

Global Health Club

Connect. Learn. Serve. Lead.

The Global Health Club (GHC) is a student-led platform that provides opportunities to explore pressing global health challenges, build professional networks, develop leadership skills, and participate in ethical, equitable, community-centered public health action.

Through dialogue, service, research, professional development, and community partnerships, the GHC will connect students with faculty, practitioners, and peers while strengthening awareness of the links between local and global health.
