Advice and Counsel

It's really that simple!

OLC provides advice and counsel on legal matters involving or affecting the University.

And that sounds really simple but there are a couple of more things you need to know...

The University is our client

"A lawyer employed or retained by an organization represents the organization acting through its duly authorized constituents." ABA Rule 1.13

• Our role is to always act in the best interests of the University and we pretty much never stop being University counsel.
• So be careful what you tell us...and speaking of what you tell us...

Attorney-Client Privilege: What is it?

"When one of the of the constituents of an organizational client communicates with the organization's lawyer in that person's organizational capacity, the communication is protected by Rule 1.6." ABA Rule 1.13, cmt. 2
Elements of Attorney-Client Privilege

- Privileged Person — OLC attorneys/staff and individuals acting on behalf of the University, typically with some authority to make decisions.
- Confidential Communication — the information must be communicated in a confidential setting with the intent to be kept confidential and must be kept confidential.
- Legal Advice — the communication must be to seek or receive legal advice.

Litigation

- The Attorney General's Office represents the University when it is sued in federal or state court.
- The AG is responsible for all legal pleadings, all court appearances, etc.
- OLC's role is to assist the AG's office — scheduling, determining witnesses and the institutional representation, attending depositions and court hearings.
- If served with a lawsuit that names the University notify OLC immediately.

Litigation holds

- Sent out whenever litigation is anticipated or initiated.
- Notifies relevant individuals of their duty to preserve and protect from destruction all documents and data that may relate to a pending or potential legal action involving the University.
- Sent to anyone who may possess material that is relevant or likely to be relevant to the matter.
- Failure to preserve data could result in the University and any named University employees being sanctioned in court and disciplinary action.
What if I'm named in a lawsuit?

The Attorney General can provide representation for employees subject to the following conditions:
1. The lawsuit must be based on acts or omissions within the scope of the employee's employment;
2. The acts or omissions cannot be willful, malicious or criminal; and
3. The acts or omissions were not done for personal gain.

Conflicts of Interest

What is a Conflict of Interest?

- The concepts of conflict of interest and conflict of commitment arise out of the fiduciary duty that an employee owes to his or her employer.

- Conflict of Interest: "Occurs when the personal interests, financial or otherwise, of a person who owes a duty to the University of Memphis actually or potentially diverge from the person's professional obligations to, and from the best interests of the University." G2021 - Conflict of Interest

Examples of Conflicts of Interest

- Self Dealing: Situations in which an employee can appear to influence or actually influence a University-related decision from which that person or a member of that person's family stands to realize a personal financial benefit, or other personal benefit.

  - Institutional purchases from businesses in which an employee or family member has a financial interest.
  - Requiring students to purchase educational materials in which you have a financial interest, where there is no comparable or competitive alternative.
  - Acceptance of gifts, gratuities, or favors.

Examples of Conflicts of Interest

Employees may not make significant use of University owned facilities, equipment, materials or other resources, not otherwise available to the public, in the course of activities which are not related to the University, without prior disclosure and approval.

Persons affiliated with the University have a duty to disclose inventions or copyrightable works which may reasonably be expected to have commercial value and which have jointly or solely been developed or created during their affiliation with the University of Memphis.
- Nepotism. No employee of the University who are relatives shall be placed within the same direct line of supervision whereby one relative is responsible for supervising the job performance of another relative.

- Appeals: Decisions made by the Conflict Review Committee may be appealed within five (5) days to the President of the University. Decisions of the President shall be final and binding.
Outside Employment

- Outside Employment can create a conflict of interest. See Extra Compensation and Outside Employment (HR 3011).
- Employees should not provide consulting services to an external organization when those services would conflict or be in competition with University Services.
- Employees must notify department head (verbally or in writing) of nature and time commitment of outside employment.

Waivers and Releases
Waivers and Releases – What are They?

• A waiver or release gives up a right, such as releasing one from his/her liability for harm or damage that may occur from performing under a contract, or participating in an activity.
• Form waivers and releases can be found on the Office of Legal Counsel Website.
• If you are not sure if your activity or event can be sufficiently covered by one of these forms, please contact our office for assistance.

Waivers and Releases – When to Use Them

• Waivers and releases are required when we have individuals participating in a University sponsored event.
  • This includes things like camps, field trips, etc.
• In any event where another party is hosting an event on campus, waiver language must be included in the contract to release the University from liability in the event of an accident or other damage causing event.

Waivers and Releases – Special Situations

• Media/Image Release
  • Anytime you wish to take pictures of other persons for use in research, program or other University publications, you must obtain a media/image release from those individuals photographed.
  • This release does not release the University from liability, rather it is a grant of right by the individual to the University to use their likeness in materials without compensation.
What is a Contract?

- An agreement with specific terms between two or more persons or entities in which there is a promise to do something in return for a valuable benefit known as consideration.
- The vehicle that drives the vast majority of University dealings.
  - Software
  - Equipment
  - Events
  - Athletics
  - Housing
  - Food/Vending

What is a University Contract?

- Form contracts for the University can be found on Procurement’s Website:
  - Forms should always be used when we are able. This will greatly reduce the turnover time for agreements.
  - The subject of using a form University contract should be broached with vendors before selecting them.
  - If you are deciding between two vendors who can offer roughly the same services at roughly the same price, go with the one that will use the our form contract.
- The University cannot agree to just any contract term, including several "industry standard" terms.
- Any purchase of a good or service must be routed through Procurement for proper review.
  - Free or at cost.
Who can Sign University Contracts?

- University signatory authority is found in University Policy BF4008 — Contracts and Signatory Authority
  - All business officers and those in charge of ordering or approval for your department should know this policy
- The President has delegated authority to individuals to sign contracts on behalf of the University:
  - The Director of Procurement will sign agreements for any purchase of goods and services less than $250,000.00.
  - The VP for Sponsored Programs has unlimited authority to sign agreements that fall within its purview.
- The Provost can sign agreements such as faculty employment contracts, exchange agreements and study abroad agreements.

I Have a Contract — Where do I Send It?

- Any contract for the purchase of goods and services should go directly to Procurement, and they will assist in the processing of the contract.
  - These contracts should not come to legal first. Procurement will determine if the contract requires legal review.
- Other "non-procurement" agreements should come directly to legal for review and processing for signature. This includes:
  - Memoranda of Understanding
  - Study Abroad Agreements
  - Exchange Agreements

Make sure agreements are vetted and approved within Division prior to sending for signature and/or legal review, especially for business terms.
