

We Are Here to Help You

Health Sciences Library

healthscienceslibrary@memphis.edu

Health Sciences Librarian

Dr. Irma Singarella, irma.singarella@memphis.edu

Library Staff

Rose Moore, rmmore@memphis.edu
John Swaengen, jmswrngn@memphis.edu

- ▶ We are here to help improve your research skills! To request research assistance, visit the HSL service desk, call 901-678-3193, schedule a research appointment online at libcal.memphis.edu/appointments, or email the Health Sciences Librarian.
- ▶ Use our Communication Sciences and Disorders, Public Health, and Nursing research guides to quickly find the best resources: libguides.memphis.edu.

Find...

Research Support

Study Space

Books

Journals

Media

And Much More!

View library hours at libcal.memphis.edu/hours

All electronic resources are available 24/7

Follow us @ University of Memphis
Health Sciences Library

HSL

The Health Sciences Library

A vital resource for academic research, serving a diverse population of students, faculty, staff, and the greater Memphis community.

MEMPHIS.EDU/LIBRARIES/HSLIBRARY

The Baptist Memorial Health Care Library, also known as the Health Sciences Library (HSL), is a branch of the University Libraries and plays a vital part in the Libraries' role as a leader in managing and providing access to information services and resources that support teaching, learning, and research for the UofM community. HSL is designed to meet the specific research needs of the School of Communication Sciences and Disorders, the Loewenberg College of Nursing, and other health related programs.

The Baptist Memorial Health Care Library is housed in the Community Health Building in room 2002 at 4044 North Park Loop on the Park Avenue Campus. For more information, call 901-678-3193 or visit memphis.edu/libraries/hslibrary.

Who We Are

Research Resources

Our Collection

7,000+ volumes of books, 395 print and electronic journal titles, and media, focused on nursing, audiology, speech-language pathology and other related areas of interest, including special education, linguistics, laryngology, otology, neurology, psychology, and sociology.

Our Health-Related Databases

Bireme, CINAHL Complete, General Science Full Text, Nursing and Allied Health Collection Comprehensive, PubMed, SciVerse, Scopus, UpToDate, and more.

*Access all databases through our online catalog

You Can Find...

- ▶ Sixteen computer workstations with access to the library catalog and electronic resources
- ▶ 1 black & white printer and 1 color printer
- ▶ Two document scanners
- ▶ Several personal, quiet study spaces
- ▶ Three collaborative group study spaces which can be reserved online at libcal.memphis.edu/reserve/hslstudy
- ▶ Headphones that can be checked out from the Checkout Desk
- ▶ iPads for use during workshops, research consultations, and other educational

Technology & Study Space