6. Issues related to relevancy
Agenda
The Appeals Process

This module will address the following topics:
• The applicable Title IX requirements
• Permissible grounds for appeal
• Appeal procedures
• Available remedies

What is the Appeals Process?

• The final step in the Title IX investigation and resolution process
• Allows either party to challenge a dismissal decision or the written determination regarding responsibility and/or sanctions (if applicable)

What is the Appeals Process?

• The final step in the Title IX investigation and resolution process
Complainant
Allows either party to challenge the Hearing Officer’s or Hearing Panel’s written determination regarding responsibility and/or sanctions (if applicable)

Individuals Involved in the Appeal Process

• The Complainant
• The Respondent
• The Appeal Decision-maker

Qualifications of the Appeal Decision-maker

• Must receive mandated Title IX training
• May not be the same person as the Hearing Officer, the Investigator(s), or the Title IX Coordinator
• Must be impartial and unbiased
• Must be free from conflicts of interest

Title IX -- Appeal Requirements

• The appeal option is a mandatory part of the grievance process
• Available to either party
• Three specific permissible bases for appeal
• Information about the appeal process must be included in the written grievance procedures

- Information must also be included in the dismissal letter and/or the written determination letter issued to both parties
- The timeframe for appeal process must be specifically designated in the grievance procedures

Appeals

Either the Respondent and/or the Complainant may appeal:

- The dismissal of a formal complaint or any allegations
- A determination regarding responsibility and sanctions, if applicable

Example -- Appeal of a Dismissal

A complainant appeals a dismissal by asserting that:
- newly discovered evidence demonstrates that the misconduct in fact does meet the definition of sexual harassment under the Title IX regulations, or
- there was procedural irregularity because the alleged conduct in fact does meet the definition of sexual harassment and thus mandatory dismissal was inappropriate

After an appeal is filed by one party...

- The other party is notified in writing that an appeal has been filed
- The institution must give both parties a reasonable, equal opportunity to submit a written statement in support of, or challenging, the outcome
Information to be Considered

The Appeal decision maker will consider:

- The written determination issued by the Hearing Officer or the Hearing Panel
- The written request for an appeal
- The written responses submitted by each of the parties to support their positions

Appeals

Appeals may be filed based on the following:

1. Procedural irregularity
2. New evidence
3. Bias or conflict of interest
4. Optional: Another basis selected by the institution and equally available to both parties

Appeals – Procedural Irregularity

1. Procedural irregularity - examples:
   - Institution’s failure to evaluate all relevant evidence
   - Erroneous relevancy determinations by hearing officer
2. Must affect the outcome of the matter

Appeals – New Evidence

1. The “new” evidence was not reasonably available at the time of the determination, and
2. Must affect the outcome of the matter

Appeals – Bias or Conflict of Interest

1. The Title IX Coordinator, investigator, or Hearing Officer (or member of a hearing panel) had a conflict of interest or bias:
   - For or against the individual Complainant
   - For or against the individual Respondent
   - For or against Complainants or Respondents generally
2. The conflict of interest or bias affected the outcome of the matter

Written Appeal Decision

- Appeal Decision-maker issues a written decision describing the result of the appeal and the rationale for the result
- Provides the written decision simultaneously to both parties
- The appeal decision is final
Possible Appeal Outcomes

- Dismiss the appeal
- Change the determination of responsibility
- Change the sanctions decision
- Send case back to hearing officer/hearing panel to reconsider determination of responsibility and/or sanctions
- Send the case back to Title IX office for new investigation because of bias in the previous investigation
