

UofM instructors will share their research in the TEDtalks style. Refreshments will be provided.

NED R. McWHERTER LIBRARY, 2nd FLOOR COMMONS

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9

- 3 PM Dr. Anyou Wang
Research Assistant Professor, Feinstone Institute for Genomic Research
Noncoding RNAs Work as the Most Important Endogenous Regulators for All Cancers
- 3:15 Jill Fredenburg
Doctoral Student, Communication & Film
'I Like the Wine and Not the Label': Sexual Fluidity and Discourse in 'Schitt's Creek'
- 3:30 Dr. Will Thompson
Associate Professor, French
When the Mississippi was French
- 3:45 Timothy Flohr
Instructor, Kemmons Wilson School of Hospitality & Resort Management
We're All Project Managers - Yes, Even You! The Importance of Project Management as a Strategic Competency
- 4:00 Dr. Deranda Lester
Research Assistant Professor, Psychology
Oxytocin's Role in Social and Drug Reward
- 4:15 Dr. Tiffany Bates
Clinical Assistant Professor, Elementary Education
The Alignment of Written Philosophy and Clinical Practice
- 4:30 Dr. Scott P. Marler
Associate Professor, History
The Hardhat Riots of 1970: Grassroots or Astroturf?
- 4:45 Dr. Paula Hayes
Assistant Professor of Teaching, English
The Angel's Wings Have Logic: What Reading the Literature of Magical Realism Can Teach us About Changing Our Schema for Interpreting Reality

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10

- 3 PM Dr. Bryna Bobick
Professor, Art Education
Off Campus Creativity: A Partnership Involving an Urban Museum
- 3:15 Dr. Leah Windsor
Associate Professor, English and Institute for Intelligent Systems
Revealing the Voynich Manuscript, Morpheme by Morpheme
- 3:30 Dr. Dipankar Dasgupta
William Hill Professor, Computer Science
Social Media: Facts, Fake and Fiction
- 3:45 Dr. Ana Doblas
Assistant Professor, Electrical Computer Engineering
What is a DHM Microscope and Which is Its Current State of Art?
- 4:00 Dr. Rebecca Howard
Assistant Professor, Art History
Death Masks and Sense Impressions in Renaissance Italy
- 4:15 Dr. Elena Delavega
Professor, Social Work
Looking at Ourselves: What Does Blaming the Poor Look Like?
- 4:30 Dr. Ruoxu Wang
Assistant Professor, Journalism & Strategic Media
How Do Narrative Structure and Format Influence a 360 Degree Video Ad?
- 4:45 Dr. Francis Cathlina
Assistant Professor of Choral Conducting
Choral Tone: The Foundation for Musical Realization