Futures in Finance

A Mutual Fit for Personal Success

Ever wonder what comes after the degree? If you are an undergraduate Finance major, this program was designed especially for you! Learn about the options available to you before graduation and beyond. Discover your strengths, explore various career paths in the field of finance, and receive helpful guidance from industry professionals.

Friday, November 18, 2016
10:30 a.m. – 5:30 p.m.

Topics in this workshop include:

Finance 101: What You Need to Know
Be part of an open discussion with a panel of finance professionals on topics ranging from personal finance to investments, business planning, and healthcare. Learn interview skills vital when seeking a position in finance.

Ethics in Finance & Career Development
Learn about the importance of ethics and professional relationships; discuss ways to grow and develop a career in the financial industry.

Finding Your Mutual Fit
Review the results of your *Career Profile Assessment to discover your best fit in the industry, and gain valuable insight into marketing yourself in the world of professional financial associations.

*Participants will take the career profile assessment in advance, which will serve as the basis for this discussion.

Futures in Finance will be held at the Northwestern Mutual Headquarters.

A reception for students and finance professionals will be held immediately following the seminar.

Register online:
https://fcbeacad.memphis.edu/professional/

This workshop is limited to the first 25 students.
Registration deadline: November 10

Futures in Finance is part of the Complete Professional Program (CPP), which is designed to give business majors a distinctive edge through a variety of training opportunities that complement their coursework and sponsored by the Avron B. Fogelman Professional Development Center.