

The Southern Journal of

Philosophy

The Southern Journal of Philosophy together with the Department of Philosophy at the University of Memphis, the Benjamin L. Hooks Institute for Social Change, & the Marcus Orr Center for the Humanities, is proud to present:

The 2022 SJP Workshop ~ April 8-9

Early Modern Social Justice

featuring:

Susan James

“Learning to Live More Equitably: Early Modern Explorations”
April 8, 4:00-5:30 PM CST

“Once More Unto the Breach: Kant and Race”
April 8, 2:00-3:30PM CST

Samuel Fleischacker

Also featuring:

Myisha Cherry

Brandon Hogan & Lori Watson

& Invited panelists: Dwight Lewis, Getty Lustila, & Charlotte Sabourin

Early Modern Social Justice – Program of Events

All Events to be held in the UC Fountain View Room, 3rd Floor (All Times Central Standard)

Friday, April 8

8:30 Coffee

8:50 Opening Remarks: Remy Debes, Co-Editor, The Southern Journal of Philosophy

Session 1

9:00 “Why Should We Research and Teach Women’s Contributions to the History of Philosophy”
Hope Sample (Grand Valley State)

9:30 “Suffering for Justice in Anne Conway and Maria W Stewart”
Timothy Yenter (University of Mississippi)

Chair: Ian Maclean-Evans (Carleton University)

10:00-10:15 Break

Session 2 Invited Speaker

10:15 “Hegelian Restorative Justice”
Brandon Hogan (Howard University)

Chair: Mike Monahan (University of Memphis)

11:15-12:30 Break & Lunch (UC Food Court; or Tiger Den)

12:30 Coffee

Session 3

12:45 “Competition and Justice in Adam Smith”

- Timo Jütten (University of Essex)
- 1:15 “Kant on Poverty, Dependence, and Dehumanization”
Sylvie Loriaux (Université Laval)
- Chair: Nick Hadsell (Baylor University)
- 1:45-2:00 Break
- Session 4 Keynote 1 ~ delivered in honor and memory of Professor Charles Mills ~
- 2:00 “Once More Unto the Breach: Kant and Race”
Samuel Fleischacker (University of Illinois, Chicago)
- 2:45 Invited Comments on Fleischacker
Myisha Cherry (University of California, Riverside)
- Chair: Lindsey Stewart (University of Memphis)
- 3:30-4PM Coffee & Cookies
- Session 5 Keynote 2
- 4:00 “Learning to Live More Equitably: Early Modern Explorations”
Susan James (Birbeck College, University of London)
- Chair: Remy Debes (University of Memphis)
- 5:45-9:00 Conference BBQ
@ the home of Remy and Anu Debes – Address Announced by email

Saturday, April 9

10:15 Coffee

Session 1

11:00 "Gender and Racial Prejudice in Testimony: Marie de Gournay and Anton Wilhelm Amo"
Allauren Forbes (McMasters)

Chair: Jasper St. Bernard (University of Memphis)

11:30 "Enlightenment and Social Justice in Hobbes"
Daniel Pepe (Loyola)

Chair: Zachary Auwerda (University of Memphis)

12:00 Break: Pizza & Salad Lunch

Session 2

1:15 Lightning Rounds
Graduate Student 7-minute presentations; 7-minute Q&A

1. "Spinoza and Self-Destruction: Oppression and Suicide"
 - Ian Maclean-Evans (Carleton University)
2. "Kant and the Authority Thesis"
 - Nick Hadsell (Baylor University)

Chair: Deborah Tollefsen (University of Memphis)

Session 3

1:45 "Cartesian Physiology and the Equality of the Sexes"
Aaron Spink (Dartmouth)

Chair: James Bahoh (University of Memphis)

2:15-2:30 Break

Session 4 Invited Speaker

2:30 "Rousseau's account of sexuality and domination"
Lori Watson (Washington University, St Louis)

Chair: John Protevi (LSU)

3:30-4:00 Coffee and Cookies

Session 5 Invited Panel

4:00 “Disrupting Dominance: A Canon?”
Dwight Lewis (University of Minnesota)

4:25 “Inequality and the Limits of Political Obligation in Grouchy’s Letters on Sympathy”
Getty Lustila (Northeastern University)

