The University of Memphis Department of Psychology seeks to understand and address issues of culture, disability, ethnicity, gender, generation, sexual orientation, national origin, privilege, race, and different views on religion in education, policy, research, practice, recruitment, and retention of diverse populations. In this, it strives to offer resources that promote goals of cultural humility, mutual respect, and social justice at the level of the department, university, and broader community.
MENTAL AND PHYSICAL HEALTH SERVICES

As a student, you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as physical health problems, strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol and drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating, and lack of motivation. These mental and physical health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance and may reduce your ability to participate in daily activities. The University of Memphis has a range of confidential mental and physical health services available on campus to assist you, including:

- The Psychological Services Center in the Psychology Building, Room 126 (901-678-2147)
- The University Counseling Center at 214 Wilder Tower (901-678-2068)
- The University Student Health Center at 200 Hudson Health Center (901-678-2287).

• These services are perhaps even more important to us now.
• Links for these services have been posted to the TA training course website.
GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS: RELATIONSHIP WITH THE PROFESSOR

Learn as much as you can about the class. Ask for a copy of the course syllabus and a copy of the textbook and read them carefully (at the beginning and throughout the semester).

• Meet with the professor, as soon as possible. Determine your responsibilities as a TA.
  • Will you be grading papers, lecturing, running lab groups, and/or conducting study sessions?
  • What skills in the content area (e.g., statistics or use of SPSS) should you have?
  • Are you expected to hold office hours?
• Expect to attend the course lectures to firm up your knowledge and learn more about the professor’s style.
GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS: RELATIONSHIP WITH THE PROFESSOR (CONT.)

• Be prepared for questions to surface after the initial meeting with the professor—and throughout the semester.
  • What resources is the professor able to share?
  • Is a grading/scoring rubric available for you?

• Maintain regular, positive interactions with the professor and provide careful feedback about how the course is going, from the students’ perspectives, as well as your own.

• Ask for feedback from the professor from time to time and consider taking on special assignments to advance your skill set and experiences.
GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS: RELATIONSHIPS WITH STUDENTS, PEERS & MENTORS

Maintain a friendly attitude with students and encourage students to visit your virtual office hours or email you their questions. Learn their names early!

Express concern for students’ learning and focus on the positive aspects of the course and your interactions with students.

Reach out to fellow course TAs: Brainstorm section activities, offer and receive feedback, and seek advice in difficult classroom situations. Learn from more experienced TAs, and mentor others when the time comes.
COVID QUESTIONS

• If a student tells you they have tested positive for Covid, the first thing they need to do is contact the dean of students.

BEING A TA FOR 3010 AND 3020

• If assigned as a TA for the first time, or for a different faculty member, make sure you can attend for the entire class time.

• Discuss with instructor of record what your responsibilities will be.

• Make sure you have access to the required texts (see Main Office).

• Be prepared to teach during “lab time.”
  • Review lab exercises ahead of time. Refresh or develop skills in SPSS or MagicStat (https://magicstat.co/)
BEING A TA FOR 3010/3020 (CONT.)

- Expect to spend a lot of time editing papers, labs, and assignments.
  - Give clear but constructive criticism on drafts. Be polite.
- Use rubrics to maintain fairness and decrease grading time.
- If possible, grade assignments electronically.
- Keep track of your hours (10 hours/week max).
IF TEACHING STATS FOR THE FIRST TIME...

• Remember 3010 is the first in the two-course research methods and stats sequence
  • Stress retention & practice to your students!
  • 3020 builds on 3010, so students having a hard time in 3010 will really struggle in 3020.
• The students are hearing this material for the first time! Go slow and ask your TAs for information on what students seem to be struggling with.
• If you need resources for your course...
