CLE credit has been approved in Tennessee and requested in Arkansas and Mississippi. For more information, please contact symposium editor Alex Daichman at ndichman@memphis.edu.

In conjunction with this event, a Symposium Edition of The University of Memphis Law Review will be published in Book 4 of Volume 53 of The University of Memphis Law Review. If you would like to subscribe to The University of Memphis Law Review, receive the Symposium Edition, or have additional subscription inquiries, please submit the subscription form or any questions to the Law Review business and media editor at lawreview_businesseditor@memphis.edu.

This event is sponsored in part by the Student Event Allocation.
The University of Memphis Law Review Vol. 53 will explore the many legal issues surrounding collegiate sports in America in its 2023 symposium. The Supreme Court’s recent decision in NCAA v. Alston initiated a major shift in the way collegiate sports operate in the United States legal system. But there are many issues that have not been resolved for student athletes and the institutions for which they compete. These issues must be addressed now in order to ensure the fairness of collegiate competition and some measure of protection and just compensation for student athletes. Issues such as antitrust; resolution of employment and labor disputes; and regulation of name, image, and likeness (NIL) compensation and more will be addressed by experts and legal minds from across the country in our symposium.

SYMPOSIUM SCHEDULE

All times in Central Time

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>7:30–8:30 AM</td>
<td>Registration and Breakfast</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30–8:45 AM</td>
<td>Welcome and Opening Remarks</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| 8:45–9:30 AM| Professor David Grenardo, Professor of Law & Associate Director of the Holloran Center for Ethical Leadership in the Professions, University of St. Thomas School of Law
  - Preparing for the Inevitable – Compensating College Athletes for Playing – By Comparing Two Pay-For-Play Methods: The Duke Model Versus the Free Market Model |
| 9:30–10:15 AM | Andrew Schwarz, Partner at OSKR, LLC
  - Prohibiting NIL Inducements is a Form of Second-Class Citizenship |
| 10:15–10:30 AM | Break
  - Professor John Wolohan, Syracuse College of Law
    - A Reexamination of College Athletes: are Athletes Students or Employees? |
| 10:30–11:15 AM | Professor Ron Rychlik, Distinguished Professor and Faculty Athletic Representative, University of Mississippi School of Law, & Julie Owen, Senior Associate Athletics Director for Compliance, Kansas State University
  - Unanticipated Problems with the Transfer Portal |
| 11:15 AM–12:00 PM | Lunch Break |
| 12:00–1:00 PM | Eric Dunn, Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General, U.S. Department of Justice
  - Remarks on Antitrust |
| 1:00–1:30 PM | Professor John Wolohan, Syracuse College of Law
  - A Reexamination of College Athletes: are Athletes Students or Employees? |
| 1:30–2:15 PM | Professor Richard Karcher, Associate Professor, Sport Management Program; Faculty Athletics Representative, School of Health Promotion and Human Performance; Eastern Michigan University
  - The NCAA as Joint Employer? Let’s Be Real |
| 2:15–3:00 PM | Professor J. Haskell Murray, Associate Professor of Business Law and Management, Belmont University
  - State Law and Religious University NIL Restrictions for NCAA Athletes |
| 3:00–3:15 PM | Afternoon Break |
| 3:15–4:45 PM | Professor Lynda Black, Associate Professor of Law and Faculty Athletics Representative, University of Memphis Cecil C. Humphreys School of Law, & Professor William W. Berry III, Associate Dean for Research and Montague Professor of Law, University of Mississippi School of Law
  - NIL Wrap-Up and Q&A |
| 4:45–5:00 PM | Closing Remarks |

SYMPOSIUM EDITION

In conjunction with this event, a Symposium Edition of The University of Memphis Law Review will be published in Book 4 of Volume 53 of The University of Memphis Law Review. If you would like to subscribe to The University of Memphis Law Review, receive the Symposium Edition, or have additional subscription inquiries, please submit the subscription form or any questions to the Law Review business and media editor at lawreview_businesseditor@memphis.edu.