4:50 “Madame de Staël’s Contribution to Early Feminism”
Charlotte Sabourin (Douglas College)

5:15 Q&A
Chair: Daniel Smith (University of Memphis)

5:45 Closing Remarks

6:15-7:15 Happy Hour
Wiseacre (Downtown Location)
Everyone welcome, everyone pays their own way

7:30 Banquet for Conferees
South Of Beale (Downtown Memphis, 345 S Main St)
Conferees Only; 10-minute walk from Wiseacre

The Southern Journal of

Philosophy ...a memphis original

Co-Editors

Remy Debes
Mary Beth Mader
University of Memphis

Editorial Board

William Blattner
Georgetown University

Tina Chanter
DePaul University

Stephen Gardiner
Washington University

Tamar Szabó Gendler
Yale University

Hannah Ginsborg
University of California,
Berkeley

Sandy Goldberg
Northwestern University

Charles Griswold
Boston University

David Henderson
University of Nebraska

Terry Horgan
University of Arizona

Michelle Kosch
Cornell University

Len Lawlor
Pennsylvania State
University

Catherine Malabou
Université Paris X -
Nanterre

Linda Martín-Alcóf
Hunter College, CUNY

Charles Mills
The Graduate Center,
CUNY

Christopher Pincock
Ohio State University

Gerald Press
Hunter College, CUNY

Tad Schmaltz
University of Michigan

Alan Schrift
Grinnell College

Eric Schliesser
University of Amsterdam

Tommie Shelby
Harvard University

David Shoemaker
Tulane University

Amie Thomasson
University of Miami

Mark Timmons
University of Arizona

Alison Wylie
University of Washington

Gideon Yaffe
Yale University

Jack Zupko
University of Alberta

The Southern Journal of Philosophy published its first issue over 50 years ago. Its masthead featured the following declaration:

"This is the first issue of The Southern Journal of Philosophy. Since a number of philosophical journals already exist, some explanation of its reason for being should be given. It is not for Southern Philosophers in any distinctively regional sense. It will not be confined to any particular set of problems or orientation in philosophy. While we know that this pledge is commonly made and rarely honored, we intend to keep it."

And we have. Over the years, the SJP has maintained this commitment to philosophical pluralism by providing a forum for the expression of philosophical ideas written from a variety of perspectives. The list of notable figures whose work has appeared in these pages—from Hubert Dreyfus and Hans-Georg Gadamer to George Santayana and Wilfrid Sellars—reflects this commitment. Indeed, the SJP is one of only a small handful of journals that regularly publishes original scholarship in both analytic and continental philosophy, as well as the history of philosophy.

About the Journal

The Southern Journal of Philosophy publishes four regular issues a year, and the Spindel Supplement. The journal strives for short review periods and favors submissions less than 10,000 words, though there is no official word limit. Acceptance rate hovers around 10%.

Spindel Supplements

The jewel of each volume is the Spindel Supplement, which features the invited papers and commentaries presented at the annual Spindel Conference. Held each autumn at the University of Memphis and endowed by a generous gift from the Spindel family, each Spindel Conference centers on a philosophical topic of broad interest and provides a venue for discussion by the world's leading figures on that topic.

Additional Journal Programming

In 2018 the SJP launched a new series entitled, "The State of the Question." The series offers critical reviews of current literature on major figures or topics, authored by leading experts, and covers existing challenges, trends, and suggestions for future development. Read existing entries on "Plato" Gerald Press; "Extended Mind" by Shaun Gallagher; "Responsibility" David Shoemaker, and "Philosophical Debates about Prostitution" by Lori Watson. Other recent and forthcoming authors include, Bill Blattner, Hsueh Qu, and Marion Hourdequin.

2019 SJP Workshop: "The Epistemology of Justice" featuring Elizabeth Anderson and Chris LeBron.

2021 SJP Workshop: "The Ethics of Big Data" featuring Michael Lynch, Josh Fairfield, and David Gunkel (originally scheduled for 2020, but moved as a result of COVID)

2023 SJP Workshop: "Frantz Fanon and Phenomenology" featuring Alia Al-Saji and Lewis R. Gordon.

Learn more: <https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/journal/20416962>