.memphis.edu/deanofstudents/crisis/index.php>.
