

NEDtalks

SCHOLARSHIP WORTH SHARING

Ned R. McWherter Library, 2nd Floor Commons

Join us for a two-day research forum! UofM faculty will share their recent research in short presentations done in the TEDtalks style. Refreshments will be provided.

WED. NOV. 13

3:30 PM Refreshments & Introduction

3:45 Dr. Cassandra Nuñez,
Department of Biological Sciences
*Management-induced social and physiological changes may interact to shape the gut microbiome in feral horses (Equus caballus)*

4:00 Joel Roberts, University Libraries
The Irving Berlin of Memphis: The Early Years of Bob Miller

4:15 Dr. Cody T. Havard, Kemmons Wilson
School of Hospitality & Resort
Management
Sport Rivalry Man: Superheroes and Comics to Teach Group Behavior

4:30 Dr. Deranda Lester,
Department of Psychology
Oxytocin - More than a Love Hormone

4:45 Dr. Jeremy Orosz, School of Music
Stylistic and Linguistic Borrowings between Hip Hop and Country Music

THU. NOV. 14

2:45 PM Refreshments & Introduction

3:00 Dr. William Dean Clement,
Department of English
Drawing Out Leviathan: Biblical Monsters in English Poetry

3:15 Dr. Brad Dixon, Department of History
"made Horse [of us] to Carrie": Native American Porters in the Early South

3:30 Dr. Ruoxu Wang, Department of Journalism and Strategic Media
User experience (UX) matters: What are the most desired skills in the UX designer and UX researcher job ads?

3:45 Dr. Donal Harris, Department of English
Seeing and Reading Civil Rights: Literatures of the Freedom Struggle