

Communities of Research Scholars (CoRS) Kick-Off

Established in the fall of 2018, CoRS was created to cultivate interdisciplinary discourse and nurture the growth of collaborative research across the UofM. Each community is comprised of faculty representing multiple disciplines, academic units, perspectives and research approaches with a shared interest in exploring a common research theme/topic.

The 2023-24 CoRS will continue to cultivate interdisciplinary discourse and nurture research growth. Divisional staff will also help successful faculty identify opportunities for external support for their work.

Application Requirements:

- An interdisciplinary team of faculty
- A short-budget narrative
- A thematic area of inquiry that your group would like to explore
- Potential external funding opportunities, if any to your knowledge

Kick-Off Agenda:

2:00 PM–2:30 PM

Networking & Snacks

2:30 PM–4:00 PM

Lightning Research Talks

Join us for a networking event to kick off the 2023-2024 CoRS Cycle. Share your research interests with us and find scholars to join your team!

Sept. 21 | 2:00 PM–4:00 PM

UMRF Research Park

460 S. Highland St., Memphis, TN 38111

THE UNIVERSITY OF MEMPHIS[®]
Research & Innovation