The Association for Management Information Systems I AMIS

The Association for Information Systems (AIS) is a global professional organization dedicated to advancing knowledge and practice of information systems. The AIS has several student chapters around the world, including the Association for Management Information Systems (AMIS) at the University of Memphis.

The AIS student chapter at the University of Memphis is open to all students who are interested in the field of MIS, regardless of their major. The chapter is a great way for students to learn about the field, gain practical experience, and make connections with professionals and other students who share their interests.

AMIS at University of Memphis offers social events, professional meetings, guest lectures, and networking opportunities for all students interested in MIS. Members can connect with alumni, business professionals, and other students in the field
